LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL

Treasury Department,
Office of Commissioner of Internal Revenue,
Washington, D. C., September 28, 1962.

Dear Mr. Secretary:

I am submitting the Statistics of Income—1960, Individual Income Tax Returns. This report was prepared in partial fulfillment of section 6108 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, which requires that statistics be published annually with respect to the operation of the income tax laws. The sources from which these statistics were assembled were the individual income tax returns, Forms 1040, 1040W, and 1040A, filed during the calendar year 1961.

Data are shown for sources of income, excludable sick pay, itemized deductions, taxable income, income tax, self-employment tax, tax credits, tax payments, and overpayments. Significant classifications are size of adjusted gross income and taxable income, tax status, types of exemption, marital status of taxpayer, and States. Separate tables show the extent to which Forms 1040W and 1040A were used.

New information is shown for pension and annuity receipts and cost, depreciation on rental property, depletion on account of royalties, and types of taxes deducted including State and local sales taxes. Also new in this report are data relating to taxpayers age 65 or over, and to the retirement income credit.

Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

Hon. Douglas Dillon,
Secretary of the Treasury.

INDIVIDUAL INCOME TAX RETURNS FOR 1960

Income and tax data presented in this report were estimated from a sample of all returns filed during the calendar year 1961 and represent complete coverage of all returns for the income year 1960. Over 61,000,000 returns were filed, three-fourths of a million returns more than for the previous year.

Several recent laws amended the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 with respect to individual income tax for 1960: (1) The medical expense deduction was modified so that medical expenses paid for a parent 65 years or over who was a dependent of the taxpayer or his wife could be included without a reduction equal to 3 percent of adjusted gross income. However, the limitation for maximum deduction remained the same as formerly. (2) Contributions were liberalized to include amounts paid to maintain a student (not a relative) in the taxpayer's home while attending the 12th or any lower grade as a full time scholar, but only to the extent of $50 times the number of months so maintained. (3) Citizens of the United States employed within the United States, Puerto Rico, or the Virgin Islands, by a foreign government or international organization were made subject to the self-employment tax on salaries from such employment. (4) The self-employment tax rate was raised from 3-3/4 to 4-1/2 percent of $4,800 self-employment income, and the social security employee tax was raised from 2-1/2 to 3 percent of $4,800 wages.

NUMBER OF RETURNS

The total number of individual returns for 1960 was 61,028,000 of which 48,061,000 were taxable and 12,967,000 were nontaxable. The taxable returns increased 564,000 over the number of taxable returns for 1959, and the nontaxable returns increased 193,000. The total increase in returns was 757,000, or 1.3 percent, over 1959.

Of the 61,028,000 returns filed for 1960, 35,443,000 showed adjusted gross income under $5,000, 20,266,000 had adjusted gross income $5,000 under $10,000, and 5,319,000 showed adjusted gross income of $10,000 or more. The number of returns filed in the income size groups below $5,000 was smaller than for the prior year, and the downward trend was continued as is shown in chart 1. Each of the two higher income groups had an increase in number of returns for 1960 and maintained the growth which has occurred annually since 1950.

INCOME AND TAXES

Net adjusted gross income for 1960 was at an all time high of $315,466,382,000, exceeding 1959 by $10,-371,403,000. Wages and salaries constituted 82 percent of 1960 adjusted gross income, business profit 7 percent, dividends 3 percent, partnership profit 3 percent, and the remaining sources 5 percent. These relationships are shown in chart 2.

Salaries and wages, the primary source of the 1960 increase in adjusted gross income, rose to $257,917,-854,000, up $10,547,642,000 over wages and salaries for 1959. Dividends in adjusted gross income were $9,530,143,000 and interest received amounted to $5,056,-793,000, both showing some increase over the previous year. Business profit of $21,071,756,000, partnership profit of $8,966,046,000, and gain from sales of capital assets of $5,299,575,000, declined from their respective 1959 levels.

Taxable income for 1960, at $171,627,771,000, was $5,087,155,000 higher than for 1959. The income tax for 1960 also increased, resulting in a tax after credits of $39,464,156,000, an increase of $818,857,000.

Self-employment tax of $833,549,000 was paid on self-employment income for 1960 in addition to the income tax. Self-employment tax increased $132,043,000, or 19 percent, over the tax for 1959. This increase was largely the result of raising the self-employment tax rate from 3-3/4 percent for 1959 to 4-1/2 percent for 1960, and in a smaller part due to the inclusion of certain income redefined as self-employment income for the income year 1960.

Table A presents a comparison of the significant sources of income between income years 1960 and 1959,

Salaries and wages predominate as the major source of income in each of the three groups, although, in the $10,000 or more income group, salaries and wages form a smaller percentage of the adjusted gross income than in either of the lower income groups.

Most of the remaining sources of income constitute higher percentages of adjusted gross income in the income group $10,000 or more than exist in the lower income groups. Pensions and annuities are the only source which forms a larger portion of adjusted gross income in the under $5,000 group than in the two higher income groups.

EXCLUDABLE SICK PAY

Wage earners who received compensation for periods of absence from work on account of sickness or injury were permitted to deduct an amount from gross salaries and wages received. When covered by an employer-provided wage continuation plan, the employee was allowed a deduction, limited to a weekly rate of $100, for sick pay received in lieu of wages. Excludable sick pay was deducted on Forms 1040 and 1040W, but not on Form 1040A.

Excludable sick pay was reported on 1,624,000 returns for 1960, which was 32,000 more returns than had excludable sick pay for 1959. However, the frequency of sick pay occurrence this year remained at about one return in every 22 among the 34,847,000 returns, Forms 1040 and 1040W, on which salaries and wages were reported.

The amount of excludable sick pay deducted for 1960 was $675,253,000, which was 5.6 percent of the $12,008,-047,000 gross salaries and wages from which it was deducted.

Table C shows data from the 1960 returns that had a deduction for sick pay by adjusted gross income classes, as well as the total number of returns and amount of salaries and wages for all wage earners.

DIVIDENDS

Total receipts from foreign and domestic dividends on 1960 returns, Forms 1040 and 1040W, were $9,913,-670,000. Dividends on Form 1040A were not identified, therefore are not included. Dividend receipts increased $199,276,000 over total receipts reported for 1959. The number of returns showing dividend receipts for 1960 was 6,385,000 an increase of 437,000 over the number with receipts for 1959.

Under the provision that the first $50 of qualifying dividends received were excludable from gross income,

See text for "Description of the Sample and Limitations of the Data" and "Explanation of Classifications and Terms."
 Sample variability is too large to warrant showing separately. However, the grand total includes data deleted for this reason.

exclusions of $383,527,000 were eliminated from total receipts, leaving $9,530,143,000 of dividends reported as part of adjusted gross income. Dividends in adjusted gross income showed an increase of $174,377,000 over dividends in adjusted gross income for 1959.

Table D, showing data from returns, Forms 1040 and 1040W, provides frequencies and amounts of dividends in adjusted gross income, total domestic and foreign dividends received, dividend exclusions, and tax credit for dividends received, by adjusted gross income classes. Summaries for each item give the portions attributable to each of the two return forms. Form 1040W did not show a distinction between foreign and domestic dividends nor between qualifying and nonqualifying dividends. For this reason, dividends reported on that form could not be classified as eligible or ineligible for exclusion nor as eligible for tax credit.

Dividends in adjusted gross income and tax credit for dividends received are described in the explanation of terms later in this report. Both descriptions apply to items on Forms 1040 and 1040W. Other items are explained below.

Total domestic and foreign dividends received included all domestic dividends, whether or not qualifying for the dividend exclusion, as well as the foreign dividends. These dividends, on Form 1040, included certain distributions of some proprietorships and partnerships that elected to be taxed as corporations.

Dividend exclusion of the first $50 of qualifying domestic dividends was allowed in determining the amount of dividends to be included in adjusted gross income. If husband and wife filed a joint return, each was entitled to apply the $50 exclusion against his respective qualifying dividends. If a taxpayer received less than $50 of qualifying dividends, the exclusion equaled the amount received.

Table E is limited to data relating to dividends reported on Form 1040, exclusively. On this form, foreign and domestic dividends were identified and domestic dividends qualifying for the exclusion could be distinguished from those not eligible for exclusion. Table E shows dividends in adjusted gross income, total domestic and foreign dividends received, dividends eligible and not eligible for exclusion, exclusions, dividends eligible for tax credit, tax credit for dividends received, and the frequency of occurrence for each item, all classified by size of adjusted gross income.

Dividends shown on Form 1040 and not eligible for exclusion were those received from China Trade Act corporations, tax-exempt organizations, exempt farmers' cooperatives, foreign corporations, certain corporations doing business in possessions of the United States, and regulated investment companies.

Dividends eligible for the exclusion were those from fully taxable qualifying domestic corporations, such as the regular industrial, mercantile, and commercial corporations, whether received directly or through shares of fiduciary income or untaxed partnership profit. Also eligible for exclusion were the dividends on nonwithdrawal capital stock of building and loan associations or similar organizations, dividends from regulated investment companies, which the investment company especially designated as eligible for exclusion and tax credit, and certain distributions from noncorporate enterprises that elected to be taxed as corporations.

Dividends eligible for tax credit were the qualifying dividends in adjusted gross income, that is, dividends eligible for exclusion less the applicable dividend exclusion.

PENSIONS AND ANNUITIES

Income from pensions and annuities was included in adjusted gross income to the extent of $1,616,958,000 on the 1960 returns. Pensions and annuities were reported under two methods: the general rule, referred to as life expectancy method, and the 3-year method. Income under these methods is explained in Sources Comprising Adjusted Gross Income.

This year for the first time, details for the total amount received from pensions and annuities and the excluded cost were taken from the taxpayer's schedule as reported under each of the two methods. These data were tabulated only from returns which had a taxable amount of income from pensions and annuities. Table F shows the amount received from pensions and annuities and the excluded cost, together with the number of returns and the amount in adjusted gross income. The number of returns for each method when combined will contain some duplication because of those taxpayers who had an entry under both methods. No duplication is involved, however, when amounts are combined.

There were more entries under the life expectancy method than under the 3-year method. Data in table F show that there were 762,000 returns with $962,164,000 of pensions and annuities in adjusted gross income under the life expectancy method, and 374,000 returns with pensions and annuities of $654,794,000 under the 3-year method.

Under the life expectancy method, cost of $150,837,000 was excluded on 255,000 returns, which was one-third of the returns with pensions and annuities reported under this method. This indicates that the majority of pensions in this group were noncontributory pensions and annuities without cost.

Excluded cost of $74,224,000 was shown on 62,000 returns, or 16.5 percent of the 374,000 returns with pensions and annuities reported under the 3-year method. The excluded cost shown was the amount of remaining cost to be recovered in 1960, the first year when a portion of the pension or annuity receipts became taxable to the individuals represented by the 62,000 returns. The other 312,000 returns showed that the cost of the pension and annuity had been fully recovered in prior years.

Total receipts from pensions and annuities under both methods amounted to $1,842,019,000 of which $225,061,000 representing cost, was excluded from income. The excluded cost was 12 percent of the receipts.

Two-thirds of the pensions and annuities in adjusted gross income were reported on taxable returns. With regard to income groups, 57 percent of the pensions and annuities in adjusted gross income were on returns with adjusted gross income under $5,000.

CAPITAL GAINS AND LOSSES

Capital gains in adjusted gross income for 1960 dropped below the all-time record for 1959. The 3,842,000 returns with capital gain in the current year showed capital gain of $6,003,859,000 in adjusted gross income. This was $792,743,000 less than the previous year. Only 50 percent of the net long-term gain, or of the excess net long-term gain over net short-term loss, was included in adjusted gross income. Net short-term gain, or the excess net short-term gain over net long-term loss, was included in full.

Of the capital gain in adjusted gross income, $641,845,000 was reported on nontaxable returns, $3,460,738,000 was taxed at the normal tax and surtax rates, and $1,901,276,000 was reported on returns with the alternative tax computation. On the returns with alternative tax computation, net short-term gain of $31,643,000 was taxed at the normal tax and surtax rates, and the entire excess net long-term gain over net short-term loss amounting to $3,739,270,000 was taxed at the 25 percent rate.

Capital loss was reported on 1,154,000 returns for 1960. This is 254,000 more returns than showed capital loss for 1959. The capital loss deducted in computing adjusted gross income for 1960 was $704,284,000, which was $182,169,000 greater than for the previous year. The capital loss before limitation was $2,440,818,000, up $575,057,000 from the 1959 figure.

Table G, below, shows comparative data for capital gains and losses for the two years, 1960 and 1959.

Information concerning capital losses reported on the 1960 returns, when examined, gives an indication of the amount of capital loss usable for a carryover into the following year. In table H, returns with a capital loss in adjusted gross income are divided into two categories: (1) returns on which the capital loss was completely deducted currently, because the capital loss was small enough to be within the statutory limitations, and (2) returns on which the capital loss was only partly deducted this year, because the capital loss was so large that the deduction was limited to an amount equal to the smaller of (a) taxable income, or adjusted gross income if the tax table was used, computed without regard to the capital gains and losses and the deduction for personal exemptions, or (b) $1,000. The excess capital loss resulting from the limitations indicates, approximately, the amount of capital loss that can be carried into the next year as a short-term capital loss.

In the first category, returns with capital loss completely deducted, there were 742,000 returns with $297,997,000 of capital loss before limitations. On each of these returns, the loss was small enough to be within the statutory limitations and was deducted in full even though some returns showed a capital loss carryover from 1955-59. There was no loss remaining to be carried into the subsequent year.

In the second category, returns with capital loss partially deducted, there were 413,000 returns with $2,142,821,000 of capital loss before limitations. The capital loss on each of these returns was so large that the statutory limitations were effective and the deductible loss was limited to $406,287,000, or 19 percent of the entire loss reported on these returns.

Among the returns in this second category, there were 301,000 returns which had no capital loss carryover from 1955-59. Hence, the capital loss before limitations of $1,118,099,000 on these returns was the loss on current year transactions. Because of the statutory limitations, however, only $295,208,000 of this capital loss was allowed this year, but the disallowed capital loss of $822,891,000 can be carried into 1961 as a short-term capital loss.

On the remaining 111,000 returns with capital loss partially deducted, there was a capital loss carryover from 1955-59. The entire capital loss before limitations reported on these returns amounted to $1,024,722,000 of which only $111,079,000 was usable in the current year because of the statutory limitations. The disallowed loss of $913,643,000 gives an approximate estimate of the amount of capital loss carryover into 1961 from this group of returns. The amount is somewhat above the actual because any portion of a carryover sustained in 1955 which was not eliminated by capital gains and the allowable deduction for 1960 cannot be carried into 1961, inasmuch as the 5-year carryover period has elapsed. The amount of 1955 carryover that was lost because of this feature could not be determined from the return schedule.

The capital loss carryover into 1961 is the sum of the $822,891,000 disallowed capital loss resulting from the current year transactions and the $913,643,000 disallowed capital loss on returns with a carryover from prior years. Thus a total of approximately $1,736,534,000 appears to be available for capital loss carryover into 1961 to be used as short-term capital loss. This is 29 percent higher than a similar carryover into 1960.

A recent Statistics of Income volume, Supplemental Report, Sales of Capital Assets Reported on Individual Income Tax Returns for 1959, shows detailed data on capital gains and losses. Included in this report are data on the frequency of long- and short-term sales of 41 different asset types. Gross sales, and long-term gain or loss are shown for 10 classes of assets, classified by size of adjusted gross income. Also shown are data on the length of time corporate stocks are held prior to their sale as capital assets. Accompanying the basic tables is a discussion of the data and a summary of the tax law provisions applicable to capital gains and losses.

DEPRECIATION

An allowance for exhaustion, wear and tear, and obsolescence of property was allowed as depreciation on property held for the production of income. Depreciation does not apply to land apart from the improvements or physical developments added to it. Depreciation, claimed by individuals in schedule I, Explanation of Deduction for Depreciation Claimed in schedule G (Income from Rents and Royalties), Form 1040, was transcribed this year for the first time. This depreciation was deducted, along with other expenses, from gross receipts from rents and royalties before the income became a component of adjusted gross income.

The annual allowance for ordinary depreciation was based on the useful life of depreciable property less salvage value. Any one of several methods could be used in computing depreciation, but the chosen method must be adhered to consistently unless permission is granted to change. Ordinary depreciation included that for rental property, patents, copyrights, and inventions. Additional first-year depreciation was allowed on tangible personal property having a useful life of at least 6 years, but allowed only in the year of acquisition. The property must have been purchased (new or used) for the production of income.

Unlike ordinary depreciation, the additional first-year depreciation was determined without regard to salvage value and was allowed in full even though the property was purchased during the year. The rate of additional first-year depreciation was 20 percent of cost having an aggregate value of $10,000 or, if a joint return was filed, $20,000. This maximum value, however, included the taxpayer's value of property, selected for additional first-year depreciation, used in his trade or business and that allocated to him from his partnerships, as well as the value of his rental property. Ordinary depreciation on property qualifying for the additional first-year depreciation was computed on the cost of the property less both additional first-year depreciation and the salvage value, then prorated to cover that part of the tax year during which the asset was in service.

Total depreciation for 1960, reported in schedule I and deducted in schedule G, Income from Rents and Royalties, amounted to $2,796,594,000, including $10,041,000 of additional first-year depreciation. These data are presented in table I, which gives distributions of the total amount of depreciation and of the additional first-year depreciation by adjusted gross income classes.

DEPLETION

A deduction for depletion was allowed the owner of an economic interest in mineral deposits, oil, gas, and standing timber, to permit recovery of cost. Depletion was an allowable deduction during the period in which natural resources were extracted, including the cutting of timber. Either of two methods could be employed in computing depletion: cost depletion and percentage depletion. Percentage depletion could not be applied in the case of timber. Depletion relating to royalties was reported in schedule G, Income from Rents and Royalties, Form 1040, and was deducted from gross receipts along with other allowable expenses before royalties were included in adjusted gross income.

Depletion pertaining to royalties, presented in table J, was obtained from column 3 of schedule G. Similar data are not available for prior years. The total amount of depletion claimed for all types of royalties was $257,286,000. A frequency of returns showing depletion and the amount reported is shown by adjusted gross income classes in table J.

See text for "Description of the Sample and Limitations of the Data" and "Explanation of Classifications and Terms."

It is evident that the composition of income for this particular group of returns is markedly different from that for all returns. For instance, salaries and wages represented only 42 percent of the $24,273,073,000 adjusted gross income on returns with at least one taxpayer age 65 or over, while for all returns, 82 percent of adjusted gross income was salaries and wages. On the other hand, dividends and interest were 18 percent and 8.5 percent, respectively, of the income for this particular segment of returns, but were only 3 percent and 2 percent, respectively, of the income on all returns.

The 5,214,000 returns with at least one taxpayer age 65 or over showed 8 percent of the $315,466,382,000 adjusted gross income reported on the 61,028,000 individual returns for 1960. However, the returns with age exemptions showed 45 percent of the dividends, 41 percent of the interest, 50 percent of the rents, 47 percent of the royalties, and 77 percent of the pensions and annuities reported by all taxpayers.

To obtain data reported by taxpayers age 65 or over, returns with either one or two exemptions for age were segregated from returns without such exemptions. Returns with age exemptions included joint returns of husbands and wives whether one or both showed an exemption for age. Of the 5,214,000 returns with age exemptions, 3,107,000 were joint returns. Among these returns, there was 1,454,000 returns on which both husband and wife reported an age exemption, therefore, 6,668,000 persons claimed an exemption for age on the 1960 returns. This compares with 6,273,000 persons who claimed age exemptions for the income year 1956.

Three basic tables were compiled from the returns with at least one taxpayer age 65 or over. Data are distributed by adjusted gross income classes in these tables. Table 18 shows sources of income, exemptions, taxable income, and tax items. Table 19 shows the deductions reported by the taxpayers who elected to itemize deductions. Table 20, shows the total number of exemptions and number of dependents reported on joint returns, returns of single persons not head of household or surviving spouse, and all other returns with at least one taxpayer age 65 or over.

ITEMIZED NONBUSINESS DEDUCTIONS

Continuing a trend evident in recent years, the proportion of all returns with itemized deductions increased again in 1960. Taxpayers claimed itemized deductions on 24,083,000 of the 1960 returns, 1,573,000 more than the number of itemized deduction returns for 1959. Itemized deductions returns comprised 39.5 percent of the 61,028,000 returns filed for 1960.

Total itemized deductions for 1960 were $35,313,129,000, which was $3,295,792,000 higher than the deductions itemized for 1959. The deductions claimed were 19.5 percent of the adjusted gross income of $181,131,130,000 reported on these returns. The average total deduction per return was $1,466.

Chart 3.—ITEMIZED NONBUSINESS DEDUCTIONS, 1960 AND 1958

Table L shows a comparison of the number of returns and the itemized deductions for the tax year 1960 with those for 1959.

Chart 3 shows the total itemized deductions and the specific deductions for 1958 and 1960. Detailed itemized deductions for 1959 are not available for comparison.

Total itemized deductions increased from $27,497,908,000 for 1958 to $32,017,337,000 for 1959, and to $35,313,129,000 for 1960.

The largest deduction for 1958 and also for 1960 was taxes, and this deduction showed a greater increase in the 2-year period than any other deduction item. The 1960 deduction was about 41 percent higher than the 1958 figure.

For the current year, taxes were deducted on 98 percent of the itemized deduction returns, contributions on 96 percent, interest paid on 78 percent, and medical expense on 60 percent.

CONTRIBUTIONS

About 96 returns of every 100 with itemized deductions for 1960 had a deduction for contributions. The total deduction for contributions was $6,750,326,000 reported on 23,106,000 returns. Description of the allowable deduction is given among the itemized deductions later in this report.

In general, contributions equaling 20 percent of adjusted gross income were allowed as a deduction. However, there was an additional allowance to the extent of 10 percent of adjusted gross income, if the extra contributions consisted of gifts to special organizations: churches, tax-exempt educational institutions or hospitals, and organizations directly engaged in continuous medical research. Under certain conditions, an unlimited deduction for contributions was allowed if the taxpayer met the specific provisions.

Table M presents the number of returns and total amount of deductions for contributions by adjusted gross income classes, together with returns that showed contributions to be in excess of 20 percent of adjusted gross income. For 1960, there were 201,000 returns on which the deduction was more than 20 percent of adjusted gross income and the excess contributions were $182,607,000. These returns represented less than 1 percent of the total number of returns with a deduction for contributions. One-half of the returns with excess contributions were taxable returns on which 62 percent of the excess contributions occurred.

Basic table 9 presents a frequency distribution of the returns with a deduction for contributions for 1960, in which the combined taxable and nontaxable returns are cross classified by adjusted gross income classes and by size of the deduction for contributions.

MEDICAL DEDUCTION AND EXPENDITURE

Within certain limitations, a deduction for unreimbursed medical and dental expense was allowed taxpayers who itemized their deductions. An income tax law change permitted, for 1960, the deduction of medical expenses paid for a dependent parent age 65 or over without the reduction of 3 percent of adjusted gross income.

With this change in law, a revised medical schedule was incorporated into the section for listing itemized deductions on Forms 1040 and 1040W. Also, a new "Medical and Dental Expense Statement," Form 2948

(a facsimile is included on page 160), was provided for taxpayers who were entitled to the larger deduction for expenses paid for persons listed in Group I below. For all persons with medical and dental expenses who were in Group II below, the revised schedule on Forms 1040 and 1040W was simpler to use than the "Medical and Dental Expense Statement."

Persons in Group I included (1) taxpayer and wife if either was 65 years of age or older, and (2) each 65-year-old (or over) dependent parent of the taxpayer or his wife. Persons in Group II included (1) taxpayer and wife if both were under 65 years of age, (2) dependent parents, who are under 65 years of age, of taxpayer or wife, and (3) all other dependents regardless of age. Both groups include persons under 65 years of age and persons 65 years or older. However, persons age 65 or over predominate in Group I and persons under 65 predominate in Group II. A taxpayer may have paid medical expenses for persons in either Group I or both groups.

Data were taken from all medical schedules on the 1960 returns or attached thereto, regardless of whether there was an allowable deduction used in computing taxable income. On the other hand, medical expense data could not be included for taxpayers who took a medical deduction, but failed to supply the expense schedule.

In table N, the entire cost of drugs and of medical and dental care is shown separately for persons in each of the two groups, I and II above. These costs are the entire expenditure reported by the taxpayer whether or not such expenses resulted in an allowable deduction.

The entire medical expenditure reported on medical schedules was $8,595,130,000. About 48 percent of this expenditure was on returns with adjusted gross income $5,000 under $10,000. Returns with income under $5,000 showed 29 percent of the expenditure, and returns with income of $10,000 or more showed the remaining 23 percent.

Total drug cost included in the expenditure was $1,734,369,000, most of which was for persons in Group II, representing, in general, drugs for persons under 65 years of age.

Percentage limitations or a specified maximum amount determined the allowable medical and dental expense deduction shown in table N. For the purpose of determining medical expense to be used for the deduction, drugs and medicine were included only to the extent that they exceeded 1 percent of adjusted gross income. Nevertheless the drug cost in table N is the entire cost before the application of the 1 percent rule. The medical and dental cost for persons in Group I were included in full as medical expense. The medical and dental expense for persons in Group II could be considered as medical expense only to the extent that it exceeded 3 percent of adjusted gross income. Table N shows the entire cost before applying this rule. The medical expense in excess of the amount excluded by the foregoing percentage limitations was subject to a maximum allowance for a deduction, based on marital status and number of dependents. A detailed description of the computation of the allowable deduction for medical and dental expense is shown later in this report.

Because of the variation between returns with medical schedules which may or may not have resulted in a deduction, and returns with a deduction but no schedule available, the entire expenditure is not precisely related to the deduction.

TYPES OF TAXES

The revised schedule for itemized deductions on the 1960 returns, Forms 1040 and 1040W, listed three distinct types of taxes to be reported separately. These three were real estate taxes, State and local sales taxes, and State income taxes. Table O shows the three specific types of taxes classified by size of adjusted gross income, together with the amount of taxes unspecified by type and the total amount of taxes itemized in the deductions schedule. Taxes were the most frequent type of deduction itemized and amounted to more than any other single itemized category. The deduction for taxes, claimed on 23,666,000 returns, amounted to $10,525,698,000 or 30 percent of total itemized deductions. The largest of these specified types of taxes deducted was real estate taxes totaling $4,134,146,000 on 16,352,000 returns. The second largest tax reported was State income taxes totaling $1,875,399,000 on 11,332,000 returns. State and local sales taxes of $1,872,367,000 were deducted on 18,049,000 returns. Although amounting to less than either of the other two types of taxes, State and local sales taxes deduction was reported more frequently. Seventy-six percent of the returns with deduction for taxes showed State and local sales taxes. The 18,049,000 returns with State and local sales taxes are distributed by size of sales tax deduction in table P. The largest number of returns among the 17 class intervals for size of sales tax is 2,279,000 returns in the size class $100 under $125.

OTHER DEDUCTIONS BY TYPE

An analysis was made of the items reported in the other deductions part of the schedule of deductions itemized by taxpayers, and the amounts for the following six types of deductions were tabulated: casualty and theft losses, child care, alimony paid, employee business expense, entertainment expense, and educational expense. The result of this analysis of other deductions is presented in table Q.

Casualty and theft losses were the net losses on non-business property resulting from fire, shipwreck, or automobile accident; natural forces such as flood, storm, hurricane, tornado, mine cave-in, and sonic boom; and theft or embezzlement of money and property. The deduction was limited to the net loss sustained. Though the loss was measured by the difference between the fair market value of property just before the casualty and its fair market value immediately after the casualty, the deductible loss could not exceed the cost or other adjusted basis of the property reduced by insurance or other reimbursement received. The deduction claimed for casualty and theft losses was $450,402,000 occurring on 2,280,000 returns.

Child care was an allowable deduction in the case of employed women (married or single) and widowers (including those divorced or legally separated) for expenses paid for the care of a dependent child under 12 years of age, or a dependent incapable of caring for himself, while the taxpayer was gainfully employed. In either case, the taxpayer must be entitled to the dependency exemption for the person who is being cared for. The deduction was limited to $600, regardless of the number of dependents cared for, but could not exceed the expenses paid. This deduction was allowed a working wife only if (1) she filed a joint return with her husband, and (2) their combined adjusted gross income was less than $5,100. However, neither limitation applied if the husband was incapable of self-support because he was mentally or physically defective. There were 272,000 returns with child care expense deduction of $103,117,000.

Alimony paid was deducted, under certain circumstances, for alimony payments to the taxpayer's former spouse, or separate maintenance payments to the taxpayer's spouse. To be deductible, such payments must meet the provisions stipulated in the Income Tax Regulations. In general, payments must have been (1) required under the terms of the decree of divorce or separation, or a written instrument incident to such decree; (2) paid in discharge of a legal obligation based on the marital relationship; (3) paid after the decree; and (4) made periodically. The deduction did not include payments which have been specified as support of minor children, lump sum cash settlements required by the decree or agreement, payments before the decree, payments accruing before the decree and paid subsequently, nor any payment not required by the decree or agreement. Alimony paid was reported on 132,000 returns with a deduction of $219,290,000.

The three deductions pertaining to employee expenses--employee business expense, entertainment expense, and educational expenses--reported in the schedule for other deductions were only part of the employee expenses. A large amount of employee expense was deducted from gross salaries and wages and thereby excluded from adjusted gross income. Consequently, employee expenses reported in other deductions were only the portion which could not be deducted from salaries and wages. Self-employed persons reported similar expenses in schedules C and F, which were not included in the analysis of the taxpayers' other deductions shown in table Q.

Employee business expense included expenses pertaining to employment that were not deductible from gross income in computing adjusted gross income, but deductible only to the extent that the expenses were in excess of the employer's allowance or reimbursement. Along with unreimbursed expenses, employees deducted cost of special apparel and equipment (required by ballplayers, firemen, police officers, letter carriers, nurses, faculty members of military schools, transportation employees, and commercial fishermen), membership dues paid to professional societies and union dues, fees paid to employment agencies, subscription expenses paid to professional journals, and cost of safety equipment, small tools, and materials for the job. Employee business expenses occurred in the other deduction schedule on 12,720,000 of the itemized deduction returns. This was over one-half of the total number of itemized deduction returns for the year. Employee business expense occurred much more often than any of the other five selected deductions. The deduction amounted to $2,267,319,000.

Entertainment expense, incurred in the course of the taxpayer's employment, which was directly related to the operation of his employer's business, could be deducted in other deductions if not reimbursed. A salaried employee must show that his employer required or expected him to incur entertainment expense in connection with his work in order to have this deduction. Entertainment expense of $99,691,000 was deducted on 278,000 returns.

Educational expense was allowed if incurred for the purpose of (1) maintaining or improving skills required for present employment, or (2) meeting the employer's requirements, or requirements of law or regulations, imposed as a condition for retention of the employee's salary, status, or employment. The taxpayer must have been currently employed to obtain this deduction. Cost of travel, meals, and lodging were deducted in compiling adjusted gross income, so that, only nonreimbursed expenditures for tuition, books, laboratory fees, dues to professional societies, and the like were reported in the other deduction schedule. Deduction of $90,183,000 for educational expense was claimed on 503,000 returns.

Miscellaneous deductions were those remaining in the schedule for other deductions after the above six selected deductions were extracted. Significant among these were the share of interest and taxes paid by a tenant-stockholder in a cooperative housing corporation, gambling losses to the extent of gains in adjusted gross income, amortization of bond premium, expense connected with production or collection of income, expense of management or protection of property held for the production of income, safety deposit rental, and tax return preparation expense, as well as any other authorized non-business deduction not elsewhere reported.

MARITAL STATUS OF TAXPAYER

Table R shows the number of returns for 1960 and the amounts of adjusted gross income and taxable income for each of the five marital groups. Nearly 62 percent of all returns for 1960 were joint returns filed by husbands and wives. The 37,624,000 joint returns had adjusted gross income of $248,726,045,000. This was approximately 79 percent of the total adjusted gross income for 1960. Other married persons filed 2,038,000 separate returns, each independently from his spouse. These returns showed adjusted gross income of $6,705,700,000.

There were 20,224,000 returns filed by single persons not head of household or surviving spouse. Adjusted gross income on these returns was $54,065,637,000. Other unmarried persons who claimed status as head of household filed 1,041,000 returns with $5,533,109,000 adjusted gross income. There were 102,000 returns filed by widows and widowers who claimed status as surviving spouse and reported $435,891,000 adjusted gross income.

EXEMPTIONS

There were 175,305,000 exemptions claimed on the 1960 individual returns. This was 3,292,000 more exemptions than appeared on the 1959 returns. The exemptions for 1960 included 98,652,000 exemptions for taxpayers, 69,892,000 for dependents, and 6,762,000 for age and blindness. The per capita exemptions for taxpayers and dependents of 168,543,000 represented approximately the population covered by income tax returns.

Taxpayer exemptions for 1960 were 1,123,000 above those for 1959. Exemptions were claimed for 2,119,000 more dependents than for the preceding year, and the number of age and blind exemptions was 50,000 higher than last year.

In table S, the number of exemptions for 1960 are distributed by five marital groups and type of exemptions.

SOURCES OF DATA

Income and tax data in this report were estimated from a sample of unaudited individual income tax returns, Forms 1040, 1040W, and 1040A, filed by citizens and residents during the calendar year 1961 in the district offices of the Internal Revenue Service and with the Director of International Operations in the National Office. The sample represented all individual returns for the income year 1960 regardless of when filed. The majority of the returns showed income reported on the calendar year basis, but a relatively small number did have noncalendar accounting periods. Tentative returns and returns with no information regarding income and tax were eliminated from the tables. Amended returns were included only when the original returns were excluded.

An individual income tax return was required of every citizen or resident alien under 65 years of age (including minors) who had $600 or more of gross income for the year, every citizen or resident 65 years or over who had $1,200 or more gross income for the year, and every person regardless of age or gross income who had self-employment earnings of $400 or more during the tax year. Gross income, for the purposes of filing, included earned income from sources without the United States, even though tax exempt. Citizens of the United States and aliens who were bona fide residents of Puerto Rico filed a return if they met the income test. Persons with gross income below the filing requirement who had income tax withheld from wages filed a return to claim refund of tax, although not otherwise required to do so.

Three return forms were available for reporting the income for 1960. Form 1040A, the card-form, could be used by employees who had less than $10,000 total income consisting of wages reported on Withholding Statements (Form W-2) and not more than $200 of dividends, interest, and wages not subject to income tax withholding. Form 1040W, a 2-page form, could be used by persons whose income consisted of salaries and wages (regardless of amount) and not more than $200 of interest and dividends, but with no other income of any kind. Form 1040, a 4-page form with additional schedules, was available for persons who were not eligible to file either of the other forms, and for persons who chose to use this form for any reason.

For the income year 1960, there were 18,757,000 returns filed on Form 1040A, 7,363,000 on Form 1040W, and 34,908,000 on Form 1040, totaling 61,028,000 returns. There appears to have been considerable shift in the form of return used between 1959 and 1960. Returns, Forms 1040 and 1040A, increased and Form 1040W decreased in number this year.

Returns filed on Form 1040A showed an increase of approximately one-half million over the number for 1959. Increases occurred in both the under $5,000 adjusted gross income and the $5,000 or more adjusted gross income groups.

The number of returns filed on Forms 1040W decreased nearly 10 percent from the number of 1040W returns for 1959. The major reduction in 1040W returns was in the income group under $5,000 adjusted gross income; a lesser decline occurred in the income group $5,000 under $10,000 adjusted gross income. There was a slight increase in the number of Form 1040W returns with $10,000 or more adjusted gross income. The rules governing use of this form remained the same for both years.

The number of Form 1040 returns for 1960 was more than one million above the number filed on this form for 1959. The increase in the income categories $5,000 or more adjusted gross income, more than compensated for the fewer returns in the income group under $5,000 adjusted gross income, resulting in a net increase for this year.

Nonbusiness deductions were itemized on 24,083,000 returns, Form 1040 and Form 1040W, for 1960. This is the largest number of itemized deductions returns ever filed. The standard deduction was elected on 36,945,000 returns filed on the three income tax forms, 60.5 percent of the total number of returns. The use of the standard deduction continued to fall off as allowable deductions of more taxpayers exceeded the 10 percent standard deduction.

Income tax was determined from the tax table on 27,056,000 returns with adjusted gross income under $5,000 in the current year, a decrease of 618,000 from 1959. Tax table returns represented 44 percent of the total returns filed. Of all returns with adjusted gross income under $5,000, the area in which tax table usage is applicable on any of the three income tax forms, tax table returns constituted 76 percent. Both percentages are lower than the corresponding proportions for 1959.

Table T presents a comparison of the number of returns for the current year with those for the prior year by form of return filed, adjusted gross income groups, and type of deduction reported.

DESCRIPTION OF THE SAMPLE AND LIMITATIONS OF THE DATA

The data presented for individual income tax returns for 1960 were based on a stratified systematic sample of all Forms 1040, 1040W, and 1040A filed during 1961. The total sample consisted of 436,690 returns, about 0.71 percent of the total number filed for the year.

Sample selection.—To facilitate the administrative processing of returns for collection and audit purposes, uniform methods of classifying returns by type of form, presence or absence of business income, size of adjusted gross income, and taxpayment status were prescribed for each of the district offices and the Office of International Operations in Washington, D. C. These classifications also provided effective sampling strata since the characteristics on which the strata were based correlated highly with the principal income and tax characteristics being estimated. The sample design was adapted to fit these regular return sorting procedures.

Within each of the strata, returns were assigned consecutive account numbers and the sample was selected systematically by withdrawing from the various strata all returns with designated account number endings. For example, Form 1040A returns were selected according to the prescribed rate of 3 in 1,000, by drawing returns having account numbers ending with 222, 555, and 777.

Table U shows the number of returns filed, the number of returns in the sample, and the prescribed sampling rate by sampling strata.

Method of estimation.—Estimates for all returns filed were determined by multiplying the sample data by "weighting factors" obtained by dividing the number of sample returns received from each sampling stratum into the total number of returns filed in that stratum. For instance, the "weighting factor" of 331.60 for Form 1040A returns was obtained by dividing the number of returns in the sample, 56,701, into the total number of returns filed, 18,801,795. The primary sources of population data were counts made and submitted by the district offices and the Office of International Operations showing the number of Form 1040, 1040W, and 1040A returns filed during the calendar year 1961.

A comparison of the estimated number of returns shown in the national tables of this report with the number of returns reported filed in the district offices, as shown in table U, will disclose slight differences. These differences occur for the following reasons: (1) an estimated 96,137 returns were excluded from the tables because they showed no income information, (2) returns were classified in the proper adjusted gross income size class regardless of the sampling strata to which they were assigned in the field offices, and (3) weighted estimates were rounded.

Separate "weighting factors" were used for the national tabulations and for the State tabulations. Reports received from each field office showing the number of returns filed by sampling stratum were used to derive "weighting factors" for the State tabulations. The "weighting factors" for the national tabulations were based on the aggregate number of returns filed in each stratum throughout all field offices. The achieved sampling ratios varied sufficiently among districts to warrant using two separate series of weights. The use of two separate series of weights is the reason for slight differences between totals in the tables showing distributions by States and corresponding items in the national tables.

Sampling variability.—The data from returns showing adjusted gross income of $150,000 or more are not subject to sampling variability since all such returns were included in the sample. However, the estimates which include data from returns showing adjusted gross income under $150,000 are subject to sampling variability. Table V shows the range, in a percent of the estimate, that would not be exceeded in 19 out of 20 estimates based on a similar sampling system, for selected characteristics, by adjusted gross income classes. In the presentation of this table it was assumed that account number selection within strata would yield results equivalent to simple random sampling.

Table W shows, for estimates of number of returns, a conservative range, in a percent of the estimate, that would not be exceeded in 19 out of 20 estimates prepared from similarly selected samples. Sampling variability patterns are presented separately for three adjusted gross income classes. For instance, if data from returns showing adjusted gross income under $10,000 reveal 100,000 returns having a certain characteristic, then the relative sampling variability will be less than 12 percent. As another example, if data from returns showing adjusted gross income of $10,000 under $50,000 reveal 100,000 returns having a certain characteristic, then the relative sampling variability of this estimate will be less than 4 percent.

Data have been deleted from the tables where the estimated relative sampling variability was judged to be excessive. Where such a deletion has been made, the applicable cells have been appropriately footnoted.

Response and other nonsampling errors.--In processing returns for collection purposes in the district offices and, later, in processing the sample of such returns for statistical purposes, several steps were taken to reduce taxpayer-reporting errors and other errors introduced in data processing operations. Over 90 percent of all individual returns filed during 1961 were mathematically verified before they were made available for sample selection. Any corrections resulting from mathematical verification of the taxpayer's entries are reflected in the data tabulated.

In transcribing and tabulating the information from the sampled returns, additional checks were imposed to improve the quality of the resulting estimates. Returns which showed data in accompanying schedules but not on appropriate return lines, community property returns on which the 'halving' of income was incorrectly computed, and returns with other obvious errors were edited and recording errors amended. Mechanical transcribing was verified by the process of repeat card punching and, prior to tabulating, numerous tests for consistency were applied using an electronic computer, to assure that proper balance and relationship between return items and statistical classifications were maintained.

There is an underestimation of some frequencies for 1960, as amounts of less than $1.00 were counted in estimating frequency only in the case of interest received, items pertaining to corporate dividends received, tax credit for dividends, and income tax after credits.

An intensive system of sample management and control was used to insure the selection of the prescribed sample and prevent any serious undercoverage. Sample controls were maintained on a district basis by the most detailed sampling strata. In addition, a name control file for internal use only, containing a historical record of tax returns for certain taxpayers who annually report large incomes, provided a further check on the completeness of the sample.

Coverage was improved also by the inclusion of prior-year delinquent returns in the sample for the purpose of estimating data for 1960 returns that were filed after December 31, 1961. It was felt that the characteristics of 1960 returns filed too late to be included could best be represented by a sample of previous year delinquent returns filed during 1961. As can be seen in table U, the number of delinquent returns filed during 1961 was 389,000.

However, the controls maintained over the selection of the sample and the processing of the source data in the field offices did not completely eliminate the possibility of error. Also, practical operating considerations necessitated allowance of reasonable tolerance in controlling the processing of these data within the Statistics Division.

EXPLANATION OF CLASSIFICATIONS AND TERMS

Classifications

Income and tax data in the basic tables of this report are classified by adjusted gross income classes, taxable and nontaxable returns, types of tax, standard and itemized deductions, size of specified income and deductions, size of taxable income, marital status and age of taxpayer, number of exemptions other than age or blindness, and by States.

Adjusted gross income classes.--The amount of adjusted gross income reported by the taxpayer on his return was the basis for classifying data for the size of income. Adjusted gross deficit and a breakeven in adjusted gross income were considered "No adjusted gross income" and appear as a separate class. Whenever taxable and nontaxable data are combined by size of income, the nontaxable data are distributed in the class denoted by the amount of adjusted gross income reported, although when shown separately, data from nontaxable returns with $5,000 or more adjusted gross income are grouped in the class, $5,000 or more.

Taxable and nontaxable returns.--Whether a return was taxable or nontaxable depended upon the presence of absence of an income tax after credits allowed against this tax. The self-employment tax was disregarded for this classification. For the returns filed on Form 1040W, the income tax after credits was computed for each return since the amount was not reported on the return itself.

Taxable returns had an income tax remaining after the allowable tax credits were deducted. If the tax after credits was less than $1.00, the return was classified as a taxable return.

Nontaxable returns had no income tax remaining after tax credits. Some nontaxable returns had income tax before credits which was eliminated by the tax credits. Many nontaxable returns showed an amount of self-employment tax.

Types of income tax.--Taxable returns were classified for the type of income tax paid, that is, the regular normal tax and surtax combined, or the alternative tax. The self-employment tax was ignored in this classification.

Returns with normal tax and surtax were those showing the normal tax and surtax computed according to the applicable tax rate schedules, and also included returns on which the tax was determined from the tax table. Normal tax and surtax occurred on all kinds of returns except those with long-term capital gain on which the alternative tax was less than the normal tax and surtax.

Returns with alternative tax were returns with income that contained an excess of net long-term capital gain over net short-term capital loss and on which the tax computed by the alternative tax method was less than the normal tax and surtax on statutory income. Alternative tax was not effective on taxable income under $18,000.

Returns with standard deduction or with itemized deductions.--Standard deduction returns included (1) Form 1040A returns, (2) Form 1040 and 1040W returns with adjusted gross income under $5,000 on which the income tax was determined from the tax table, (3) Form 1040 and 1040W returns with adjusted gross income of $5,000 or more on which the taxpayer elected to use the standard deduction, and (4) returns with no adjusted gross income.

Returns with itemized deductions were returns, Form 1040 and 1040W, with adjusted gross income against which itemized nonbusiness deductions were claimed by the taxpayer in the computation of his taxable income. A relatively few separate returns of married persons who had neither standard nor itemized deductions were included in this classification.

Size of selected sources of income or loss.--For distributions of the number of returns with selected sources of income or loss in adjusted gross income, returns were segregated into categories according to the size of a specific income or loss. The size intervals are narrow at the lower end of the scale so that small amounts are adequately classified.

Size of deductions.--Four itemized nonbusiness deductions--contributions, interest paid, taxes, and medical deduction--and total itemized deductions were classified by size of the amount of each specified deduction to obtain separate frequency distributions for returns which had these items.

Taxable income classes.--This classification was applied to the amount of positive taxable income upon which the income tax was computed. The class intervals coincide with the taxable income brackets of the three income tax rate schedules applying to (1) separate returns of husbands and wives and returns of single persons not head of household or surviving spouse, (2) joint returns and returns of surviving spouse, and (3) returns of heads of household. Taxable income was reported on all itemized deductions returns regardless of the amount of adjusted gross income, and on the standard deduction returns with adjusted gross income of $5,000 or more, Forms 1040 and 1040W. Taxable income was mechanically computed for each return where the tax table was used and for the returns, Form 1040A, with total income $5,000 under $10,000.

Age of taxpayer.--For the purpose of distinguishing returns filed by taxpayers age 65 or over, the additional exemption for age was used whenever claimed on a return. In the case of joint returns of husbands and wives, some had only one additional exemption for age 65 or over, while others had two additional exemptions for age, indicating that both husband and wife were over 65 years old. Whether one or two age exemptions were claimed, the return was considered a return of a taxpayer 65 years or more of age. (For age of retiree, see "Retirement Schedule Items.")

Marital status of taxpayer.--Marital status was determined by the taxpayer as of the last day of his tax year or as of the date of the death of a spouse. The five marital classifications used in this report--joint returns of husbands and wives, separate returns of husbands and wives, returns of heads of household, returns of surviving spouse, and returns of other single persons--were based on the marital status indicated by the taxpayer with regard to name (or names) of taxpayer, joint signatures, exemption for the taxpayer or for himself and spouse, check mark denoting status as head of household or surviving spouse, and any other relevant data.

Joint returns of husbands and wives were those on which a married couple reported their combined income, or returns of married couples only one of which had income but, nevertheless, exemptions for both could be claimed.

Separate returns of husbands and wives were returns of married persons, each of whom filed a return independently of his spouse and reported only his own income, exemptions, and tax. Returns with community income divided between husband and wife are given this classification.

Returns of heads of household were returns on which the taxpayer signified this status. Head of household is an unmarried person (or one married to a nonresident alien) who furnished more than half the maintenance of a home which was his residence and which he shared with any related person for whom he was entitled to the deduction for an exemption (except multiple support), or shared with his unmarried child, grandchild, or stepchild even though not a dependent, or who paid over half the cost of maintaining a household which was the principal abode of his parents, if either of them qualified as a dependent.

Returns of surviving spouse were returns of widows and widowers who indicated this status. A surviving spouse is a taxpayer whose spouse died during either of two preceding tax years and who had not remarried, but who had maintained as his home a household which was also the principal abode of his child or stepchild for whom the taxpayer was entitled to the deduction for exemption.

Returns of single persons not head of household or surviving spouse were those of unmarried individuals who did not claim status as head of household or surviving spouse.

Number of exemptions other than age or blindness.--For a frequency distribution of returns by number of exemptions, only the per capita exemption of the taxpayer, his spouse on a joint return, and each dependent was used. There is a class for each of one through six or more exemptions for all returns; a class for each of two through six or more exemptions for joint returns; and a class for each of one through four or more exemptions for the separate returns of husbands and wives, returns of heads of household, returns of surviving spouse, and returns of single persons not head of household or surviving spouse.

States.--The classification of data by States was based on the district in which the return was filed. Internal revenue districts, or groups of districts, are identical with State boundaries, except that the District of Columbia is a part of the Baltimore Internal Revenue District. Returns showing an address in the District of Columbia were separated from other returns filed in the Baltimore District. Office of International Operations had charge of returns with addresses outside of 50 States. Such returns included those from Puerto Rico, Virgin Islands, Panama Canal Zone, and returns with foreign addresses, all of which were classified as Other areas.

Sources Comprising Adjusted Gross Income

Salaries and wages (net) were amounts of compensation reported in adjusted gross income, except for small amounts of wages (not over $200 per return) included in other income on Form 1040A returns. Net salaries and wages excluded salaries earned abroad and receipts covering sick pay which were tax exempt. Also, travel, transportation, educational, and other expenses connected with employment had been deducted by the taxpayer if they were deductible in computing adjusted gross income as stated in that definition. Prior to these adjustments, salaries and wages comprised the full amount of wages, salaries, fees, commissions, tips, bonuses, and other forms of payment for services performed for the employer, including the value of merchandise or property received in payment, as well as reimbursed expenses received by the employee from his employer.

Dividends (after exclusions) were the domestic and foreign dividends reported in adjusted gross income, exclusive of dividends (not more than $200 per return) in other income on Form 1040A. Dividends in adjusted gross income comprised:

1. Qualifying domestic dividends consisting of—

(a) Dividends from fully taxable corporations received directly, or as beneficiary of income from estates and trusts, or as a partner's share of untaxed partnership net profit, together with

(b) The entire net profit of an entrepreneur who elected to be taxed as a corporation, and the entire share of net profit from a partnership that elected to be so taxed, the total of which (a) and (b) was reduced by an exclusion not exceeding $50, and

2. Nonqualifying dividends, foreign and domestic, from which no exclusion was allowed.

On joint returns, if both husband and wife receive qualifying dividends, each excluded up to $50 against his respective dividends. Nonqualifying dividends were those from China Trade Act corporations, tax-exempt organizations, certain corporations doing business in possessions of the United States, and foreign corporations.

Dividends did not include the so-called dividends on deposits or withdrawal accounts in mutual savings banks, cooperative banks, domestic building and loan or savings and loan associations, Federal savings and loan associations, nor credit unions. This type of income was considered interest for income tax purposes.

Interest received was that reported in adjusted gross income with the exception of small amounts (not more than $200 per return) in other income on Form 1040A returns. This item included interest from bonds, debentures, notes, mortgages, and personal loans, interest received or credited on bank deposits, savings accounts, and deposits in organizations listed above, as well as partially tax-exempt interest and interest from tax-free covenant bonds received directly or through partnerships and fiduciaries.

Business net profit or net loss was reported by individuals who were sole proprietors of a business or farm, or sole owner of a professional business, and who did not elect to be taxed as a corporation. When there were two or more sole proprietorships operated by the taxpayer, the single amount of profit or loss included in adjusted gross income represented the combined profits and losses from all the business activities. The sole proprietor was required to exclude dividends from the business receipts and to report them with dividend income for the purpose of dividend exclusion and tax credit.

Business expenses deductible from business receipts included such items as cost of goods sold, salaries and wages paid employees, interest on business indebtedness, taxes on business and business property, bad debts arising from sales or service, depreciation, obsolescence, depletion, casualty losses on business property, rent, repairs, supplies, advertising, selling expenses, insurance, and other costs of operating the business. Compensation of the sole proprietor was not allowed as a business deduction and the net operating loss deduction was not reported among the business expenses.

Partnership net profit or net loss was reported by persons who were members of a partnership, syndicate, joint venture, or association that did not elect to be taxed as a corporation. The taxpayer's profit or loss from such a partnership was his share of the ordinary income or loss of the enterprise together with payments made to him as salary or for the use of capital. If the individual was a member of more than one partnership, the single amount of partnership profit or loss reported in adjusted gross income was the combination of all his shares, whether or not actually received. The ordinary income of the partnership did not include dividends qualifying for the exclusion, net short- and long-term capital gain and loss, interest on tax-free covenant bonds, nor partially exempt interest. The partner's share of each of these items was reported in its respective source.

Net gain from sales of capital assets included in adjusted gross income was the amount of gain from sales or exchanges of property treated as capital assets. In computing this gain, the net short-term gain or loss was combined with the net long-term gain or loss after which the net long-term gain or the excess of net long-term gain over net short-term loss was reduced 50 percent. For the determination of net short- and long-term gain and loss, the taxpayer included with his personal, current-year transactions, his 5-year capital loss carryover as a short-term loss, and his share of (1) net short- and long-term gain received through fiduciaries, (2) net short- and long-term gain and loss from partnerships, (3) distributed and undistributed long-term gain from regulated investment companies, and (4) the excess net long-term gain over net short-term loss distributed by small business corporations that elected not to be taxed as a corporation. The amount of net gain in adjusted gross income conforms to one of several conditions, namely, (a) 50 percent of the excess net long-term gain over net short-term loss occurring on certain returns, (b) on returns with only a net long-term gain, 50 percent thereof, (c) on returns with both net short-term and long-term gains, the entire amount of net short-term gain combined with 50 percent of the net long-term gain, (d) on returns with only a net short-term gain, the entire net gain, and (e) the entire excess of net short-term gain over net long-term loss on other returns.

Net loss from sales of capital assets reported as a component of adjusted gross income was the deductible loss resulting from sales or exchanges of property treated as capital assets. To determine the deductible loss, all short-term gains and losses were merged with the long-term gains and losses, and the excess loss was allowed to the extent of the smallest of (1) amount of capital loss, (2) taxable income (adjusted gross income if tax table was used) computed without regard to capital gains and losses and the deduction for personal exemptions, or (3) $1,000. In merging the capital gains and losses, the taxpayer combined his current-year gains and losses and his 5-year capital loss carryover with his share of (1) net short- and long-term gain received through fiduciaries, (2) net short- and long-term gain and loss from partnerships, (3) distributed and undistributed long-term gain from regulated investment companies, and (4) the excess net long-term gain over net short-term loss distributed by small business corporations that elected not to be taxed as corporations. Any part of the capital loss incurred in the current year which was not deductible because of the limitation, may be carried forward for 5 succeeding years as a short-term capital loss to the extent that it has not been absorbed by capital gains and the allowable capital loss deduction in the intervening years. If a capital loss carryover is not eliminated in the 5-year period, the remaining loss cannot be used.

Short-term applied to gains and losses from sales or exchanges of assets held six months or less and treated as capital assets. Such gains and losses for the current year and the capital loss carryovers from 5 preceding years (used as short-term losses) were combined to obtain the net short-term gain or loss. In this combination, the net short-term capital gain or loss from partnerships and the net short-term capital gain from fiduciaries were also included.

Long-term applied to gains and losses from sales or exchanges of assets held more than six months which were treated as capital assets. Such current gains and losses, taken into account at 100 percent, were combined with net long-term capital gain or loss received through partnerships and the net long-term gain received through fiduciaries to obtain the net long-term gain or loss for the year.

Capital loss carryover from 1955-59 was that portion of the net capital loss sustained in this 5-year period which the taxpayer had been unable to offset against his capital gains or the $1,000 deduction allowed for capital loss in computing adjusted gross income in tax years subsequent to the year in which the capital loss arose. The carryover was reported with and treated as a short-term capital loss in the current year.

Net loss from sales of capital assets before limitation was the entire loss, resulting from sales of property treated as capital assets, which was reported on returns having a capital loss in adjusted gross income. The loss was a combination of current year short-term gains and losses, the 5-year capital loss carryover, and the current year long-term gains and losses, and was without regard to the statutory limitation on the deductible loss.

Net long-term capital gain in excess of net short-term capital loss was the entire excess of net long-term capital gain over net short-term capital loss reported on returns with alternative tax. Only one-half of this excess long-term gain was included in adjusted gross income, however, the entire excess was the basis for the 25 percent rate on capital gain.

One-half excess long-term gain was 50 percent of the excess net long-term capital gain over net short-term capital loss reported on returns with alternative tax. This was the amount of long-term capital gain that was included in adjusted gross income, but was deducted from statutory taxable income to obtain taxable income for partial tax when the alternative tax was paid.

Net gain or loss from sales of property other than capital assets in adjusted gross income resulted from sales or exchanges of property which was either not a capital asset or was not treated as a capital asset. Each taxpayer included his share of such gain or loss received through partnerships and fiduciaries. Net gain from these transactions was included in its entirety and the net loss was fully deducted in computing adjusted gross income. Losses on sales or exchanges of small-business investment company stock were ordinary losses rather than capital losses. Also, losses on small business stock were ordinary losses to the original holders, however, this ordinary loss is limited to $25,000 on separate returns and to $50,000 on joint returns.

Pensions and annuities were the taxable portion of amounts received during the year. These taxable portions were reported under two methods: (a) the general rule, referred to as life expectancy method, and (b) the 3-year method. Noncontributory annuities and pensions were reported under the life expectancy method for 1960.

Life expectancy method included the entire receipts from noncontributory annuities and pensions, that is, where the employee contributed none of the cost, and also included the taxable portion of receipts from contributory pensions and annuities if the cost would not be recovered within 3 years. Receipts from such contributory annuities were included in adjusted gross income to the extent that they exceeded an amount, representing cost, computed according to the actuarial formula provided by the Income Tax Regulations. Once the excludable cost has been determined, it generally remains constant throughout the annuitant's lifetime. Contributory pensions and annuities were those where the employee contributed to the cost or was previously taxed on his employer's contribution and those received, for reason other than death of the insured, under an annuity, endowment, or life insurance contract.

The 3-year method included taxable receipts from contributory pensions and annuities, but only if the employer also contributed to the cost and the employee's cost would be recovered within 3 years. If both conditions were met, all receipts were excluded until the employee recovered the amount contributed by him plus the contributions made by his employer on which the employee previously paid income tax. Thereafter, all amounts received became fully taxable. This method also applied to an employee's beneficiary if the employee died before receiving any annuity or pensions payments.

Net income or loss from rents, although reported in a schedule that included royalty income, was separated from the latter in order that each source might be shown independently this year for the first time. Rent income (or loss) constituted a part of adjusted gross income to the extent that the gross rents received exceeded the deductions for depreciation, repairs, maintenance, interest, taxes, commissions, advertising, fuel, insurance, janitor service, and other allowable expenses related to the rented property. In the historical tables 22 and 25, income from rents when combined with income from royalties for 1960 will not be equivalent to the rents and royalties income published for prior years. This anomaly is due to the method used in prior years of combining rent income with royalty loss (or vice versa) to obtain a net income (or loss) for each return.

Net income or loss from royalties was separated from the rent income for the first time so that the net income from royalties reported in adjusted gross income would be known. Gross royalties included revenues from oil, gas, and other mineral rights, timber royalties, revenue from patents, copyrights on literary works, trademarks, formulas, and so on. Deductions against gross royalties were made for depletion, depreciation, office rent, legal fees, clerical help, interest, taxes, and similar items. As stated above, income from royalties when combined with income from rents will not be comparable with income from rents and royalties for years prior to 1960.

Income or loss from estates and trusts was the taxpayer's share of fiduciary income from any estate or trust under which he was a beneficiary. Income from estates and trusts included amounts required to be distributed and amounts credited to the beneficiary's account from current year fiduciary income, whether or not actually received by him, as well as amounts paid to him. It also included his share of any accumulation distribution made by the fiduciary of a complex trust which distributed income accumulated in prior tax years. The beneficiary's share of these distributions from estate and trust income was reduced by his share of depletion and depreciation before reporting the amount as part of adjusted gross income. The taxpayer excluded also from his fiduciary income his share of capital gain, dividends qualifying for exclusion, and partially exempt interest, each of which was reported in its respective source. A loss from estates and trusts was distributed to the beneficiary only upon termination of a trust or an estate which had a net operating loss carryover, or a capital loss carryover, or for its last tax year had deductions (other than exemption and charitable deduction) in excess of gross income.

Net operating loss deduction pertained to net operating loss carried over from preceding years. This item has not been shown separately since 1954. Net operating loss for any year is computed according to rules stated in the Income Tax Regulations and includes among other things loss from trade or business of a sole proprietor; casualty and theft losses; losses from sales of small business corporation stock and of small business investment company stock; taxpayer's share of partnership loss; and his pro rata share of net operating loss of a corporation that elected not to be taxed as a corporation. The net operating loss deduction used in computing adjusted gross income represented the portion of prior year losses that had not been eliminated by the required carrybacks and carryovers applied against taxable income for tax years prior to 1960.

Other sources of income included such items as alimony received, prizes, awards, sweepstakes winnings, gambling profits, recovery of bad debts and taxes deducted in a prior year, insurance received as reimbursement for medical expenses taken in a previous year, the taxpayer's share of distributed or undistributed current year taxable income (exclusive of long-term capital gain) received from a small business corporation that elected not to be taxed as a corporation, and any other income subject to tax for which no entry was provided on the return form. Also included is a total of $76,366,000 consisting of interest, dividends after exclusion, and wages not subject to income tax withholding (not exceeding in total $200 per return) reported on 1,005,000 returns, Form 1040A.

Income attributable to several tax years which was reported by the taxpayer on his current year return was included in its entirety, even though the income was earned over a period of time involving prior income years and thereby afforded special tax treatment. Earned income attributable to several tax years originated from (a) back pay received for work performed in a previous year, if the back pay exceeded 15 percent of gross income for the current year; (b) inventions or artistic works, the creation of which required not less than 24 months and for which income received in the current year was at least 80 percent of the aggregate gross income received for the work; (c) compensation received for long-term services performed by an individual or a partner over a period of 36 months or more, if the amount received within the current year was at least 80 percent of the total compensation received for the services. For income tax purposes, such income was spread over specified periods, and the tax on the amount received in the current year was limited to the additional taxes that would have been paid for the years involved if the compensation had been included ratably in income over the period of the services.

Two other types of income had tax treatment that spread or averaged the income over a period of years. Gain realized from lump-sum payment at maturity of endowment or life insurance contracts was spread one-third in the current year and each of the two preceding years if this produced a smaller income tax. An accumulation distribution from a complex trust was thrown back to the tax year in which the income was deemed to have been received by the trust, if this method resulted in a lower income tax to the recipient taxpayer. Regardless of these adjustments, the entire amount of such income reported by the taxpayer was included in the source indicated by him.

Also, the net operating loss deduction has the effect of averaging income over a period of years and of imposing tax on only that part of the current year income which is not offset by losses in the years just preceding or years just subsequent thereto. However, statistics derived from current year returns can reflect only the carryover loss from preceding years that was deducted on the current year returns, which is only a portion of the averaging process.

Itemized Nonbusiness Deductions

Contributions deductible from adjusted gross income were gifts to organizations created in the United States or its possessions, or under our laws, and operated for religious, charitable, scientific, literary, or educational purposes exclusively, or for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals, and gifts to veterans' organizations or to governmental agencies which use the gifts for public purposes. Individuals who were members of a partnership also included their pro rata share of contributions made by their partnerships. Allowed as a contribution for the first time was the cost of maintaining an unrelated, full-time student of the 12th or lower grades in the home of the taxpayer, but only to the extent of $50 multiplied by the number of months the student was maintained in the home. In general, the deduction for contributions could not exceed 20 percent of the adjusted gross income, however, the limitation could be increased to 30 percent, if the extra 10 percent consisted of contributions to churches, convention or association of churches, Salvation Army, tax-exempt educational institutions, tax-exempt hospitals, and certain organizations engaged in continuous medical research in conjunction with hospitals. Under specified conditions, there was an unlimited deduction for contributions.

Interest paid was deductible for interest on personal debts, mortgages, bank loans, and installment purchases of real or personal property, but did not include that paid on money borrowed to buy tax-exempt securities or single premium life insurance and endowment contracts. Interest relating to business, royalties, and rentals was reported in those schedules.

Taxes allowed as a deduction from adjusted gross income included personal property taxes, State income taxes, certain State and local retail sales taxes, State gasoline taxes, automobile license fees, taxes paid to foreign countries or possessions of the United States unless a foreign tax credit was claimed, and real estate taxes except those levied for improvements that tended to increase the value of the property. Federal taxes were not deductible. Taxes paid on business property were reported in schedules for business, rents, and royalties.

Medical and dental expense was allowed as a deduction from adjusted gross income with limitations. Expenditures considered for this deduction were the actual amounts paid during the tax year for health care of the taxpayer, his spouse, dependents, and any other person who could be claimed as a dependent except for the fact that he or she had $600 or more of gross income or filed a joint return with his or her spouse. Such expenses included payments to physicians, surgeons, dentists, nurses, oculists, chiropractors, osteopaths, hospitals, premium paid on health and hospital insurance, cost of x-rays, laboratory fees, diagnoses, therapy treatment, psychiatric care, dentures, crutches, hearing aids, and the like. Any insurance received on account of medical expenses incurred reduced the cost which could be considered as medical expenses actually paid by the taxpayer. Amounts paid for drugs and medicines could be included in medical expenses only to the extent that they exceeded 1 percent of the adjusted gross income.

The deduction allowed for medical expenses and drugs was the amount of such expenses in excess of 3 percent of adjusted gross income, except for certain persons. There were special rules for any taxpayer who was 65 years of age or over, for married couples who filed a joint return if either was 65 or over, and, under the new amendment, dependent parents who were 65 or over. The medical expenses for these people were not limited to the excess of 3 percent of adjusted gross income, but were included in full. However, the limitations on drugs and medicines, and for other dependents' medical expenses remained as above. The deduction in any case could not exceed the maximum limitation for medical deduction.

The maximum deduction allowed was $2,500 multiplied by the number of exemptions other than those for age and blindness, but could not exceed $10,000 for husband and wife filing a joint return, for head of household, or for surviving spouse, nor could it exceed $5,000 for other single persons or for married persons filing separate returns, unless the taxpayer or spouse was disabled.

If the taxpayer was 65 years of age or over and disabled and was head of household, surviving spouse, or other single person, or married but filing a separate return, a maximum deduction not in excess of $15,000 was allowed. On joint returns, if only one spouse was 65 years or over and disabled, the maximum was still $15,000. If both were 65 or over and both disabled, the maximum allowed was $30,000, but not more than $15,000 medical expense for each could be taken.

Other deductions included all other authorized non-business deductions allowed against adjusted gross income not elsewhere reported. These included the limited deduction for cost of child care in the case of employed women and widowers; loss from theft; casualty losses resulting from fire, storm, or other physical forces; and uninsured casualty and theft losses of business property and capital assets held for production of income for more than 6 months. Other items were alimony paid; expenses incurred in the collection of income or for the management, conservation, or maintenance of property held for the production of income subject to tax; taxpayer's share of interest and taxes paid by a cooperative apartment corporation; gambling losses not in excess of winnings reported in income; amortization of bond premium; expenses connected with taxpayer's employment, for example, dues to unions or professional societies, cost of tools and supplies for the job, and fees to employment agencies; allowable expenses of taxpayer in connection with his employer's business which were in excess of the reimbursement deducted from gross salaries; and unreimbursed expense of education undertaken to maintain or improve skills required to perform duties of present employment status.

Exemptions

In computing taxable income, exemptions were allowed for taxpayers and their dependents and additional exemptions were allowed for age 65 or over and for blindness of the taxpayer. The per capita exemption was $600 for the taxpayer, his wife on a joint return, and for each son or daughter (including stepchild and adopted child) who was under 19 years of age, or who was a student regardless of age, if the taxpayer furnished more than half the support. If the child was 19 or over and not a student, exemption was allowed only if the child had less than $600 gross income for the year and the taxpayer met the support test. Per capita exemption of $600 was allowed also for each dependent, listed below, who had less than $600 gross income and who received more than half of his support from the taxpayer. To qualify as a dependent, the individual must have been either a citizen or resident of the United States; a resident of Canada, Mexico, the Republic of Panama, or the Canal Zone; or an alien child adopted by and living with a United States citizen abroad.

Additional exemptions of $600 for age 65 or more and $600 for blindness were allowed for the taxpayer and, if a joint return was filed, the taxpayer's spouse. Such exemptions were not allowed for dependents.

If the income and dependency qualifications and the support test were met, an exemption of $600 was allowed for the following dependents: parent, grandparent, or other direct ancestor; grandson, granddaughter, or other direct descendant; brother, sister, half brother, half sister; stepmother, stepfather, stepsister, stepbrother; mother-in-law, father-in-law, sister-in-law, brother-in-law, son-in-law, daughter-in-law; uncle, aunt, nephew, or niece if related by blood; and any person who lived in the taxpayer's home for the entire year and who was a member of his household, whether or not related to the taxpayer.

The birth or death of a dependent during the year did not eliminate the exclusion for him, if the support and other tests were met for the part of the year during which the dependent lived.

An exception to the support test for a dependent provided that where the individual was supported by several persons, none of whom contributed more than half, any one of the group who had contributed more than 10 percent of the total support could claim the exemption, if each of the others who contributed more than 10 percent declared in writing that he would not claim the exemption for the year.

The number of exemptions and amount claimed, shown in this report, contain exemptions from all returns and include the exemptions automatically allowed through use of the tax table. There is some duplication of exemptions because (a) dependents with less than $600 gross income containing wages subject to income tax withholding filed a return to claim refund of tax, and (b) children dependents under 19 years of age and dependent children students over 19 years, who had gross income of $600 or more filed a return since their income met the filing requirement. Exemptions claimed on returns filed by these dependents are included, as well as exemptions for the same dependents reported on returns of taxpayers rightfully claiming the dependents.

Measures of Individual Income

Adjusted gross income was gross income from all sources that are subject to income tax minus (a) ordinary and necessary expenses of operating a trade or business, (b) deductions attributable to rents and royalties, (c) expenses of outside salesmen attributable to earning salary or other compensation, (d) expenses of travel, meals, and lodging while away from home overnight paid by an employee with respect to services rendered, (e) transportation cost related to the performance of services as an employee, (f) expenses for education required to maintain salary, status, or present employment, (g) expenses paid or incurred in connection with service as an employee under a reimbursed or other expense allowance arrangement with the employer, (h) exclusion of sick pay if the sick pay was included in gross salary, (i) depreciation and depletion allowed life tenants and income beneficiaries of property held in trust, (j) deductible losses from sales of capital assets and other property, (k) deduction equal to 50 percent of the excess of net long-term capital gain over net short-term capital loss, and (l) net operating loss deduction.

Adjusted gross deficit occurred in the event that the deductions allowed for the computation of adjusted gross income, as stated above, exceeded the gross income.

Taxable income was adjusted gross income minus deductions, standard or itemized, and personal exemptions, but the amount shown in this report is only the positive amount upon which the income tax before credits was computed. Whenever taxable income was a negative amount (producing no tax), it was disregarded. This occurred on some, but not all, nontaxable returns.

Taxable income was reported on itemized deduction returns and on standard deduction returns with $5,000 or more adjusted gross income, and transcribed if it was a positive amount. Taxable income was mechanically computed for each return which did not show this item, but disregarded if found to be a negative amount. Returns which did not show taxable income were (1) those with adjusted gross income under $5,000 on which the tax table was used, Forms 1040, 1040W, and 1040A, and (2) those with adjusted gross income of $5,000 under $10,000, Form 1040A, on which the tax was computed by the taxpayer using the standard deduction and regular tax rates in a tax computation schedule that he retained. The taxable income was not required to be transferred to the card-form itself.

Taxable income for taxpayers who employed the tax table was computed by (a) using the midpoint of the income bracket of the tax table into which the taxpayer's adjusted gross income fell as the amount of adjusted gross income, (b) providing a 10 percent standard deduction based on the midpoint, and (c) allowing $600 for each exemption claimed. This formula produced the amount of taxable income upon which the taxpayer's tax was based by way of the tax table.

Taxable income for taxpayers with adjusted gross income of $5,000 under $10,000, Form 1040A, was computed by (a) using the total income reported, (b) deducting 10 percent of the total income as standard deduction but limited to $500 in the case of husband or wife filing a separate return, and (c) allowing $600 for each exemption. This formula provided the amount of taxable income used by the taxpayer in his retained tax computation schedule.

Tax Items

Income tax rates remained unchanged on 1960 individual income, namely, 20 percent of the first $2,000 of taxable income, increasing to 91 percent on taxable income in excess of $200,000 for all persons other than heads of household, in which case the maximum rate applied to taxable income in excess of $300,000. Under the split-income provision, however, the 91 percent rate was effective only on taxable income in excess of $400,000 on joint returns and returns of surviving spouse. In any case, the maximum income tax before tax credits was limited to 87 percent of the taxable income.

Income tax before credits was based on the taxable income and computed at the prescribed rates. It was either the regular combined normal tax and surtax including tax from the tax table, or the alternative tax, before such amounts were reduced by tax credits. It did not include the self-employment tax.

Normal tax and surtax was the regular income tax computed at the combined rates of 3 percent normal tax merged with the graduated surtax rates. Normal tax and surtax, based on taxable income, occurred on all types of returns including those on which the tax was determined from the tax table.

Alternative tax was imposed in those cases where there was an excess of net long-term capital gain over net short-term capital loss, but only if the alternative tax was less than the regular normal tax and surtax. Alternative tax was the sum of (1) a partial tax computed at the regular rates on statutory taxable income reduced by 50 percent of the excess net long-term capital gain over net short-term capital loss and (2) an amount equal to 25 percent of the entire excess long-term gain. Alternative tax was not effective on taxable income under $36,000 reported jointly or by surviving spouse, $24,000 reported by head of household, nor $18,000 reported by other persons on separate returns.

Tax credits for dividends received was allowed against income tax for qualifying domestic dividends included in adjusted gross income. The tax credit was 4 percent of such dividends but could not exceed the smaller of (a) income tax reduced by foreign tax credit, or (b) 4 percent of the taxable income.

Tax credit for retirement income was allowed against the income tax if the taxpayer qualified with respect to earned income in prior years. This tax credit was 20 percent of the retirement income, as defined in the Code, with a maximum credit of $240 for each retiree. However, the credit could not exceed the income tax reduced by the two interest credits, foreign tax credit, and dividends received credit. If eligible, both husband and wife claimed the credit on a joint return.

Tax credit for foreign tax paid was permitted against the income tax only if nonbusiness deductions were itemized and the foreign tax excluded from those deductions. It should be noted that the 1960 data show the foreign tax credit was taken by a small number of taxpayers who did not itemize nonbusiness deductions. The credit related to the income and profits taxes paid to foreign countries or possessions of the United States and included the taxpayer's share of such taxes paid through partnerships and fiduciaries. This tax credit was limited to the same proportion of the income tax before credits as the taxable income from foreign sources bore to the entire taxable income, but could not exceed the amount of foreign tax paid.

Other tax credits against income tax were those for partially tax-exempt interest and for tax paid at source on interest from tax-free covenant bonds, but allowed only if nonbusiness deductions were itemized. Also included was the "throwback tax credit" allowed the recipient of an accumulated distribution from a complex trust, whether claimed on a standard or itemized deduction return.

The partially tax-exempt interest credit, allowed for interest on certain securities of the United States, was 3 percent of the amount of partially exempt interest included in adjusted gross income, reduced by the itemized deduction for amortization of bond premium on the bonds. However, the credit could not exceed the smaller of (a) 3 percent of the taxable income, or (b) income tax reduced by credits for foreign tax paid and for dividends received.

Tax credit was allowed for tax withheld at source on tax-free covenant bond interest. The issuing corporation withheld as tax 2 percent of the total interest earned. The taxpayer also included his share of this tax credit allotted to him through partnerships and fiduciaries.

The throwback tax credit was the recipient's pro rata share of taxes paid by a complex trust in preceding tax years which would not have been payable by the trust had the trust in fact made distributions of income currently to the beneficiaries. Income tax paid on accumulation distributions deemed distributed in prior years was not refunded to the trust but was allowed as a credit against the income tax liability of the recipients. Credit in excess of the total tax was treated as an overpayment and as such was refundable.

Income tax after credits was the income tax liability including that computed for Form 1040W returns, but excluding the self-employment tax. Income tax after credits was the criterion upon which taxable and nontaxable returns were classified. It was after the deduction for income tax credits, but prior to the year-end adjustments for tax withheld from wages and payments on declaration which determined the overpayment or tax due status.

Self-employment tax was reported by each individual who had self-employment income derived from solely owned trade or business and from his share of partnership profits even though these enterprises elected to be taxed as corporations. Under a new amendment to the Code, citizens employed by Foreign Governments or International Organizations were subjected to self-employment tax on salaries for 1960 and subsequent years. Certain types of income and deductions were not allowed in computing self-employment earnings, such as investment income, capital gain or loss, net operating loss deduction, and casualty losses. The maximum amount subject to social security self-employment tax was $4,800, although this maximum amount was reduced by the amount of wages received on which the social security employee tax had been withheld by an employer. No exemption was allowed against the self-employment income subject to tax and no tax credits applied to this tax. The self-employment tax rate for 1960 was 4-1/2 percent. This tax was paid regardless of the taxpayer's age and even though social security benefits were received by the taxpayer.

Tax withheld was the income tax withheld from salaries and wages by employers, but it also included the income tax paid by regulated investment companies on undistributed capital gain and the excess withholding of social security employee tax. These items were considered taxpayments. Income tax withheld by employers from wages subject to income tax withholding was prescribed in withholding tables or was increased by agreement between employer and employee. Income tax on capital gain retained by regulated investment companies was paid by the company and the taxpayer allotted his pro rata share of the tax paid. Excess social security tax is described below. If these taxpayments exceeded the total tax liability, the excess was refundable.

Excess social security tax, reported with tax withheld, was the overwithholding of social security employee tax which occurred in some cases when the employee worked for more than one employer during the year. The employee social security tax rate for 1960 was 3 percent of $4,800 wages, with a maximum of $144 tax. The amount withheld in excess of the maximum was reported with income tax withheld from wages and used by the taxpayer as a payment on total tax liability and to the extent not needed was refundable.

Payments on 1960 declaration of estimated income tax were reported only on Forms 1040 and 1040W and used as taxpayments. Payments on declaration also included the amount of overpayment of 1959 total tax. Whether or not a taxpayer made payments on a declaration depended on the balance of estimated tax due after deducting his (1) estimated income tax to be withheld and (2) prior-year tax overpayment. Many declarations would show the estimated tax to be zero. Others had no balance of estimated tax due after deducting the estimated income tax to be withheld. Still others had a balance of estimated tax due after deducting the estimated income tax to be withheld, but this balance was less than the prior-year tax overpayment. None of these taxpayers made payments on the declaration, although in the last instance, the taxpayer carried his prior-year tax overpayment to his income tax return and, therefore, it is included in the payments on declaration as stated above.

On declarations where a balance of estimated tax due remained after deducting (1) estimated income tax to be withheld and (2) prior-year tax overpayment, the taxpayer made payments on the declaration and reported the amount on his income tax returns together with the prior-year tax overpayment.

Tax due at time of filing was reported on returns where the tax withheld and the payments on declaration (together with other items reported with them) plus the income tax credits were insufficient to cover the total of both the income tax before credits and the self-employment tax. The balance of tax due was paid when the return was filed.

Overpayment of tax occurred when the sum of the income tax credits, the tax withheld, and payments on declaration exceeded the combined income tax before credits and the self-employment tax. Overpayment on Form 1040A gave rise to a refund. On Forms 1040 and 1040W, overpayment could be elected as a refund or a credit on the subsequent year's estimated income tax, or could be requested as part refund and part credit on the estimated tax.

Refund of tax included the portion of overpayment requested as refund by taxpayers filing Forms 1040 and 1040W, and all overpayments on Form 1040A.

Credit on 1961 tax, requested on Forms 1040 and 1040W, was that part of the overpayment of 1960 tax which taxpayers specifically requested be carried to their estimated income tax for 1961.

Retirement Schedule Items

Retiree.--To qualify for the retirement income tax credit, the individual must have received earned income in excess of $600 in each of 10 calendar years (not necessarily consecutive) before the beginning of the tax year in which he claimed this tax credit. A surviving widow or widower who had not remarried could use the earned income of the deceased spouse, or could combine the earned income of the deceased spouse with his earned income, for the purpose of determining this qualification. If husband and wife both qualify and each had retirement income, each could claim credit on a joint return. For statistics, retirees were ascertained, exclusively, from the entries in columns A and B, of a completed schedule K on Form 1040 returns, whether or not a credit was claimed against the income tax. If schedule K was missing for any reason, the retiree(s) could not be included.

Age of retiree.--The location of retirement income reported in schedule K, lines 1(a) and 1(b), indicated the age of each retiree as under 65 years or as 65 or over, respectively. Since the age of retiree was on an individual basis, the age groups do not coincide with the classification of returns with at least one taxpayer age 65 or over.

Retirement income.--If the retiree was under 65 years of age before the close of his tax year, retirement income consisted only of income received from pensions and annuities under a public retirement system established by the United States, a State, a possession of the U.S., a political subdivision thereof, or the District of Columbia, but only to the extent that such income was included in adjusted gross income, that is, the portion subject to income tax.

In case the retiree was age 65 or over before the close of his tax year, retirement income included pensions, annuities, interest, and dividends to the extent included in adjusted gross income, and gross rents less earned income for services rendered in connection with this income. A partner's or beneficiary's share of such income items was also retirement income.

Regardless of the amount of retirement income reported by the retiree, the maximum amount allowed for the computation of the retirement income credit could not exceed $1,200 reduced by the deductions described below.

Deductions from the $1,200 limit.--The maximum of $1,200 retirement income was reduced by (1) nontaxable income from social security monthly payments, railroad retirement pensions, and other tax-exempt pensions and annuities, and (2) earned income (a) in excess of $900 if the retiree was under 65 years of age, or (b) in excess of $1,200 if the retiree was 65 years or older but under 72 years of age.

Base for credit.--The base for tentative tax credit was the smaller of two amounts: (1) the remaining balance of the $1,200 maximum when reduced by the necessary deductions above, or (2) the retirement income reported.

Tentative tax credit.--This was 20 percent of the base for credit, described above. However, there were limitations applying to this tentative credit before it could be used against the income tax.

Tax credit for retirement income.--This credit is described under "Tax Items."

INSTRUCTIONS FOR FORM 1040A

1960

FOR EMPLOYEES WHO EARNED LESS THAN $10,000

Card Form 1040A offers a simple way for employees receiving less than $10,000 total income to file their 1960 U.S. income tax returns.

To use CARD Form 1040A follow these simple steps

- ① Read instructions below. See "Who May Use Form 1040A." If ineligible, use Form 1040W or Form 1040.
- ② Fill out the copy on page 3. If you need help, you can ask questions by phone of any Internal Revenue Service office or come in for assistance.
- ③ Transfer answers from the copy to the card. Keep the copy for your records. If your name and address are already printed and punched on the card form, please use this card as it will permit high-speed machine handling. Correct the name and address, if necessary.

- ④ Sign the card and mail it together with your Withholding Statements (Forms W-2, Copy B) to your District Director of Internal Revenue.

WHO MUST FILE A TAX RETURN.—Every citizen or resident of the United States under 65 who had $600 or more gross income; if 65 or over, $1,200 or more.

WHO MAY USE FORM 1040A.—If your gross income was less than $10,000 and consisted entirely of wages reported on Withholding Statements (Forms W-2) and not more than $200 total of dividends, interest, and other wages not subject to withholding, you may use the card form. A husband and wife may file a joint return if their combined incomes do not exceed these limits.

WHO MAY NOT USE FORM 1040A.—File Form 1040W or Form 1040 instead of Form 1040A if—

- (1) you had income from sources other than or in amounts larger than those stated above,
- (2) either husband or wife itemizes deductions,
- (3) you claim the tax status of head of household or surviving husband or wife,
- (4) you claim dividends received credit or retirement income credit,
- (5) you claim an exclusion for "Sick Pay" paid directly to you by your employer and this amount is included in the total wages shown on your Form W-2,
- (6) you claim deductions for travel, transportation, or "outside salesman" expense (however, see instruction 8, page 2),
- (7) you claim credit for payments on estimated tax or an overpayment from 1959,
- (8) you are a nonresident alien (file Form 1040B, Form 1040NB, or Form 1040NB-a).

WHEN TO FILE.—Please file as early as possible on or after January 1, 1961, but not later than April 15, 1961.

WHERE TO FILE.—With the District Director of Internal Revenue for your district.

WHERE TO GET FORMS.—If you need a Form 1040W or Form 1040, you can get one from any Internal Revenue office, and from most banks and post offices. Your employer will furnish you with a Withholding Statement (Form W-2).

HOW TO PAY.—Checks or money orders should be made payable to "Internal Revenue Service." You need not pay a balance of tax due of less than $1.00, and a refund of less than $1.00 will not be made unless you apply for it.

SIGNATURE.—You have not filed a valid return unless you sign it. Both husband and wife must sign a joint return.

COMPUTATION OF TAX ON FORM 1040A:

(1) If your income was less than $5,000.—You may figure your own tax from the Tax Table on page 4, or you may have the Internal Revenue Service do it for you.

The Tax Table allows about 10% of your income as deductions which include charitable contributions, interest, taxes, losses, medical expenses, child care expenses, and certain miscellaneous deductions. If your deductions exceed 10% of your income, it will be to your advantage to use Form 1040W or Form 1040 and itemize them.

(2) If your income was $5,000 or more and less than $10,000.—You must use the standard deduction and compute your own tax. A tax computation schedule is provided on page 3 to make this computation.

MARRIED COUPLE:

(1) How to compute tax.—A husband and wife may file a joint return even though one had no income. To assure any benefits of the split-income provisions, they must file a joint return. Both husband and wife must sign a joint return. If your income was under $5,000 and you choose to have the Internal Revenue Service figure your tax, it will be computed on the combined incomes or on the separate incomes, whichever results in the smaller tax or larger refund. If you figure your own tax, be sure to make both computations and enter the smaller tax or larger refund on your return.

(2) How to prepare a joint return.—In a joint return you must include all income of both husband and wife. In the return heading, list both names and middle initials (for example: "John F. and Mary L. Doe"). Both must sign the return. A joint return may not be filed if either husband or wife was a nonresident alien at any time during the taxable year.

(3) How to prepare a separate return.—In a separate return each must report his or her separate income and fill in a separate form. The "split income" provisions of the Federal tax law do not apply to separate returns of husband and wife.

DO YOU OWE A TAX BALANCE?—Under the pay-as-you-go system, your withholding tax and your final income tax should come out about even. This benefits both you and your Government. If you owe a balance on your 1960 return, you should consider changing your Withholding Exemption Certificate (Form W-4) or asking your employer to agree to a plan of additional withholding.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PREPARING FRONT OF FORM 1040A

① If you are married and are filing a joint return as husband and wife, be sure to enter the first names and middle initials of yourself and your wife. For example: John F. and Mary L. Doe.

② ③ ④ Enter your social security number and your wife's social security number even though she files a separate return and answer the questions.

⑤ Fill in the information from each of your 1960 Withholding Statements, Forms W-2. If both husband and wife had wages, write "W" before name of each of wife's employers. If you had more than three employers, list the information on Form 2836 or on a separate statement, using the headings for item 5 and show the total of this statement in item 5. If you have lost a Withholding Statement, ask your employer for a new one. If you cannot furnish a statement, attach an explanation.

TWO OR MORE EMPLOYERS.—If a total of more than $144.00 of social security (F. I. C. A.) tax was withheld from the wages of either you or your wife because one or both of you worked for more than one employer, you may claim the excess over $144.00 as a credit against your income tax. For a joint return, figure the credit separately for husband and wife as follows:

a. Add up the social security (F. I. C. A.) tax withheld by all your employers from your wages in 1960.

b. Subtract $144.00.

c. Enter the balance in the "Federal Income Tax Withheld" column of item 5 and write "F. I. C. A. tax" in the "Where Employed" column.

⑥ INTEREST, DIVIDENDS, AND OTHER WAGES.—

Enter all other taxable income from interest, dividends, and wages not subject to withholding. Read the following instructions before completing this line—

a. INTEREST.—Taxable income from interest means all interest actually received or credited to your account. "Credited to your account" means that a bank, savings and loan association, etc., has added interest earnings to your account.

b. DIVIDENDS.—Taxable income from dividends means all dividends received except the first $50 received from domestic corporations. This exclusion does not apply to so-called dividends received from mutual savings banks or saving (building) and loan associations on deposits or withdrawable accounts. If a joint return is filed and both husband and wife had dividend income, each is entitled at most to a $50 exclusion and one may not use any portion of the $50 exclusion not used by the other. For example, if the husband had $200 in dividends, and the wife had $20, only $70 may be excluded on a joint return.

c. WAGES NOT SUBJECT TO WITHHOLDING.—

Enter all wages not included in item 5 whether or not you have received a Form W-2. An example of these wages are those paid to part-time workers on which the employer is not required to withhold income tax.

If the total of item 6 exceeds $200, file a Form 1040.

⑦ Enter total of Federal income tax withheld and excess social security (F. I. C. A.) tax credit, if any.

⑧ REIMBURSED EMPLOYEE EXPENSES

If you account to your employer for business expenses (or when you travel on business he gives you a flat allowance for subsistence and mileage of not more than $15.00 per day and 12½ cents per mile), and he pays for them (either by advances or reimbursements or by allowing you to use a charge account), you may file Form 1040A without showing these amounts by simply checking the box in item 8 ☒ on the front of Form 1040A. However, if your employer's payments are more than your expenses, you may not use Form 1040A; you must use Form 1040W or Form 1040.

⑨ ⑩ ⑪ ⑫ Computation of tax liability.

a. If your income was less than $5,000.—You may figure your own tax from the Tax Table on page 4, or you may have the Internal Revenue Service do it for you. If you figure your own tax, complete items 10, and 11 or 12. If you have the Service figure your tax, you will be sent a bill for the balance due or a check for the refund.

b. If your income was $5,000 or more and less than $10,000.—You must compute your own tax and use the standard deduction of 10%. (If your itemized deductions are in excess of 10% of your total income, it will be to your advantage to use Form 1040W or Form 1040.) See page 3 for computation schedule.

Enter the tax liability from line 6 of the tax computation schedule as item 10 of Form 1040A. Keep the tax computation schedule for your records; do not attach it to your return. The Internal Revenue Service will verify the tax computation and adjust for any errors.

Any balance of tax shown to be due on item 11 must be paid in full when you file your return if $1.00 or more.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PREPARING BACK OF FORM 1040A

⑬ Fill in this item to receive credit for your exemptions and for those of your wife. A taxpayer cannot claim his wife (husband) as an exemption if the wife (husband) filed a separate return for any purpose (for example, to obtain a refund of income tax withheld). Age and blindness are determined as of December 31, 1960.

MARITAL STATUS.—If married at the close of your taxable year, you are considered married for the entire year. If divorced or legally separated on or before the close of your year, you are considered single for the entire year. If your wife or husband died during the year, you are considered married for the year, and may file a joint return.

⑭ Fill in this schedule to receive credit for exemptions for your children, stepchildren, and other dependents. Each dependent must meet all of the following tests:

a. Received more than one-half of his or her support from you (or from wife or husband if a joint return is filed). Support includes all amounts used for the dependent's support whether contributed by the dependent or by others and whether such amounts are taxable income or nontaxable income such as social security, gifts, savings, etc.

b. Received less than $600 gross income. (This test does not apply to your children or stepchildren who are under 19 or who are students for 5 calendar months of the year; however, you must provide over one-half of the child's support.)

c. Did not file a joint return with her husband (or his wife).

d. Was either a citizen or resident of the United States or a resident of Canada, Mexico, the Republic of Panama, or the Canal Zone. (An alien child legally adopted by and living with a United States citizen abroad also qualifies as a citizen of the United States for this purpose.)

e. EITHER (1) for the entire year 1960 had your home as his principal place of abode and was a member of your household; OR (2) was related to you (or to husband or wife if a joint return is filed) in one of the following ways:

Child*	Sister	Mother-in-law	The following if related by blood:
Stepchild	Grandchild	Father-in-law
Mother	Stepbrother	Brother-in-law
Father	Stepsister	Sister-in-law
Grandparent	Stepmother	Son-in-law
Brother	Stepfather	Daughter-in-law
			Aunt Nephew Niece

*Includes a child who is a member of your household if placed with you by an authorized placement agency for legal adoption.

HOW TO PREPARE

Form 1040 W

OPTIONAL FEDERAL INDIVIDUAL INCOME TAX RETURN FOR 1960

OPTIONAL FORM 1040 W

This is a streamlined version of the regular Form 1040. It will be most helpful for wage and salary earners who can't use Form 1040 A because they wish to itemize deductions, claim the "sick pay" exclusion or estimated tax payments, or have $10,000 or over of income, etc. You can use this form if:

1. Your income consists of salary and wages regardless of amount, AND
2. Not more than $200 of dividends and interest, AND
3. No other items of income.

If you don't meet these requirements, you must file Form 1040 which may be obtained from any Internal Revenue Service office and from most banks and post offices.

You should be able to prepare your return with the assistance of the information contained in this pamphlet. The instructions are arranged in the same order as the lines and pages of Form 1040 W.

The final date for filing your return is April 15, but taxpayers who wait until the last minute often make costly mistakes. It is especially important that you check to see that you have reported all of your income, including not only salary and wages but also income from dividends and interest. If you have other types of income, use Form 1040.

If you need help from the Internal Revenue Service, you can ask questions by phone of our nearest office or come in for other assistance.

INSTRUCTIONS—FORM 1040 W (1960)

GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS

WHO MUST FILE A TAX RETURN

Every citizen or resident of the United States—whether an adult or minor—who had $600 or more gross income in 1960 must file; if 65 or over, $1,200 or more. To determine whether you must file, include earned income from sources without the United States, even though not taxable. A person with income of less than these amounts should file a return to get a refund if tax was withheld. A married person with income less than her (his) own personal exemption(s) should file a joint return with husband or wife to get the smaller tax or larger refund for the couple.

MEMBERS OF ARMED FORCES

Members of Armed Forces should give name, service serial number, and permanent home address.

WHEN AND WHERE TO FILE

Please file as early as possible. You must file not later than April 15. Mail your return to the "District Director of Internal Revenue" for the district in which you live. U.S. citizens abroad who have no legal residence or place of business in the United States should file with Director of International Operations, Internal Revenue Service, Washington 25, D.C. A list of the District Directors' offices is set out below.

HOW TO PAY

The balance of tax shown to be due on line 13, page 1, of your return on Form 1040 W must be paid in full with your return if it amounts to $1.00 or more. Checks or money orders should be made payable to "Internal Revenue Service."

SIGNATURE AND VERIFICATION

You have not filed a valid return unless you sign it. Husband and wife both must sign a joint return.

Any person(s), firm, or corporation who prepares a taxpayer's return for compensation also must sign. If the return is prepared by a firm or corporation, the return should be signed in the name of the firm or corporation. This verification is not required if the return is prepared by a regular, full-time employee of the taxpayer such as a clerk, secretary, bookkeeper, etc.

YOUR RIGHTS OF APPEAL

If you believe there is an error in any bill, statement, or refund in connection with your tax, you are entitled to have the matter reconsidered by the office of the District Director. You will be given an opportunity to discuss any change in your tax which is proposed, and you will be advised of further appeal rights if you cannot reach an agreement.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PAGE 1 OF FORM 1040 W

How to prepare a joint return.—In a joint return you must include all income of both husband and wife. In the return heading, list both names and middle initials (for example: "John F. and Mary L. Doe"). Both must sign the return. A joint return may not be filed if either husband or wife was a nonresident alien at any time during the taxable year.

How to prepare a separate return.—In a separate return each must report his or her separate income and fill in a separate form. The "split income" provisions of the Federal tax law do not apply to separate returns of husband and wife.

Line 1, Column (a)—Wages, etc.—Enter in line 1, column (a), the full amount of your wages, salaries, fees, commissions, tips, bonuses, and other payments for your personal services even though taxes and other amounts have been withheld by your employer. If more space is needed attach a separate statement or Form 2836.

Line 1, Column (b)—Federal Income Tax Withheld.—Itemize the taxes withheld in column (b) and report the total amount on line 2, column (b) and on line 12(a). If you have lost a Withholding Statement, ask your employer for a copy. If you cannot furnish Withholding Statements for all Federal income taxes withheld from you, attach an explanation.

Excess Social Security (F.I.C.A.) Tax Credit.—If more than $144.00 of Social Security (F.I.C.A.) employee tax was withheld during 1960 because either you or your wife received wages from more than one employer, the excess should be claimed as a credit against income tax. Enter any excess of Social Security (F.I.C.A.) tax withheld over $144.00 on line 1, column (b), the "Income Tax Withheld" column, and write "F.I.C.A. tax" in the "Where Employed" column. If a joint return, do not add the Social Security (F.I.C.A.) tax withheld from both husband and wife to figure the excess over $144.00; compute the credit separately.

Employee Business Expenses.—There are special rules regarding the treatment of certain expenses incurred by an employee in connection with his employment, amounts charged to his employer, and any advances, allowances, or reimbursements he receives for such expenses.

Part I. Employee Business Expenses Which Are Deductible

A. Travel, transportation, and outside salesmen expenses:

You may deduct these expenses from the amounts you are required to report on line 1, page 1, to the extent they are not paid by your employer. See Part II for reporting requirements. Travel, transportation, and outside salesmen expenses mean:

(1) Travel and transportation.—You can deduct the costs of bus, taxi, plane, etc., fares or the cost of operating an automobile in connection with your duties as an employee. However, the cost of commuting between your residence and your principal place of employment is a personal expense and is not deductible.

(2) Meals and lodging.—If you are temporarily away on business, at least overnight from the city, town, or other general area which constitutes your principal or regular business location, you can deduct meals and lodging in addition to the travel costs.

(3) Outside salesmen.—If you are an "outside salesman," you may also deduct other expenses which are ordinary and necessary in performing your duties, such as business entertainment, stationery, and postage. An "outside salesman" is one who is engaged in full-time solicitation of business for his employer away from the employer's place of business. It does not include a person whose principal activities consist of service and delivery as, for example, a milk driver-salesman.

B. Other employee business expenses:

If you itemize deductions on page 2 of your return, you may deduct (under the heading "Other Deductions") business expenses, other than those described in "A" above. Examples of such expenses are entertainment, professional and union dues, and the cost of tools, materials, etc., which are not paid for by your employer.

Part II. Reporting Employee Business Expenses on Form 1040 W

(See Part III for supporting information to be submitted with your return.)

After answering the questions on page 1 of Form 1040 W, report the expenses and employer payments as follows:

(1) If employer's payments equaled business expenses.—No further entry is required on the form.

(2) If employer's payments exceeded business expenses.—The excess amounts and the amount of any personal expenses paid by your employer must be included in income on line 1, page 1, of Form 1040 W, and must be identified as "Excess Reimbursements."

(3) If expenses exceeded employer's payments or if the employer did not pay for the expenses.—The excess of the expenses over the employer payments or the unreimbursed expenses may be claimed as deductions as explained in Part I. Be sure to separate the expenses into those relating to line 1, page 1 of the form, and those that are to be deducted only if you itemize deductions on page 2 of the form. You may use Form 2106 for this purpose.

Part III. Additional Information To Be Submitted With Return

A. The following information must be submitted with your return, except as explained in B and C below:

(1) The total of all amounts received from or charged to your employer for business expenses,

(2) The amount of your business expenses broken down into such broad categories as transportation, meals and lodging while away from home overnight, entertainment expenses, and other business expenses, and

(3) The number of days away from home on business.

B. If you were required to and did submit an expense voucher or other accounting to your employer which contained the above information, you need not submit the information with your return unless you are claiming deductions for expenses that exceed employer payments.

C. If you received per diem, in lieu of subsistence, of not more than $15 per day, or a mileage allowance of not more than 12½ cents per mile for travel within the continental limits of the United States, you need only submit the information set forth in A, above, if you are claiming deductions for expenses that exceed employer payments.

Line 3—Exclusion for "Sick Pay".—The law allows you to exclude from income amounts received under a wage continuation plan for the period during which you were absent from work on account of personal injuries or sickness. If both you and your employer contribute to the plan, any benefits attributable to your own contributions are excludable without limit.

The employer-provided wage continuation payments can be excluded at a rate not to exceed $100 a week. In cases where these payments exceed a weekly rate of $100, the exclusion is figured by multiplying the amount received by 100 and dividing the result by the weekly rate of payment.

If your absence is due to sickness, the exclusion of employer-provided wage continuation payments does not apply to the amounts received for the first 7 calendar days of each absence from work. However, if you were (a) hospitalized on account of sickness for at least 1 day at any time during the absence from work, or (b) injured, the exclusion applies from the first day of absence.

If you received "sick pay" and it is included in your gross wages as shown on Form W-2, enter the gross wages on line 1, and enter on line 3 the amount of such wages to be excluded. In addition, attach Form 2440 or a statement showing your computation, and indicating the period or periods of absence, nature of sickness or injury, and whether hospitalized. Form 2440 may be obtained from any Internal Revenue Service office.

Line 5—Dividends and Interest.—Enter all other taxable income from dividends and interest. Be sure to read the following instructions before completing this line—

Line 5(a)—DIVIDENDS.—Enter the total amount of dividends received, the amount of your exclusion, and the net amount of dividends. You are entitled to an exclusion of the first $50 received from domestic corporations. This exclusion does not apply to so-called dividends received from mutual savings banks or savings (building) and loan associations on deposits or withdrawable accounts. If a joint return is filed and both husband and wife had dividend income, each is entitled at most to a $50 exclusion and one may not use any portion of the $50 exclusion not used by the other. For example, if the husband had $200 in dividends, and the wife had $20, only $70 may be excluded on a joint return.

Line 5(b)—INTEREST.—Enter all interest actually received or credited to your account. "Credited to your account" means that a bank, savings and loan association, etc., had added interest earnings to your account.

If the total of line 5 exceeds $200, you must file a Form 1040.

SPECIAL COMPUTATIONS

Unmarried Head of Household.—The law provides a special tax rate for any individual who qualifies as a "Head of Household." Only the following persons may qualify: (a) one who is unmarried (or legally separated) at the end of the taxable year, or (b) one who is married at the end of the year to an individual who was a nonresident alien at any time during the taxable year. In addition, you must have furnished over half of the cost of maintaining as your home a household which during the entire year, except for temporary absence, was occupied as the principal place of abode and as a member of such household by (1) any related person (see those listed under "Line 2," paragraph (e) on page 5 of these instructions) for whom you are entitled to a deduction for an exemption, unless the deduction arises from a multiple support agreement, (2) your unmarried child, grandchild, or stepchild, even though such child is not a dependent or (3) your married child, grandchild, or stepchild for whom you are entitled to a deduction for an exemption.

If you qualify under (a) or (b) above, you are entitled to the special tax rate if you pay more than half the cost of maintaining a household (not necessarily your home) which is the principal place of abode of your father or mother and who qualifies as your dependent.

The rates for Head of Household are found in tax rate Schedule III on page 7 of these instructions.

Widows and Widowers.—Under certain conditions a taxpayer whose husband (or wife) has died during either of her two preceding taxable years may compute her tax by including only her income, exemptions, and deductions, but otherwise computing the tax as if a joint return had been filed. However, the exemption for the decedent may be claimed only for the year of death.

The conditions are that the taxpayer (a) must not have remarried, (b) must maintain as her home a household which is the principal place of abode of her child or stepchild for whom she is entitled to a deduction for an exemption, and (c) must have been entitled to file a joint return with her husband (or wife) for the year of death.

USE OF TAX TABLE ON PAGE 8 OF THESE INSTRUCTIONS

Purpose of Table.—The table is a short-cut method of finding your income tax if your income, line 6, page 1, of your return is less than $5,000. It is provided by law and saves you the trouble of itemizing deductions and computing your tax. The table allows for an exemption of $600 for each person claimed as an exemption, and charitable contributions, interest, taxes, etc., approximating 10 percent of your income.

LINE 12(b)—CREDIT FOR ESTIMATED TAX PAYMENTS

If you paid any estimated tax on a Declaration of Estimated Income Tax (Form 1040-ES) for 1960, report the total of such payments on line 12(b). If on your 1959 return you had an overpayment which you chose to apply as a credit on your 1960 tax, include the credit in this total. Also see filing requirements for 1961 declaration of estimated tax.

LINE 12(c)—DIVIDENDS RECEIVED CREDIT

The law provides a credit against tax for dividends received from qualifying domestic corporations. This credit is equal to 4 percent of such dividends in excess of those which you may exclude from your gross income. The credit may not exceed the lesser of:

- (a) the total income tax reduced by the foreign tax credit; or
- (b) 4 percent of the taxable income. (If tax is computed, taxable income is the amount on line 10, page 1. If the Tax Table is used, it is the amount on line 6, page 1, less (a) 10 percent thereof, and (b) the number of exemptions on line 3 of Schedule A multiplied by $600.)

LINES 13 AND 14—BALANCE OF TAX DUE OR REFUND OF OVERPAYMENT

Show on line 13 any balance you owe, or on line 14 the amount of any overpayment due you, after taking credit for the amounts entered on line 12. In the case of a refund, be sure to use the correct post office address designation on your return so that the refund check will not be returned as undeliverable by the Post Office.

In order to facilitate the processing of collections and refunds, balances due of less than $1.00 need not be paid, and overpayments of less than $1.00 will be refunded only upon separate application to your District Director.

1961 DECLARATIONS OF ESTIMATED TAX

Who Must File.—For many taxpayers the withholding tax on wages is not sufficient to keep them paid up on their income tax. In general, the law requires every citizen or resident of the United States to file a Declaration of Estimated Income Tax, Form 1040-ES, and to make quarterly payments in advance of filing the annual income tax return if his total expected tax exceeds his withholding (if any) by $40 or more. The specific rules require that a declaration must be filed if:

(a) his gross income can reasonably be expected to consist of wages subject to withholding and of not more than $200 from other sources, and to exceed—

(1) $10,000 for a head of a household or a widow or widower entitled to the special tax rates;

(2) $5,000 for other single individuals;

(3) $5,000 for a married individual not entitled to file a joint declaration;

(4) $5,000 for a married individual entitled to file a joint declaration, and the combined income of both husband and wife can reasonably be expected to exceed $10,000; OR

(b) his gross income can reasonably be expected to include more than $200 from sources other than wages subject to withholding.

However, no declaration is required if the estimated tax (line 3 of Form 1040-ES) can reasonably be expected to be less than $40.

If you are required to file, obtain the form from any Internal Revenue Service office in time to file by April 15, 1961. Farmers may postpone filing their 1961 declarations until Jan. 15, 1962.

Additional Charge for Underpayment of Estimated Tax.—It is important that you estimate your tax carefully, because there is an additional charge imposed by law for underpayment of any installment of estimated tax. The additional charge is explained on Form 1040-ES and on Form 2210. If you had an underpayment and believe one of the exceptions applies, attach a statement or Form 2210 to your return.

SCHEDULE A.—Exemptions

Line 1.—List your exemptions and those of your wife. You cannot claim an exemption for your wife if she files a separate return. Age and blindness are determined as of December 31, 1960.

MARITAL STATUS.—If married at the close of your taxable year, you are considered married for the entire year. If divorced or legally separated on or before the close of your year, you are considered single for the entire year. If your wife or husband died during the year, you are considered married for the entire year, and may file a joint return.

Line 2.—Fill in this line to receive credit for exemptions for your children, stepchildren, and other dependents. Each dependent must meet all of the following tests:

(a) Received more than one-half of his or her support from you (or from wife or husband if a joint return is filed).

(b) Received less than $600 gross income. (This test does not apply to your children or stepchildren who are under 19 or who are students for 5 calendar months of the year;

however, you must still provide over one-half of the child's support.)

(c) Did not file a joint return with her husband (or his wife).

(d) Was either a citizen or resident of the United States or a resident of Canada, Mexico, the Republic of Panama, or the Canal Zone; or was an alien child legally adopted by and living with a United States citizen abroad.

(e) EITHER (1) for the entire year 1960 had your home as his principal place of abode and was a member of your household; OR (2) was related to you (or to husband or wife if a joint return is filed) in one of the following ways:

Child*	Stepbrother	Son-in-law
Stepchild	Stepsister	Daughter-in-law
Mother	Stepmother	The following if related by blood:
Father	Stepfather
Grandparent	Mother-in-law	Uncle
Brother	Father-in-law	Aunt
Sister	Brother-in-law	Nephew
Grandchild	Sister-in-law	Niece

*Includes a child who is a member of your household if placed with you by an authorized placement agency for legal adoption.

Definition of Support.—Support includes the cost of food, shelter, clothing, medical and dental care, education, and the like. If the item of support furnished is in the form of property or lodging, it will be necessary to measure the amount of such item of support in terms of its fair market value. In determining the total support include amounts contributed by the dependent or others for his support and also amounts ordinarily excludable from gross income. Disregard scholarships.

Definition of Student.—The law defines a student as an individual who, during each of 5 calendar months during the year, is (a) a full-time student at an educational institution or (b) pursuing a full-time course of institutional on-farm training under the supervision of an accredited agent of an educational institution or of a State, or a political subdivision of a State.

Returns for Children under 19 and Students.—If your dependent child is under 19 or is a student and has taxable income of $600 or more, he must file a return, report the income, and claim his own exemption. If you provide over half of your child's support and meet the other tests for claiming a dependent, you may also claim the exemption.

Birth or Death of a Dependent.—You can claim a full $600 exemption for a dependent who was born or died during the year if the tests for claiming an exemption for such dependent are met for the part of the year during which he was alive.

Exemptions for Individuals Supported by More than One Taxpayer.—If several persons contributed toward the support of an individual during the taxable year, but none contributed over half of the support, they may designate one of their number to claim the exemption if:

(a) They as a group have provided over half of the support of the individual; and

(b) Each of them, had he contributed over half of the support, would have been entitled to claim the individual as a dependent; and

(c) The person claiming the exemption for the individual contributed over 10 percent of the support; and

(d) Each other person in the group who contributed over 10 percent of the individual's support makes a declaration which must be filed with your return that he will not claim the individual as a dependent for the year. Form 2120, Multiple Support Declaration, is available at any Internal Revenue Service office.

SCHEDULE B.—For Itemizing Deductions—If you do not use Tax Table or take the Standard Deduction.

CONTRIBUTIONS

If you itemize deductions, you can deduct gifts to religious, charitable, educational, scientific, or literary organizations and organizations for the prevention of cruelty to children and animals, unless the organization is operated for personal profit, or conducts propaganda or otherwise attempts to influence legislation. You can deduct gifts to fraternal organizations if they are to be used for charitable, religious, etc., purposes. You can also deduct gifts to veterans' organizations, or to a governmental agency which will use the gifts for public purposes.

The law does not allow deductions for gifts to individuals, or to other types of organizations, however worthy.

In general, the deduction for contributions may not exceed 20 percent of line 6, page 1. However, you may increase this limitation to 30 percent if the extra 10 percent consists of contributions made to churches, a convention or association of churches, tax-exempt educational institutions, tax-exempt hospitals, or certain medical research organizations.

If you support a student in your home under a written agreement with a charitable or educational institution, you may be entitled to deduct as a contribution a part or all of your expenses. Consult the nearest Internal Revenue Service office for details.

INTEREST

If you itemize deductions, you can deduct interest you paid on your personal debts, such as bank loans or home mortgages. Interest paid on behalf of another person is not deductible unless you were legally liable to pay it. In figuring the interest paid on a mortgage on your home, eliminate such items as carrying charges and insurance, which are not deductible, and taxes which may be deductible but which should be itemized separately.

The law allows a deduction for interest paid for purchasing personal property (such as automobiles, radios, etc.) on the installment plan even where the interest charges are not separately stated from other carrying charges. If it is not stated separately, this deduction is equal to 6 percent of the average unpaid monthly balance under the contract. Compute the average unpaid monthly balance by adding up the unpaid balance at the beginning of each month during the year and dividing by 12. The unpaid balance at the beginning of each month is determined by taking into account the amounts required to be paid under the contract whether or not such amounts are actually paid. The interest deduction may not exceed the portion of the total carrying charges attributable to the taxable year.

TAXES

If you itemize deductions, you can deduct most non-Federal taxes paid by you. You can deduct State or local retail sales taxes if under the laws of your State they are imposed directly upon the consumer, or if they are imposed on the retailer (or wholesaler in case of gasoline taxes) and the amount of the tax is separately stated by the retailer to the consumer. In general, you cannot deduct taxes assessed for pavements or other local improvements, including front-foot benefits, which tend to increase the value of your property. Consult your Internal Revenue Service office for circumstances under which local improvement taxes may be deducted.

MEDICAL AND DENTAL EXPENSES

If you itemize deductions, you can deduct, within the limits described below, the amount you paid during the year (not compensated by hospital, health or accident insurance) for medical or dental expenses for yourself, your wife, or any dependent who received over half of his support from you whether or not the dependent had gross income of $600 or more. List name and amount paid to each person.

You can deduct amounts paid for the prevention, cure, correction, or treatment of a physical or mental defect or illness. If you pay someone to perform both nursing and domestic duties, you can deduct only that part of the cost which is for nursing.

You can deduct the cost of transportation primarily for and essential to medical care, but you cannot deduct any other travel expense even if it benefits your health. Meals and lodging while you are away from home receiving medical treatment may not be treated as medical expenses unless they are part of a hospital bill or are included in the cost of care in a similar institution.

FIGURING THE DEDUCTION

(A) General Rule:

(1) Medical and dental expenses.—You can deduct that portion of your medical and dental expenses which exceed 3 percent of line 6, page 1, of Form 1040 W and which were paid for: (a) the taxpayer, wife, dependent parent(s), all of whom were under 65 years of age, and (b) all other dependents regardless of age.

(2) Medicine and drugs.—The total amount paid for medicine and drugs for the persons listed above must first be reduced by 1 percent of line 6, page 1, Form 1040 W. The excess is then added to medical and dental expenses and further reduced by 3 percent as explained above.

(B) Special Rule for Certain Taxpayers 65 or over:

If either you, your wife (if a separate return is not filed), or a dependent parent of either of you is 65 years old or over, you may be entitled to a larger medical expense deduction. In these cases, that part of your medical expense deduction which is attributable to the 65-or-over individuals is not reduced by 3 percent of your adjusted gross income. A schedule, Form 2948, is available in any Internal Revenue Service office to assist you to make this computation.

Limitations.—The deduction on line 7 of the medical schedule may not exceed $2,500 multiplied by the number of exemptions other than the exemptions for age and blindness. In addition, there is a maximum limitation as follows:

(a) $5,000 if the taxpayer is single and not a head of household or a widow or widower entitled to the special tax rates;

(b) $5,000 if the taxpayer is married but files a separate return; or

(c) $10,000 if the taxpayer files a joint return, or is the head of household or a widow or widower entitled to the special tax rates.

If either you or your wife were 65 or over and in addition were disabled, you may also qualify for a higher limitation. Consult the nearest Internal Revenue Service office for further information.

OTHER DEDUCTIONS

Expenses for the Care of Children and Certain Other Dependents.—There is allowed a deduction not to exceed a total of $600 for expenses paid by a woman or a widower (including men who are divorced or legally separated under a decree and who have not remarried) for the care of one or more dependents if such care is to enable the taxpayer to be gainfully employed or actively to seek gainful employment. For this purpose, the term "dependent" does not include the husband (wife) of the taxpayer and is limited to the following persons for whom the taxpayer is entitled to a deduction for an exemption:

- (a) under 12 years of age; or
- (b) physically or mentally incapable of caring for themselves.

Do not deduct any child-care payments to a person for whom you claim an exemption.

In the case of a woman who is married, the deduction is allowed only (a) if she files a joint return with her husband; and (b) the deduction is reduced by the amount (if any) by which their combined incomes as shown on line 6, page 1, of their returns exceeds $4,500. If the husband is incapable of self-support because he is mentally or physically defective, these two limitations do not apply.

If the person who receives the payment performs duties not related to dependent care, only that part of the payment which is for the dependent's care may be deducted.

If you claim this deduction, attach a detailed statement showing the amount expended and the person or persons to whom it was paid. If you wish, you may obtain Form 2441 from any Internal Revenue Service office for this purpose.

Casualty Losses and Thefts.—If you itemize deductions, you can deduct your net loss resulting from the destruction of your property in a fire, storm, automobile accident, shipwreck, or other losses caused by natural forces. Damage to your car by collision or accident can be deducted if due merely to faulty driving but cannot be deducted if due to your willful act or negligence. You can also deduct in the year of discovery losses due to theft, but not losses due to mislaying or losing articles.

The amount of loss to be deducted is measured by the fair market value of the property just before the casualty less its fair market value immediately after the casualty (but not more than the cost or other adjusted basis of the property), reduced by any insurance or compensation received. Explain in an attached statement.

Expenses for Education.—Expenses for education may be deducted if the education was undertaken primarily for the purpose of:

(a) Maintaining or improving skills required in your employment or other trade or business, or

(b) Meeting the express requirements of your employer, or the requirements of applicable law or regulations, imposed as a condition to the retention of your salary, status, or employment.

Expenses incurred for the purpose of obtaining a new position, a substantial advancement in position, or for personal purposes are not deductible. The expenses incurred in preparing for a trade or business or a specialty are personal expenses and are not deductible.

The rules for reporting deductible education expenses are the same as those shown on page 3 for the reporting of "Employee Business Expenses." If you are required therein to attach a statement to your return explaining the nature of the expenses, also include a description of the relationship of the education to your employment or trade or business. If the education was required by your employer, a statement to that effect from him would be helpful.

Miscellaneous.—If you itemize deductions, you can deduct several other types of expenses under "Other Deductions."

If you are divorced or legally separated and are making periodic payments of alimony or separate maintenance under a court decree, you can deduct the amounts specified in the decree or agreement. Periodic payments made under either (a) a written separation agreement entered into after August 16, 1954, or (b) a decree for support entered after March 1, 1954, are also deductible. Such payments must be included in the wife's income. You cannot deduct lump-sum settlements, or specific maintenance payments for support of minor children.

You may deduct gambling losses to the extent of gambling winnings only if you itemize deductions.

If you are a tenant-stockholder in a cooperative housing corporation, you can deduct your share of its payments for interest and real-estate taxes.

If you do not use the Tax Table on page 8, then figure your tax on amount on line 10, page 1 of your return, by using appropriate tax rate schedule on this page.

OTHER CREDITS—If you claim credit for foreign income taxes, partially tax exempt interest, or tax paid at source on tax-free covenant bond interest, consult the nearest Internal Revenue Service Office on how to report them.

GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS

WHO MUST FILE A TAX RETURN

Every citizen or resident of the United States—whether an adult or minor—who had $600 or more gross income in 1960 must file; if 65 or over, $1,200 or more. To determine whether you must file, include earned income from sources without the United States, even though not taxable (see page 5). A person with income of less than these amounts should file a return to get a refund if tax was withheld. A married person with income less than her (his) own personal exemption(s) should file a joint return with husband or wife to get the smaller tax or larger refund for the couple. For self-employment tax filing requirements, see page 8 of these instructions.

MEMBERS OF ARMED FORCES

Members of Armed Forces should give name, service serial number, and permanent home address.

WHEN AND WHERE TO FILE

Please file as early as possible. You must file not later than April 15. Mail your return to the "District Director of Internal Revenue" for the district in which you live. U.S. citizens abroad who have no legal residence or place of business in the United States should file with Director of International Operations, Internal Revenue Service, Washington 25, D.C. A list of the District Directors' offices is set out below.

WHERE TO GET FORMS

As far as practical, the forms are mailed directly to taxpayers. Additional forms may be obtained from any Internal Revenue Service office, and also at most banks and post offices.

HOW TO PAY

The balance of tax shown to be due on line 18, page 1, of your return on Form 1040 must be paid in full with your return if it amounts to $1.00 or more. Checks or money orders should be made payable to "Internal Revenue Service."

SIGNATURE AND VERIFICATION

You have not filed a valid return unless you sign it. Husband and wife both must sign a joint return.

Any person(s), firm, or corporation who prepares a taxpayer's return for compensation also must sign. If the return is prepared by a firm or corporation, the return should be signed in the name of the firm or corporation. This verification is not required if the return is prepared by a regular, full-time employee of the taxpayer such as a clerk, secretary, bookkeeper, etc.

SELECTION OF YOUR INDIVIDUAL INCOME TAX FORM

In order to make your reporting problem as simple as possible the Internal Revenue Service has developed three individual income tax forms. Since most taxpayers' income consists of salary or wages, dividends, and interest, two of the forms have been designed to cover only the items of income and deductions which apply to this group of taxpayers. These three forms are as follows:

Form 1040A

This is the easiest form if you are eligible to use it. One of the special features is that if your income is less than $5,000, you can choose to have the Internal Revenue Service figure your tax for you. You may use this form if:

1. Your gross income was less than $10,000, AND
2. It consisted of wages reported on withholding statements (Forms W-2) and not more than $200 total of other wages, interest, and dividends, AND
3. You wish to take the standard deduction (about 10% of your income) instead of itemizing deductions.

Form 1040W

This is a streamlined version of the regular Form 1040. It will be most helpful for wage and salary earners who can't use Form 1040A because they wish to itemize deductions, claim the "sick-pay" exclusion or estimated tax payments, or have $10,000 or over of income, etc. You can use this form if:

1. Your income consists of salary and wages regardless of amount, AND
2. Not more than $200 of dividends and interest, AND
3. No other items of income.

Form 1040

This is the standard form which anyone can use. Instructions for this form follow.

HOW TO FILL IN FORM 1040

Filling in the form involves FOUR STEPS:

STEP 1 Claiming Your Exemptions	List on page 1 exemptions for yourself (and for your wife, if you are filing a joint return or if she had no income) and for your children. List exemptions for dependents other than your children in the schedule at the top of page 2. DETAILED INSTRUCTIONS, PAGE 4 OF THIS PAMPHLET.
STEP 2 Reporting Your Income	Enter income from salaries and wages on page 1; also, income from farming and other business income, the details of which will be shown in separate Schedules F and C. All other income is to be reported on page 3. If you are an employee, see pages 6 and 7 of these instructions for information relating to the treatment of sick pay and special deductions for travel expenses, reimbursed expenses, etc. DETAILED INSTRUCTIONS, PAGES 5, 6, AND 7 OF THIS PAMPHLET.
STEP 3 Claiming Your Deductions	The law allows you to reduce your income by certain contributions to charity, expenditures for interest, taxes, extraordinary medical and dental expenses, child care, certain losses, and miscellaneous items, provided you itemize them on your return. Since there are restrictions on these deductions, refer to pages 8, 9, 10, and 11 of this pamphlet for details. The law also provides a "standard deduction" for persons who do not wish to list their deductions. The Tax Table on page 16 automatically allows a standard deduction for persons having income of less than $5,000. The standard deduction for those with income of $5,000 or more is 10 percent of the income on line 11, page 1 of the form, but not to exceed $1,000 ($500 for a married person filing a separate return). It will be wise to compare the total of your itemized deductions with the standard deduction to see which method is better. DETAILED INSTRUCTIONS, PAGES 8, 9, 10, AND 11 OF THIS PAMPHLET.
STEP 4 Figuring Your Tax	If you do not itemize deductions and if your income on line 11, page 1 of the form, is less than $5,000, you must use the Tax Table on page 16. If you itemize your deductions or if your income is $5,000 or more, you must use the tax computation schedule on page 2 of the form and the tax rate schedules on page 15 of this pamphlet. See page 7 if you are unmarried or legally separated, maintain a home, and have a dependent living with you. Also see page 8 if you are a widow or widower and have a dependent child. DETAILED INSTRUCTIONS, PAGE 15 OF THIS PAMPHLET.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PAGE 1 OF FORM 1040

MARRIED PERSONS—JOINT OR SEPARATE RETURNS

Advantages of a Joint Return.—In most cases it is advantageous for married couples to file joint returns. The law provides benefits in figuring the tax on a joint return which often results in a lower tax than would result from separate returns.

How To Prepare a Joint Return.—In a joint return you must include all income and deductions of both husband and wife. In the return heading, list both names including middle initials. (for example: "John F. and Mary L. Doe"). Both must sign the return.

A husband and wife may file a joint return even though one of them had no income. A joint return may not be filed if either husband or wife was a nonresident alien at any time during the taxable year. A nonresident alien should file on Form 1040B, 1040NB or 1040NB-a, whichever is appropriate.

When a joint return is filed, the couple assume full legal responsibility for the entire tax, and if one fails to pay, the other must pay it.

How To Prepare a Separate Return.—In a separate return each must report his or her separate income and deductions and fill in a separate form. When filing separate returns, the husband and wife should each claim the allowable deductions paid with his or her own funds. (In community property States, deductions resulting from payments made out of funds belonging jointly to husband and wife may be divided half and half.) If one itemizes and claims actual deductions, then both must do so.

Changes in Marital Status.—If married at the end of your taxable year, you are considered married for the entire year. If divorced or legally separated on or before the end of your year, you are considered single for the entire year. If your wife or husband died during the year, you are considered married for the entire year, and may file a joint return. You may also be entitled to the benefits of a joint return for the two years following the death of your husband or wife. See page 8.

HOW TO CLAIM YOUR EXEMPTIONS

You Are Allowed a Deduction of $600 for Each Exemption for Which You Qualify as Explained Below

LINE 1—EXEMPTIONS FOR YOU AND WIFE

For You.—You, as the taxpayer, are always entitled to at least one exemption. If, at the end of your taxable year, you were blind or were 65 or over, you get two exemptions. If you were both blind and 65 or over, you get three exemptions. Be sure to check the appropriate blocks.

For Your Wife.—An exemption is allowed for your wife (or husband) if you and she are filing a joint return. If you file a separate return, you may claim her exemptions only if she had no income and did not receive more than half her support from another taxpayer. You are not entitled to an exemption for your wife on your return if she files a separate return for any reason (for example, to obtain a refund of tax withheld where her income is less than $600). Otherwise, your wife's exemptions are like your own—one, if she was neither blind nor 65 or over; two, if she was either blind or 65 or over; three, if she was both blind and 65 or over.

In Case of Death.—If your wife or husband died during 1960, the number of her or his exemptions is determined as of the date of death.

Proof of Blindness.—If totally blind, a statement of such fact must be attached to the return. If partially blind, attach a statement from a qualified physician or a registered optometrist that (1) central visual acuity did not exceed 20/200 in the better eye with correcting lenses, or (2) that the widest diameter of the visual field subtends an angle no greater than 20°.

LINE 2—EXEMPTIONS FOR YOUR CHILDREN

You are entitled to one exemption for each child (including a stepchild, a legally adopted child, and a child who is a member of your household if placed with you by an authorized placement agency for legal adoption), if during the taxable year, that child:

1. Income.—Received less than $600 gross income (if the child was under 19 or was a student, this limitation does not apply), and

2. Support.—Received more than half of his or her support from you (or from husband or wife if a joint return is filed), (see definition below of support), and

3. Married Children.—Did not file a joint return with her husband (or his wife), and

4. Nationality.—Was either a citizen or resident of the United States or a resident of Canada, Mexico, the Republic of Panama or the Canal Zone; or was an alien child adopted by and living with a United States citizen abroad.

Definition of Support.—Support includes food, shelter, clothing, medical and dental care, education, and the like. Generally, the amount of an item of support will be the amount of expense incurred by the one furnishing such item. If the item of support furnished by an individual is in the form of property or lodging, it will be necessary to measure the amount of such item of support in terms of its fair market value. In computing the amount of support include amounts contributed by the dependent for his own support and also amounts ordinarily excludable from gross income.

In figuring whether you provide more than half of the support of a student, you may disregard amounts received by him as scholarships.

Definition of Student.—The law defines a student as an individual who, during each of 5 calendar months during the year, is (a) a full-time student at an educational institution or (b) pursuing a full-time course of institutional on-farm training under the supervision of an accredited agent of an educational institution or of a State, or a political subdivision of a State.

Returns for Children under 19 and Students.—If your dependent child is under 19 or is a student and has taxable income of $600 or over, he must file an income tax return, report the income, and claim his exemption. If you provide over half of your child's support and meet the other qualifications for claiming a dependent, you may also claim the exemption on your return.

LINE 3—EXEMPTIONS FOR PERSONS OTHER THAN YOUR CHILDREN

You are entitled to one exemption for each other dependent who meets all the following requirements for the year:

1. Received less than $600 gross income, and

2. Received more than half of his or her support from you (or from husband or wife if a joint return is filed), (see definition of support on this page), and

3. Did not file a joint return with her husband (or his wife), and

4. Was either a citizen or resident of the United States or a resident of Canada, Mexico, the Republic of Panama or the Canal Zone, and

5

5. EITHER (1) for your entire taxable year had your home as his principal place of abode and was a member of your household; OR (2) was related to you (or to husband or wife if a joint return is filed) in one of the following ways:

Mother	Stepbrother	Son-in-law
Father	Stepsister	Daughter-in-law
Grandmother	Stepmother	The following if
Grandfather	Stepfather	related by blood:
Brother	Mother-in-law	Uncle
Sister	Father-in-law	Aunt
Grandson	Brother-in-law	Nephew
Granddaughter	Sister-in-law	Niece

The information concerning these dependents must be shown in the schedule at the top of page 2 of Form 1040.

Birth or Death of Dependent.—You can claim a full $600 exemption for a dependent who was born or died during the year if the tests for claiming an exemption for such dependent are met for the part of the year during which he was alive.

Exemptions for Individuals Supported by More Than One Taxpayer.—If several persons contributed toward the support of an individual during the taxable year, but none contributed over half of the support, they may designate one of their number to claim the exemption if:

(a) They as a group have provided over half of the support of the individual; and

(b) Each of them, had he contributed over half of the support, would have been entitled to claim the individual as a dependent; and

(c) The person claiming the exemption for the individual contributed over 10 percent of the support; and

(d) Each other person in the group who contributed over 10 percent of the individual's support makes a declaration that he will not claim the individual as a dependent for the year. The declarations must be filed with the return of the person claiming the exemption. Form 2120, Multiple Support Declaration, is available at any Internal Revenue Service office.

HOW TO REPORT YOUR INCOME

The law says all kinds of income in whatever form received are subject to tax with specific exceptions. This means that all income which is not specifically exempt must be included in your return, even though it may be offset by expenses and other deductions.

The following examples will help you in finding out what kinds of income must be reported on your income tax return and what items are exempt from tax.

Examples of Income Which Must Be Reported

Wages, salaries, bonuses, commissions, fees, tips, and gratuities.
Dividends.
Interest on bank deposits, bonds, notes.
Interest on U.S. Savings bonds.
Profits from sales or exchanges of real estate, securities, or other property.

Industrial, civil service and other pensions, annuities, endowments.
Rents and royalties from property, patents, copyrights.
Profits from business or profession.
Your share of partnership profits; estate or trust income.

Employer supplemental unemployment benefits.
Alimony, separate maintenance or support payments received from (and deductible by) your husband (or wife). For details see Miscellaneous, page 10 of this pamphlet.

Examples of Income Which Should Not Be Reported

Disability retirement payments and other benefits paid by the Veterans Administration on account of military service to veterans and their families.

Dividends on veterans' insurance.
Workmen's compensation, insurance, damages, etc., for injury or sickness.
Interest on State and municipal bonds.
Life insurance proceeds upon death.

Federal and State Social Security benefits.
Railroad Retirement Act benefits.
Gifts, inheritances, bequests.

ROUNDING OFF TO WHOLE-DOLLAR AMOUNTS

If you wish, the money items on your return and accompanying schedules required by such return may be shown as whole-dollar amounts. This means that you eliminate any amount less than 50 cents, and increase any amount from 50 cents through 99 cents to the next higher dollar.

ATTACHMENTS TO THE RETURN

Attachments may be used in the preparation of your return and supplemental schedules, provided they contain all of the required information and that summarized totals of the items shown in the attachments are entered on the return and schedules. This does not apply to page 3 of the business and farm schedules (Schedules C and F) which the Service separates from the returns and transmits to the Social Security Administration for the recording of information in benefit accounts, or to any tax computation portion of a form or schedule.

LINE 5—WAGES, SALARIES, ETC.

Enter all wages, salaries, etc., on the lines provided. If more space is needed attach a separate statement or Form 2836. You must report the full amount of your wages, salaries, fees, commissions, tips, bonuses, and other payments for your personal services even though taxes and other amounts have been withheld by your employer. If you received wages, salaries, etc., in more than one State, report all the income in one income tax return for Federal purposes.

Payment in Merchandise, etc.—If you are paid in whole or in part in merchandise, services, stock, or other things of value, you must determine the fair market value of such items and include it in your wages.

Meals and Living Quarters.—Employees who, as a matter of choice, receive meals and lodging from their employers whether or not it is agreed to be part of their salaries must include in income the fair market value of the meals and lodging.

However, if, for the convenience of your employer, your meals are furnished at your place of employment or you are required to accept lodging at your place of employment as a condition of your employment, the value of the meals or lodging is not to be reported in your return.

Earned Income From Sources Without The United States.—For the purpose of determining whether an income tax return must be filed, gross income must be computed without regard to the exclusion provided for income earned from sources without the United States. If you received such income and believe it is excludable for income tax purposes, complete Form 2555 and attach it to your Form 1040.

Federal Income Tax Withheld.—Itemize the Federal income tax withheld, and report the total amount on line 17 (a). If you have lost a Withholding Statement, ask your employer for a copy. If you cannot furnish Withholding Statements for all taxes withheld from you, attach an explanation.

Excess Social Security (F. I. C. A.) Tax Credit.—If more than $144.00 of Social Security (F.I.C.A.) employee tax was withheld during 1960 because either you or your wife received wages from more than one employer, the excess should be claimed as a credit against income tax.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PAGE 1 OF FORM 1040—Continued

Enter any excess of Social Security (F.I.C.A.) tax withheld over $144.00 on line 5, column (b), and write "F.I.C.A. tax" in the "Where Employed" column. If a joint return, do not add the Social Security (F.I.C.A.) tax withheld from both husband and wife to figure the excess over $144.00; compute the credit separately.

Credit for Taxes Paid by Regulated Investment Companies.—If you are entitled to a credit for taxes paid by a regulated investment company on undistributed capital gains, enter the credit on line 5, column (b), and write "Credit from regulated investment company" in "Where Employed" column. To substantiate the credit claimed attach Copy B of Form 2439 to page 1 of Form 1040 in the same manner as Withholding Statements, Form W-2.

EMPLOYEE BUSINESS EXPENSES

Certain expenses incurred by an employee in connection with his employment, amounts charged to his employer, and any advances, allowances, or reimbursements he receives for such expenses must be taken into account in determining his income tax liability. Under certain circumstances, however, the expenses—and an equal amount of the employer's payments—need not be shown on the return. The following instructions will assist you in making your computation: Part I deals with deductible expenses and Part II with reporting requirements. (Note: You do not have to report in your return employer paid expenses incurred for incidentals, such as the purchase of office supplies for the employer or local transportation in connection with an errand.)

Part I. Employee Business Expenses Which Are Deductible

The law requires that certain employee business expenses be handled differently from other expenses. The rules are as follows:

A. Travel, transportation, and outside salesmen expenses:

You may deduct these expenses from the amounts you are required to report in item 5, page 1, to the extent they are not paid for by your employer. See Part II for reporting requirements. Travel, transportation, and outside salesmen expenses mean:

(1) Expenses for travel, including the cost of meals and lodging while temporarily away at least overnight from the city, town or other general area which constitutes your principal or regular business location are deductible as expenses for travel while "away from home." For this purpose, "home" means your principal or regular business location.

(2) Transportation expenses in connection with your duties as an employee are deductible even though you are not away from home as explained above. Transportation expenses include payments for actual travel or, if you use your own car, they include the business portion of the cost of operation, including fuel, repairs, and depreciation. The cost of commuting between your residence and your principal place of employment is a personal expense and is not deductible.

(3) If you are an "outside salesman" you may deduct all of the expenses which are ordinary and necessary in performing your duties. This means that in addition to the expenses described above you are entitled to deduct other business expenses such as business entertainment, stationery, and postage. The term "outside salesman" means one who is engaged in full time solicitation of business for his employer away from the employer's place of business. It does not include a person whose principal activities consist of service and delivery as, for example, a milk driver-salesman.

B. Other employee business expenses:

If you itemize deductions on page 2 of your return, you may deduct (under the heading "Other Deductions") ordinary and necessary business expenses, other than those described in "A" above to the extent that they are not paid for by your employer. Examples of such expenses are entertainment, professional and union dues, and the cost of tools, materials, etc.

Part II. Reporting Employee Business Expenses

Expenses you paid or incurred as an employee, or expenses which you charged to your employer, or expenses for which you received an advance, allowance, or reimbursement should be handled as follows:

A. Employees who are required to and do account to their employers:

If you were required to and did submit an expense voucher or other accounting to your employer in which you listed your business expenses by categories (i.e., transportation, meals and lodging while away from home overnight, entertainment expenses, and other business expenses), and if your answer is "Yes" to the questions on page 1 of Form 1040 relating to reimbursed expenses, you may report as follows:

(1) If employer's payments equaled business expenses.—You need not report these items on your return either itemized or in total amount.

(2) If employer's payments exceeded business expenses.—If you received from or charged to your employer (for example, through the use of credit cards) amounts in excess of your actual business expenses, or if your employer paid your personal expenses for you, the excess amounts and the amount of personal expenses must be included in income on line 5, page 1, of Form 1040, and must be identified as "Excess Reimbursements."

(3) If expenses exceeded employer's payments.—If you wish to claim a deduction for the amount of the excess expenses, you must, in addition to answering the questions relating to business expenses on page 1 of Form 1040, submit the following information with your return:

(a) The total of all amounts received from or charged to your employer for business expenses, including amounts charged directly or indirectly through credit cards or otherwise,

(b) The nature of your occupation,

(c) The number of days away from home on business, and

(d) The amount of your expenses which constitute ordinary and necessary business expenses broken down into such broad categories as transportation, meals and lodging while away from home overnight, entertainment expenses, and other business expenses.

In preparing your statement and claiming your expenses be sure to separate the expenses as explained in Part I which are deductible in computing the amount to be entered on line 5, page 1, of the return and those expenses which are deductible on page 2 of the return. Form 2106 is available in any Internal Revenue Service office for use in listing these expenses.

If you received per diem, in lieu of subsistence, of not more than $15 per day, or a mileage allowance of not more than 12½ cents per mile for travel within the continental limits of the United States, it will be considered that you were required to account to your employer, and you will be required to report only the excess of the allowance over your actual expenses.

B. Employees who do not account to their employers or who are not reimbursed for their expenses:

If you were not required to account to your employer (or if you were required to account and did not) or if your employer did not pay for your business expenses in connection with your duties as an employee, submit the information required in subparagraph (3) above in a statement attached to your return, answer the questions on page 1 of Form 1040 relating to reimbursed expenses and complete your return as follows:

(1) If employer's payments equaled business expenses.—No further entry with regard to the transactions need be made on the form.

(2) If employer's payments exceeded business expenses.—If you received from or charged to your employer (for example, through the use of credit cards) amounts in excess of your actual business expenses, or if your employer paid your personal expenses for you, the excess amounts and the amount of personal expenses must be included in income on line 5, page 1, of Form 1040, and identified as "Excess Reimbursements."

(3) If your business expenses exceeded employer's payments or the employer did not pay for your expenses.—You may claim deductions for those business expenses not paid by him as explained in subparagraph (3) of Part II.

LINE 6—EXCLUSION FOR "SICK PAY"

The law allows you to exclude from income amounts received under a wage continuation plan for the period during which you were absent from work on account of personal injuries or sickness. If both you and your employer contribute to the plan, any benefits attributable to your own contributions are excludable without limit, but there are certain limitations on the exclusion of the benefits attributable to your employer's contributions. In the case of such a contributory plan, it will be necessary for you to know to what extent any benefits are attributable to your contributions and to what extent they are attributable to your employer's contributions.

The employer-provided wage continuation payments can be excluded at a rate not to exceed $100 a week. In cases where these payments exceed a weekly rate of $100, the exclusion is figured by multiplying the amount received by 100 and dividing the result by the weekly rate of payment.

If your absence is due to sickness, the exclusion of employer-provided wage continuation payments does not apply to the amounts received for the first 7 calendar days of each absence from work. However, if you were (a) hospitalized on account of sickness for at least one day at any time during the absence from work, or (b) injured, the exclusion applies from the first day of absence.

If you received sick pay and it is included in your gross wages as shown on Form W-2, enter the gross wages on line 5, and enter on line 6 the amount of such wages to be excluded. In addition, attach Form 2440 or a statement showing your computation, and indicating the period or periods of absence, nature of sickness or injury, and whether hospitalized. Form 2440 may be obtained from any Internal Revenue Service office.

Amounts received during absence due to pregnancy are excludable as sick pay only if a statement by a physician is furnished that it was necessary the taxpayer remain at home because of substantial danger of miscarriage.

LINE 8—BUSINESS OR PROFESSION

General.—The law taxes the profits from a business or profession—not its total receipts. Therefore, separate Schedule C (Form 1040), which contains further instructions, is provided to help you figure your profit or loss from business.

If some of your expenses are part business and part personal, you can deduct the business portion but not the personal portion. For instance, a doctor who uses his car half for business can deduct only half the operating expenses.

Everyone engaged in a trade or business and making payments to another person of salaries, wages, commissions, interest, rent, etc., of $600 or more in the course of such trade or business during his taxable year must file information returns, Forms 1096 and 1099, to report such payments. If a portion of such salary or wage payments was reported on a Withholding Statement (Form W-2), only the remainder must be reported on Form 1099.

Accounting Methods and Records.—Your return must be on the "cash method" unless you keep books of account. "Cash method" means that all items of taxable income actually or constructively received during the year (whether in cash or in property or services) and only those amounts actually paid during the year for deductible expenses are shown. Income is "constructively" received when it is credited to your account or set aside for you and may be drawn upon by you at any time. Uncashed salary or dividend checks, bank interest credited to your account, matured bond coupons, and similar items which you can turn into cash immediately are "constructively received" even though you have not actually converted them into cash.

An "accrual method" means that you report income when earned, even if not received, and deduct expenses when incurred, even if not paid within the taxable period.

The method used in keeping your records may be the cash method, or an accrual method, so long as income is clearly reflected. However, in most cases you must secure consent of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Washington 25, D.C., before changing your accounting method.

LINE 9—FARMING

For the assistance of farmers, a separate Schedule F (Form 1040) is provided to report farm income for income and self-employment tax purposes. Additional instructions for farmers have been provided for use with Schedule F which may be obtained from any Internal Revenue Service office.

SPECIAL COMPUTATIONS

Unmarried Head of Household.—The law provides a special tax rate for any individual who qualifies as a "Head of Household." Only the following persons may qualify: (a) one who is unmarried (or legally separated) at the end of the taxable year, or (b) one who is married at the end of the year to an individual who was a nonresident alien at any time during the taxable year.

In addition, you must have furnished over half of the cost of maintaining as your home a household which during the entire year, except for temporary absence, was occupied as the principal place of abode and as a member of such household by (1) any related person (see those listed under requirement 5 at the top of page 5 of these instructions) for whom you are entitled to a deduction for an exemption, unless the deduction arises from a multiple support agreement, (2) your unmarried child, grandchild, or stepchild, even though such child is not a dependent, or (3) your married child, grandchild, or stepchild for whom you are entitled to a deduction for an exemption.

If you qualify under (a) or (b) above, you are entitled to the special tax rate if you pay more than half the cost of maintaining a household (not necessarily your home) which is the principal place of abode of your father or mother and who qualifies as your dependent.

The cost of maintaining a household includes such items as rent, property insurance, property taxes, mortgage interest, repairs, utilities (gas, telephone, etc.) and cost of food. Such expenses do not include the cost of clothing, education, medical treatment, vacations, life insurance, and transportation. Do not include the value of personal services performed by you or by the person qualifying you as Head of Household. The above expenditures are to be considered only for determining whether you are entitled to the use of the head of household tax rate. Do not claim them as deductions on your return unless they are otherwise allowable.

The rates for Head of Household are found in tax rate Schedule III on page 15 of these instructions.

Widows and Widowers.—Under certain conditions a taxpayer whose husband (or wife) has died during either of her two preceding taxable years may compute her tax by including only her income, exemptions, and deductions, but otherwise computing the tax as if a joint return had been filed. However, the exemption for the decedent may be claimed only for the year of death.

The conditions are that the taxpayer (a) must not have remarried, (b) must maintain as her home a household which is the principal place of abode of her child or stepchild for whom she is entitled to a deduction for an exemption, and (c) must have been entitled to file a joint return with her husband (or wife) for the year of death.

USE OF TAX TABLE ON PAGE 16 OF THESE INSTRUCTIONS

Purpose of Table.—The table is a short-cut method of finding your income tax if your adjusted gross income, line 11, page 1, of your return is less than $5,000. It is provided by law and saves you the trouble of itemizing deductions and computing your tax on page 2 of the return. The table allows for an exemption of $600 for each person claimed as an exemption, and charitable contributions, interest, taxes, etc., approximating 10 percent of your income.

How To Find Your Tax.—Read down the income columns until you find the line that fits the income you reported on line 11, page 1. Then read across that line until you come to the exemption column which is headed by a number corresponding to the number of exemptions you claimed on line 4 on page 1. The figure you find there is your tax.

LINE 13(a)—See page 14 of these instructions.

LINE 13(b)—See page 14 of these instructions.

LINE 15—SELF-EMPLOYMENT TAX

Every self-employed individual must file an annual return of his self-employment income on Form 1040 if he has at least $400 of net earnings from self-employment in his taxable year, even though he may not have sufficient income to require the filing of an income tax return or is already receiving social security benefits.

Generally, if you carry on a business as a sole proprietor, or if you render service as an independent contractor, or as a member of a partnership or similar organization, you will have self-employment income.

If your income is derived solely from salary or wages, or from dividends or interest on investments, capital gains, annuities, or pensions, you will have no self-employment income and no self-employment tax to pay.

The computation of self-employment tax is made on separate Schedule C or separate Schedule F, which with attached Schedule SE should be filed with your individual income tax return. The self-employment tax is a part of the total tax to be paid in one remittance with your income tax return. Enter on line 15 the amount of your self-employment tax shown on line 34, separate Schedule C, or line 18, separate Schedule F.

Any declaration of estimated income tax required to be filed may include estimated tax on self-employment income.

If a citizen living abroad is self-employed, he should consult the pertinent sections of I.R.S. Pub. 54.

LINE 17(a)—CREDIT FOR FEDERAL TAX WITHHELD

Enter the total amount of Federal income tax withheld, credit for excess F.I.C.A. tax, and credit for taxes paid by regulated investment companies as shown on line 5, column (b). Also see explanation for line 5 on pages 5 and 6 of these instructions relating to these credits.

LINE 17(b)—CREDIT FOR ESTIMATED TAX PAYMENTS

If you paid any estimated tax on a Declaration of Estimated Income Tax (Form 1040-ES) for 1960, report the total of such payments on line 17(b). If on your 1959 return you had an overpayment which you chose to apply as a credit on your 1960 tax, include the credit in this total.

See page 14 of these instructions for filing requirements for 1961 declaration of estimated income tax.

LINES 18 AND 19—BALANCE OF TAX DUE OR REFUND OF OVERPAYMENT

Show on line 18 any balance you owe, or on line 19 the amount of any overpayment due you, after taking credit for the amounts entered on line 17. In the case of a refund, be sure to use the correct post office address designation on your return so that the refund check will not be returned as undeliverable by the Post Office.

In order to facilitate the processing of collections and refunds, balances due of less than $1.00 need not be paid, and overpayments of less than $1.00 will be refunded only upon separate application to your District Director.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PAGE 2 OF FORM 1040

Itemized Deductions—If you do not use Tax Table or Standard Deduction.

CONTRIBUTIONS

If you itemize deductions, you can deduct gifts to religious, charitable, educational, scientific, or literary organizations, and organizations for the prevention of cruelty to children and animals, unless the organization is operated for personal profit, or conducts propaganda or otherwise attempts to influence legislation. You can deduct gifts to fraternal organizations if they are to be used for charitable, religious, etc., purposes. You can also deduct gifts to veterans' organizations, or to a governmental agency which will use the gifts for public purposes. A contribution may be made in money or property (not services). If in property, it is generally measured by the fair market value of the property at the time of contribution.

For the contribution to be deductible, the recipient of the contribution must have been organized or created in the United States or its possessions, or under our law. The law does not allow deductions for gifts to individuals, or to other types of organizations, however worthy.

In general, the deduction for contributions may not exceed 20 percent of your adjusted gross income (line 11, page 1). However, you may increase this limitation to 30 percent if the extra 10 percent consists of contributions made to churches, a convention or association of churches, tax-exempt educational institutions, tax-exempt hospitals, or certain medical research organizations.

If all your contributions were to these churches, schools, hospitals, or medical research organizations, you can deduct the contributions made but not more than 30 percent of your adjusted gross income. To compute the deduction for contributions you should first figure the contributions to these special institutions to the extent of 10 percent of your adjusted gross income and the amount in excess of 10 percent should be added to the other contributions to which the 20 percent limitation applies. Attach a schedule showing this computation.

While you can deduct gifts to the kind of organizations listed below, you cannot deduct dues or other payments to them, for which you receive personal benefits. For example, you can deduct gifts to a YMCA but not dues.

If you support a student in your home under a written agreement with a charitable or educational institution, you may be entitled to deduct as a contribution a part or all of your expenses. Consult the nearest Internal Revenue Service office for details.

Some examples of the treatment of contributions are:

You CAN Deduct Gifts To:

Churches, including assessments
Salvation Army
Red Cross, community chests
Nonprofit schools and hospitals
Veterans' organizations
Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, and other similar organizations
Nonprofit organizations primarily engaged in conducting research or education for the alleviation and cure of diseases such as tuberculosis, cancer, multiple sclerosis, muscular dystrophy, cerebral palsy, polio-myelitis, diabetes, and diseases of the heart, etc.

You CANNOT Deduct Gifts To:

Relatives, friends, other individuals
Political organizations or candidates Social clubs
Labor unions
Chambers of commerce
Propaganda organizations

INTEREST

If you itemize deductions, you can deduct interest you paid on your personal debts, such as bank loans or home mortgages. Interest paid on business debts should be reported in separate Schedules C or F, or Schedule G, page 3, of Form 1040. Do not deduct interest paid on money borrowed to buy tax-exempt securities or single-premium life insurance. Interest paid on behalf of another person is not deductible unless you were legally liable to pay it. In figuring the interest paid on a mortgage on your home or on an installment contract for goods for your personal use, eliminate such items as carrying charges and insurance, which are not deductible, and taxes which may be deductible but which should be itemized separately.

The law allows a deduction for interest paid for purchasing personal property (such as automobiles, radios, etc.) on the installment plan even where the interest charges are not separately stated from other carrying charges. If it is not stated separately, then the deduction is equal to 6 percent of the average unpaid monthly balance under the contract. Compute the average unpaid monthly balance by adding up the unpaid balance at the beginning of each month during the year and dividing by 12. The unpaid balance at the beginning of each month is determined by taking into account the amounts required to be paid under the contract whether or not such amounts are actually paid. The interest deduction may not exceed the portion of the total carrying charges attributable to the taxable year.

You CAN Deduct Interest On:

Your personal note to a bank or an individual
A mortgage on your home
A life insurance loan, if you pay the interest in cash
Delinquent taxes

You CANNOT Deduct Interest On:

Indebtedness of another person, when you are not legally liable for payment of the interest
A gambling debt or other nonenforceable obligation
A life insurance loan, if interest is added to the loan and you report on the cash basis

TAXES

If you itemize deductions, you can deduct most non-Federal taxes paid by you. You can deduct State or local retail sales taxes if under the laws of your State they are imposed directly upon the consumer, or if they are imposed on the retailer (or wholesaler in case of gasoline taxes) and the amount of the tax is separately stated by the retailer to the consumer. In general, you cannot deduct taxes assessed for pavements or other local improvements, including front-foot benefits, which tend to increase the value of your property. Consult your Internal Revenue Service office for circumstances under which local improvement taxes may be deducted. If you paid foreign income taxes, you may be entitled to a credit against your tax rather than a deduction from income. Form 1116 should be used to claim this credit.

Do not deduct on page 2 any non-business Federal taxes, or any taxes paid in connection with a business or profession which are deductible in Schedule G or separate Schedule C or F.

You CAN Deduct:

Personal property taxes
Real estate taxes

State income taxes
State or local retail sales taxes
Auto license fees
State capitation or poll taxes
State gasoline taxes

You CANNOT Deduct:

Any Federal excise taxes on your personal expenditures, such as taxes on theater admissions, furs, jewelry, cosmetics, transportation, telephone, etc.
Federal social security taxes
Hunting licenses, dog licenses
Auto inspection fees
Water taxes
Taxes paid by you for another person

MEDICAL AND DENTAL EXPENSES

If you itemize deductions, you can deduct, within the limits described below, the amount you paid during the year (not compensated by hospital, health or accident insurance) for medical or dental expenses for yourself, your wife, or any dependent who received over half of his support from you whether or not the dependent had $600 or more gross income. List name and amount paid to each person.

You can deduct amounts paid for the prevention, cure, correction, or treatment of a physical or mental defect or illness. If you pay someone to perform both nursing and domestic duties, you can deduct only that part of the cost which is for nursing.

You can deduct the cost of transportation primarily for and essential to medical care, but not for any other travel expense even if it benefits your health. Meals and lodging while you are away from home receiving medical treatment may not be treated as medical expense unless they are part of a hospital bill or are included in the cost of care in a similar institution.

FIGURING THE DEDUCTION

(A) General Rule:

(1) Medical and dental expenses.—You can deduct that portion of your medical and dental expenses which exceed 3 percent of line 11, page 1, of Form 1040 and which were paid for: (a) the taxpayer, wife, dependent parent(s), all of whom were under 65 years of age, and (b) all other dependents regardless of age.

(2) Medicine and drugs.—The total amount paid for medicine and drugs for the persons listed above must first be reduced by 1 percent of line 11, page 1, Form 1040. The excess is then added to medical and dental expenses and further reduced by 3 percent as explained above.

(B) Special Rule For Certain Persons 65 or over:

The 3 percent reduction, as explained above, does not apply to medical and dental expenses paid by a taxpayer or his wife in the following instances:

(a) For himself and his wife if EITHER is 65 years of age or over;

(b) For a dependent who is 65 or over and who is the mother or father of the taxpayer or his wife.

To assist you in making this computation, Form 2948 is available in any Internal Revenue Service office. It contains more detailed instructions, a computation schedule, and an example. It may be used to make your computation or to follow as a guide.

Any expense (other than medical) claimed as a deduction for the care of children and certain other dependents should not be included in your medical expense deduction.

Limitations.—The deduction on line 7 of the medical schedule may not exceed $2,500 multiplied by the number of exemptions other than the exemptions for age and blindness. In addition, there is a maximum limitation as follows:

(a) $5,000 if the taxpayer is single and not a head of household or a widow or widower entitled to the special tax rates;

(b) $5,000 if the taxpayer is married but files a separate return; or

(c) $10,000 if the taxpayer files a joint return, or is a head of household or a widow or widower entitled to the special tax rates.

(d) If either you or your wife are disabled and 65 or over, you may qualify for an increased maximum limitation. For this purpose disabled means that an individual is unable to engage in any substantial gainful activity by reason of any medically determinable physical or mental impairment which can be expected to result in death or to be of long-continued and indefinite duration. Consult the nearest Internal Revenue Service office for further information.

Subject to the Foregoing Limitations, You CAN Deduct as Medical Expenses Payments To or For:

Physicians, dentists, nurses, and hospitals
Drugs or medicines
Transportation necessary to get medical care
Eyeglasses, artificial teeth, medical or surgical appliances, braces, etc.
X-ray examinations or treatment
Premiums on hospital or medical insurance

You CANNOT Deduct Payments For:

Funeral expenses and cemetery plot
Illegal operations or drugs
Travel ordered or suggested by your doctor for rest or change
Premiums on life insurance

OTHER DEDUCTIONS

Expenses for the Care of Children and Certain Other Dependents.—There is allowed a deduction not to exceed a total of $600 for expenses paid by a woman or a widower (including men who are divorced or legally separated under a decree and who have not remarried) for the care of one or more dependents if such care is to enable the taxpayer to be gainfully employed or actively to seek gainful employment. For this purpose, the term "dependent" does not include the husband (wife) of the taxpayer and is limited to the following persons for whom the taxpayer is entitled to a deduction for an exemption:

(a) under 12 years of age; or

(b) physically or mentally incapable of caring for themselves.

Do not deduct any child care payments to a person for whom you claim an exemption.

In the case of a woman who is married, the deduction is allowed only (a) if she files a joint return with her husband; and (b) the deduction is reduced by the amount (if any) by which their combined adjusted gross income exceeds $4,500. If the husband is incapable of self-support because he is mentally or physically defective, these two limitations do not apply.

If the person who receives the payment performs duties not related to dependent care, only that part of the payment which is for the dependent's care may be deducted.

If you claim this deduction, attach a detailed statement showing the amounts expended and the person or persons to whom it was paid. If you wish, you may obtain Form 2441 from any Internal Revenue Service office for this purpose.

Casualty Losses and Thefts.—If you itemize deductions, you can deduct your net loss resulting from the destruction of your property in a fire, storm, automobile accident, shipwreck, or other losses caused by natural forces. Damage to your car by collision or accident can be deducted if due merely to faulty driving but cannot be deducted if due to your willful act or negligence. You can also deduct in the year of discovery losses due to theft, but not losses due to mislaying or losing articles.

The amount of loss to be deducted is measured by the fair market value of the property just before the casualty less its fair market value immediately after the casualty (but not more than the cost or other adjusted basis of the property), reduced by any insurance or compensation received. Explain in an attached statement.

If your 1960 casualty losses exceed your 1960 income, the excess must be treated in the same manner as a net operating loss described on page 13.

You CAN Deduct Losses On:

Property such as your home, clothing, or automobile destroyed or damaged by fire
Property, including cash, which is stolen from you

Loss or damage of property by flood, lightning, storm, explosion, or freezing

You CANNOT Deduct Losses On:

Personal injury to yourself or another person
Accidental loss by you of cash or other personal property

Property lost in storage or in transit
Damage by rust or gradual erosion
Animals or plants damaged or destroyed by disease

Expenses for Education.—Expenses for education may be deducted if the education was undertaken primarily for the purpose of:

(a) Maintaining or improving skills required in your employment or other trade or business, or

(b) Meeting the express requirements of your employer, or the requirements of applicable law or regulations, imposed as a condition to the retention of your salary, status, or employment.

Expenses incurred for the purpose of obtaining a new position, a substantial advancement in position, or for personal purposes are not deductible. The expenses incurred in preparing for a trade or business or a specialty are personal expenses and are not deductible.

The rules for reporting deductible education expenses are the same as those shown on page 6 for the reporting of "Employee Business Expenses." If you are required therein to attach a statement to your return explaining the nature of the expenses, also include a description of the relationship of the education to your employment or trade or business. If the education was required by your employer, a statement to that effect from him would be helpful.

Miscellaneous.—If you itemize deductions, you can deduct several other types of expenses under "Other Deductions."

If you work for wages or a salary, you can deduct your ordinary and necessary employee business expenses which have not been claimed on page 1.

You CAN Deduct Cost Of:

Safety equipment
Dues to union or professional societies
Entertaining customers
Tools and supplies
Fees to employment agencies

You CANNOT Deduct Cost Of:

Travel to and from work
Entertaining friends
Bribes and illegal payments

You can deduct all ordinary and necessary expenses connected with the production or collection of income, or for the management or protection of property held for the production of income.

If you are divorced or legally separated and are making periodic payments of alimony or separate maintenance under a court decree, you can deduct these amounts. Periodic payments made under either (a) a written separation agreement entered into after August 16, 1954, or (b) a decree for support entered after March 1, 1954, are also deductible. Such payments must be included in the wife's income. You cannot deduct any voluntary payments not under a court order or a written separation agreement, lump-sum settlements, or specific maintenance payments for support of minor children.

You may deduct gambling losses to the extent of gambling winnings only if you itemize deductions.

If you are a tenant-stockholder in a cooperative housing corporation, you can deduct your share of its payments for interest and real-estate taxes.

Computation of Tax.—For determination of tax, other than from the Tax Table, see page 15.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PAGE 3 OF FORM 1040

SCHEDULE A—DIVIDENDS

If you own stock, the payments you receive out of the company's earnings and profits are dividends and must be reported in your tax return. Usually dividends are paid in cash, but if paid in merchandise or other property, they are taxable at their fair market value.

In some cases payers, especially mutual funds and investment club partnerships distribute both an ordinary dividend and a capital gain at the same time; the check or notice will usually show them separately. You must report the dividend income portion in Schedule A, page 2, of Form 1040, and the capital gain portion in Schedule D (Form 1040). In completing Schedule D, merely show the name of the investment company or club in column (a) and the capital gain in column (h).

There are special rules applicable to stock dividends, partial liquidations, stock rights, and redemptions; call your Internal Revenue Service office for more complete information.

You may exclude from your income $50 of dividends received from qualifying domestic corporations.

If a joint return is filed and both husband and wife have dividend income, each one may exclude $50 of dividends received from qualifying corporations, but one may not use any portion of the $50 exclusion not used by the other. For example, if the husband had $200 in dividends, and the wife had $20, only $70 may be excluded on a joint return.

Use Schedule A to list your dividends including dividends you receive as a member of a partnership or as a beneficiary of an estate or trust, and to show the amount of the exclusion to which you are entitled. Dividends from mutual insurance companies which are a reduction of premiums are not to be included. So-called "dividends" from the following corporations are considered interest and should be reported as interest in Schedule B:

Mutual savings banks, cooperative banks, domestic building and loan associations, domestic savings and loan associations, and Federal savings and loan associations, on deposits or withdrawable accounts; and Federal credit unions.

Taxable dividends from the following nonqualifying corporations should be reported on line 5 of Schedule A:

(a) China Trade Act corporations.
(b) so-called exempt organizations (charitable, fraternal, etc.) and exempt farmers' cooperative organizations.

(c) regulated investment companies except to the extent designated by the company to be taken into account as a dividend for these purposes.

(d) corporations deriving 80 percent or more of their income from U.S. possessions and 50 percent or more of their income from the active conduct of a business therein.

(e) corporations which are not domestic corporations.

See page 14 for the credit for dividends received.

SCHEDULE B—INTEREST

You must include in your return any interest you receive or which is credited to your account (whether entered in your pass-book or not) and can be withdrawn by you. All interest on bonds, debentures, notes, savings accounts, or loans is taxable, except for certain governmental issues. Examples of interest which is fully exempt from tax are (a) interest from State and municipal bonds and securities and (b) interest on any $5,000 principal value of Treasury bonds issued before March 1, 1941.

If you own United States Savings or War bonds (Series A to F, inclusive), the gradual increase in value of each bond is considered interest, but you need not report it in your tax return until you cash the bond or until the year of final maturity whichever is earlier. However, if you report income on the cash method, you may at any time elect to report each year the annual increase in value, but if you do so you must report in the first year the entire increase to date and must continue to report the annual increase each year.

SCHEDULE D—SALE AND EXCHANGE OF PROPERTY

If you sell your house, car, furniture, securities, real estate, or any other kind of property, you must report any profit from the sale on your tax return. Generally, such profits are capital gains if the property was not held for sale to customers in the ordinary course of business. Separate Schedule D (Form 1040) is provided to compute capital gains and losses, and the results from other transactions in property.

Nonbusiness Bad Debts.—If you fail to collect a personal loan, you can list the bad debt as a "short-term capital loss" provided the loan was made with a true expectation of collecting. So-called loans-to-close relatives, which are really in the nature of gifts, must not be listed as deductible losses.

Sale of Homes, etc.—General Rule.—The law requires you to report any gains from the sale or exchange of your residence or other nonbusiness property, but does not allow you to claim any loss from the sale of a home or other asset which was not held for the purpose of producing income. Your gain from the sale of this kind of property is the difference between (1) the sales price and (2) your original cost plus the cost of permanent improvements. If depreciation was allowed or allowable during any period because you rented the house or used part of it for business purposes, the original cost must be reduced by the amount of depreciation which was allowed or allowable.

Special Rule.—Deferring Gain When Buying New Residence.—If you sold or exchanged your principal residence during 1960 at a gain and within one year after (or before) the sale you purchase another residence, and use it as your principal residence, none of the gain is taxable if the cost of the new residence equals or exceeds the adjusted sales price of the old residence. See, however, instructions below for information to be furnished. If, instead of purchasing another residence, you begin construction of a new residence (either one year before or within one year after the sale of your old residence) and use it as your principal residence not later than 18 months after the sale, none of the gain upon the sale is taxable if your costs attributable to construction during, plus the cost of land acquired within, the period beginning one year before the sale and ending 18 months after the sale equals or exceeds the adjusted sales price of the old residence. If the adjusted sales price of your old residence exceeds the cost of your new residence, the gain on the sale is taxable to the extent of such excess.

The adjusted sale price is the gross selling price less commissions, selling expenses, and the expenses for work performed on the residence in order to assist in its sale, such as redecorating expenses. Redecorating expenses must be for work performed during the 90-day period ending on the day on which a contract to sell is entered into, and must be paid no later than 30 days after date of sale.

If you sold or exchanged your residence at a gain, report the details of the sale in separate Schedule D. If you do not intend to replace, or if the period for replacement has passed, report the details in the year of sale. If you have acquired your new residence and used it as your principal residence, enter in column (h) only the amount of taxable gain, if any, and attach statement showing the purchase price, date of purchase, and date of occupancy.

If you have decided to replace, but have not done so, or if you are undecided, you should enter "None" in column (h). When you do replace within the required period, you must advise the District Director, giving full details. When you decide not to replace, or the period has passed, you must file an amended return, if you previously filed a return. Since any additional tax due will bear interest from the due date of the original return until paid, it is advisable to file the amended return for the year of sale as promptly as possible. Form 2119 is available at any Internal Revenue Service office for reporting the sale or exchange of your residence.

SCHEDULE E—PENSIONS AND ANNUITIES

Noncontributory Annuities.—The full amount of an annuity or a pension of a retired employee, where the employee did not contribute to the cost and was not taxable on his employer's contributions, must be included in his gross income. The total of the payments received during his taxable year should be shown on line 6, part I of Schedule E.

However, if there is a death-benefit exclusion, this rule does not apply; consult the Internal Revenue Service.

Other Annuities.—Amounts received from other annuities, pensions, endowments, or life insurance contracts for a reason other than the death of the insured, whether paid for a fixed number of years or for life, may have a portion of the payment excluded from gross income. The following types are included under this rule: (a) pensions where the employee has either contributed to its cost or has been taxed on his employer's contributions, and (b) amounts paid for a reason other than the death of the insured under an annuity, endowment, or life insurance contract.

Schedule E is provided for reporting the taxable portion of the annuity. If you are receiving payments on more than one pension or annuity, fill out a separate schedule for each one.

Special Rule for Certain Types of Employees' Annuities.—There is a special rule provided for amounts received as employees' annuities where part of the cost is contributed by the employer and the amount contributed by the employee will be returned within 3 years from the date of the first payment received under the contract. If both of these conditions are met, then all the payments received under the contract during the first 3 years are to be excluded from gross income until the employee recovers his cost (the amount contributed by him plus the contributions made by the employer on which the employee was previously taxable); thereafter all amounts received are fully taxable. This method of computing taxable income also applies to employee's beneficiary if employee died before receiving any annuity or pension payments.

Example: An employee receives $200 a month under an annuity. While he worked, he contributed $4,925 toward the cost of the annuity. His employer also made contributions toward the cost of the annuity for which the employee was not taxable. The retired employee would be paid $7,200 during his first 3 years, which amount exceeds his contribution of $4,925. Therefore, he excludes from gross income all the payments received from the annuity until he has received $4,925. All payments received thereafter are fully taxable.

General Rule for Annuities.—Generally, amounts received from annuities and pensions are included in income in an amount which is figured upon your life expectancy. This computation and your life expectancy multiple can be found in the regulations covering annuities and pensions. Once you have obtained the multiple it remains unchanged and it will not be necessary to recompute your taxable portion each year unless the payments you receive change in amount. In making this computation you can get help from the Internal Revenue Service as well as from some employers and insurance companies.

Amounts Received Under Life-Insurance Policies by Reason of Death.—Generally, a lump sum payable at the death of the insured under a life insurance policy is excludable from the gross income of the recipient. For more detailed information, call or visit your Internal Revenue Service office.

SCHEDULE G—RENTS AND ROYALTIES

If you are not engaged in selling real estate to customers, but receive rent from property owned or controlled by you, or royalties from copyrights, mineral leases, and similar rights, report the total amount received in Schedule G. If property other than cash was received as rent, its fair market value should be reported.

You are entitled to various deductions which are indicated in Schedule G. In the case of buildings you can deduct depreciation, as explained on page 13.

You can also deduct all ordinary and necessary expenditures on the property such as taxes, interest, repairs, insurance, agent's commissions, maintenance, and similar items. However, you cannot deduct capital investments or improvements but must add them to the basis of the property for the purpose of depreciation. For example, a landlord can deduct the cost of minor repairs but not the cost of major improvements such as a new roof or remodeling.

Expenses, depreciation, and depletion should be listed in total in the columns provided in Schedule G.

If You Rent Part of Your House—

If you rent out only part of your property, you can deduct only that portion of your expenses which relates to the rented portion. If you cannot determine these expenses exactly, you may figure them on a proportionate basis. For example, if you rent out half of your home, and live in the other half, you can deduct only half of the depreciation and other expenses.

Room rent and other space rentals should be reported as business income in separate Schedule C if services are rendered to the occupant; otherwise, report such income in Schedule G. If you are engaged in the business of selling real estate, you should report rentals received in separate Schedule C.

SCHEDULE H—OTHER INCOME OR LOSSES

Partnerships.—A partnership does not pay income tax unless it elects to be taxed on the same basis as a domestic corporation. It does, however, file an information return on Form 1065. Only one Form 1065 need be filed for each partnership. Each partner must report in his personal tax return his share of his partnership's taxable income and pay tax on it.

Include in Schedule H your share of the ordinary income (whether actually received by you or not) or the net loss of a partnership, joint venture, or the like, whose taxable year ends within or with the year covered by your return. Other items of income, deductions, etc., to be carried to the appropriate schedule of your individual return are shown in Schedule K of the partnership return. Your share of such income of the following classes should be entered on the appropriate lines on Form 1040:

Dividends.

Interest on tax-free covenant bonds.

Partially tax-exempt interest.

Gains from the sale or exchange of capital assets and other property.

If the partnership is engaged in a trade or business, the individual partner may be subject to the self-employment tax on his share of the self-employment income from the partnership. In such a case the partner's share of partnership self-employment net earnings (or loss) should be entered on line 28(b), page 3, separate Schedule C. Members of farm partnerships should use Schedule F to figure self-employment tax.

Estates and Trusts.—If you are a beneficiary of an estate or trust, report in your personal tax return your taxable portion of its income (whether actually received or not) which, for the taxable year, is either required to be distributed to you or has been paid or credited to your account. Your share of such income of the following classes should be entered on the appropriate lines on Form 1040:

Dividends.

Interest on tax-free covenant bonds.

Partially tax-exempt interest.

Gains from the sale or exchange of capital assets and other property.

All other taxable income from estates and trusts should be included in Schedule H of your return. Any depreciation (on estate or trust property) which is allocable to you may be subtracted from estate or trust income so that only the net income received will be included in your return. Information with respect to these items may be obtained from the fiduciary.

Small Business Corporations.—If you are a shareholder in a small business corporation which elects to have its current taxable income taxed to its stockholders, you should report your share of both the distributed and undistributed current taxable income as ordinary income in Schedule H except that portion which is reportable as a long-term capital gain in Schedule D. Neither type of income is eligible for the dividend received credit or the exclusion. Your share of any net operating loss should be treated in the same manner as if the loss were from a proprietorship.

Other Income.—If you cannot find any specific place on your return to list certain types of income, you should report such income in Schedule H. This is the proper place to report amounts received as alimony, support, prizes, and recoveries of bad debts and other items which reduced your tax in a prior year. A refund of State income tax should be entered here. The general rule is that a refund of State income taxes is income to the taxpayer if a deduction was taken in a prior year which resulted in a Federal tax benefit. Taxpayers reporting on the cash basis report the refund in the year received; taxpayers reporting on the accrual basis report when the claim is allowed or if no claim is filed when the Internal Revenue Service notifies him of the overpayment.

Net Operating Loss.—If, in 1960, your business or profession lost money instead of making a profit, or if you had a casualty loss, or a loss from the sale or other disposition of depreciable property (or real property) used in your trade or business, you can apply these losses against your other 1960 income. If these losses exceed your other income, the excess of this "net operating loss" must be carried back three years to offset your income for 1957 first, and then 1958 and 1959, and any remaining excess may be carried forward against your income for the years 1961 through 1965. If a carryback entitles you to a refund of prior year taxes, ask the District Director for Form 1045 to claim a quick refund. For further information, see section 172 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954.

If you had a loss in preceding years which may be carried over to 1960, you should report the net operating loss deduction on line 3, Schedule H, page 3 of Form 1040, and attach a statement showing this computation.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PAGE 4 OF FORM 1040

SCHEDULE I—DEPRECIATION

A reasonable allowance for the exhaustion, wear and tear, and obsolescence of property used in the trade or business or of property held by the taxpayer for the production of income shall be allowed as a depreciation deduction. The allowance does not apply to inventories or stock-in-trade nor to land apart from the improvements or physical development added to it.

The cost (or other basis) to be recovered should be charged off over the expected useful life of the property. Similar assets may be grouped together as one item for reporting purposes in the depreciation schedule.

Straight Line Method.—To compute, add the cost of improvements to the cost (or other basis) of the asset and deduct both the estimated salvage value and the total depreciation allowed or allowable in past years. Divide the result by the number of years of useful life remaining to the asset—the quotient is the depreciation deduction.

Declining Balance Method.—Under this method a uniform rate is applied each year to the remaining cost or other basis of property (without adjustment for salvage value) determined at the beginning of such year. For property acquired before January 1, 1954, or used property whenever acquired, the rate of depreciation under this method may not exceed one and one-half times the applicable straight-line rate.

Special Rules for New Assets Acquired After December 31, 1953.—The cost or other basis of an asset acquired after December 31, 1953, may be depreciated under methods proper before that date; or, it may be depreciated under any of the following methods provided (1) that the asset is tangible, (2) that it has an estimated useful life of three years or more, and (3) that the original use of the asset commenced with the taxpayer and commenced after Dec. 31, 1953.

If an asset is constructed, reconstructed, or erected by the taxpayer, so much of the basis of the asset as is attributable to construction, reconstruction, or erection after December 31, 1953, may be depreciated under methods proper before that date; or, it may be depreciated under any of the following methods provided that the asset meets qualifications (1) and (2) above.

(a) Declining balance method.—This method may be used with a rate not in excess of twice the applicable straight-line rate.

(b) Sum of the years-digit method.—The deduction for each year is computed by multiplying the cost or other basis of the asset (reduced by estimated salvage value) by the number of years of useful life remaining (including the year for which the deduction is computed) and dividing the product by the sum of all the digits corresponding to the years of the estimated useful life of the asset. In the case of a 5-year life this sum would be 15 (5+4+3+2+1). For the first year five-fifteenths of the cost reduced by estimated salvage value would be allowable, for the second year four-fifteenths, etc.

(c) Other methods.—A taxpayer may use any consistent method which does not result in accumulated allowances at the end of any year greater than the total of the accumulated allowances which would have resulted from the use of the declining balance method. This limitation applies only during the first two-thirds of the property's useful life.

Additional First Year Depreciation.—Taxpayers (not including trusts) may elect to write off in the year of acquisition 20 percent of the cost of tangible personal property having an aggregate value of not more than $10,000 ($20,000 on a joint return) acquired by purchase for use in a trade or business or to be held for the production of income. The election shall be made by attaching a statement to a timely filed return for the year the election applies. The statement shall contain: a description of the property, date acquired, useful life at date of acquisition, how and from whom acquired, total cost, and portion of cost selected for election. The additional depreciation is limited to property acquired after Dec. 31, 1957, with a remaining useful life of 6 years or more and which is not acquired from a person (other than a brother or sister) whose relationship to the taxpayer would result in the disallowance of losses. In regard to the remaining cost of the property, depreciation may be taken in the same manner as explained above beginning with the year of acquisition. The total additional first-year depreciation should be shown on the separate line provided in the depreciation schedule.

SCH. J—DIVIDENDS RECEIVED CREDIT

The law provides a credit against tax for dividends received from qualifying domestic corporations. This credit is equal to 4 percent of such dividends in excess of those which you may exclude from your gross income (see page 11 of this pamphlet). The credit may not exceed the lesser of:

- (a) the total income tax reduced by the foreign tax credit; or
- (b) 4 percent of the taxable income.

SCH. K—RETIREMENT INCOME CREDIT

You may qualify for this credit which is generally 20 percent of retirement income if you received earned income in excess of $600 in each of any 10 calendar years—not necessarily consecutive—before the beginning of your taxable year.

The term "earned income" means wages, salaries, or professional fees, and other amounts received as compensation for personal services actually rendered. It does not include any amount received as an annuity or pension. If you were engaged in a trade or business in which both personal services and capital were material income-producing factors, a reasonable allowance as compensation for the personal services rendered by you, not in excess of 30% of your share of the net profits of such business, shall be considered as earned income.

If you are a surviving widow (widower) and have not remarried, you may use the earned income of your deceased husband (wife), or you may combine such income with your earned income, for the purpose of determining whether you qualify. If a husband and wife both qualify and each has retirement income, each is entitled to the credit.

Retirement income for the purpose of the credit means—

(a) In the case of an individual who is not 65 years of age before the close of his taxable year, only that income received from pensions and annuities under a public retirement system (one established by the Federal Government, a State, county, city, etc.) which is included in gross income in his return.

(b) In the case of an individual who is 65 years of age or over before the close of his taxable year, income from pensions, annuities, interest, rents, and dividends, which are included in gross income in his return. (Gross income from rents for this purpose means gross receipts from rents without reduction for depreciation or any other expenses. Royalties are not considered rents for this computation.)

The amount of the retirement income used for the credit computation may not exceed $1,200 reduced by:

(a) any amount received and excluded from gross income as a pension or annuity under the Social Security Act and Railroad Retirement Acts and by other tax-exempt pensions or annuities. This reduction does not include (1) that part of a pension or annuity which is excluded from gross income because it represents, in effect, a return of capital or tax-free proceeds of a like nature, or (2) amounts excluded from gross income which are received as compensation for injuries or sickness or under accident or health plans; and

(b) in the case of any individual who is not 65 before the close of the taxable year, any amount of earned income in excess of $900 received in the taxable year; and in the case of an individual who is 65 or over but who is not 72 before the close of the taxable year, any amount of earned income in excess of $1,200 received in the taxable year (neither of the limitations in this paragraph applies to an individual who is 72 or over at the close of the year).

1961 DECLARATIONS OF ESTIMATED TAX

Who Must File.—For many taxpayers the withholding tax on wages is not sufficient to keep them paid up on their income tax. In general, the law requires every citizen or resident of the U.S. to file a Declaration of Estimated Income Tax, Form 1040-ES, and to make quarterly payments in advance of filing the annual income tax return if his total expected tax exceeds his withholding (if any) by $40 or more. The specific rules require that a declaration must be filed if:

(a) his gross income can reasonably be expected to consist of wages subject to withholding and of not more than $200 from other sources, and to exceed—

(1) $10,000 for a head of a household or a widow or widower entitled to the special tax rates;

(2) $5,000 for other single individuals;

(3) $5,000 for a married individual not entitled to file a joint declaration;

(4) $5,000 for a married individual entitled to file a joint declaration, and the combined income of both husband and wife can reasonably be expected to exceed $10,000; OR

(b) his gross income can reasonably be expected to include more than $200 from sources other than wages subject to withholding.

However, no declaration is required if the estimated tax (line 3 of Form 1040-ES) can reasonably be expected to be less than $40.

The Internal Revenue Service will mail Form 1040-ES, as far as is practicable, to each person who may need it. Others required to file should obtain the form from any Internal Revenue Service office in time to file by April 15, 1961. Farmers may postpone filing their 1961 declarations until January 15, 1962.

Additional Charge For Underpayment of Estimated Tax.—It is important that you estimate your tax carefully. It will avoid the difficulties of paying a large balance with your final return.

Furthermore, there is an additional charge imposed by law for underpayment of any installment of estimated tax. Details of this additional charge, and exceptions to it, are printed on Form 1040-ES and Form 2210. If you had an underpayment and believe one of the exceptions applies, attach a statement or Form 2210 to your return.

TAX RATE SCHEDULE FOR THE COMPUTATION ON PAGE 2 OF FORM 1040

If you do not use the Tax Table on page 16, then figure your tax on amount on line 5, page 2 of your return, by using appropriate tax rate schedule on this page.

LINE 8(a)—Credit For Foreign Income Taxes.—If you itemize your deductions and claim credit for foreign income taxes, submit with your return Form 1116 which contains a schedule for the computation of the credit with appropriate instructions.

LINE 8(b)—Credit For Partially Tax-Exempt Interest.—If you itemize your deductions, you may deduct on line 8(b), page 2, a credit for partially tax-exempt interest. This credit is 3 percent of the partially tax-exempt interest included in gross income. The credit may not exceed the lesser of: (a) 3 percent of taxable income (line 5, page 2, Form 1040) for taxable year or (b) the amount of tax less the credit for income taxes paid to foreign countries and possessions of U.S. and the credit for dividends received.

Schedule I. (A) SINGLE TAXPAYERS who do not qualify for rates in Schedules II and III, and (B) married persons filing separate returns.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR SOCIAL SECURITY SELF-EMPLOYMENT TAX

In general, every individual deriving self-employment income during the taxable year of $400, or more, from a trade or business carried on by him or from a partnership of which he is a member is subject to the self-employment tax. This computation is made on lines 24 through 34. This tax must be paid regardless of age and even though the individual is receiving social security benefits.

Ministers, Members of Religious Orders, and Christian Science Practitioners.—Duly ordained, commissioned, or licensed ministers of churches, members of religious orders (who have not taken a vow of poverty), and Christian Science practitioners are not automatically covered by the Social Security Act, but may elect to be covered by filing Form 2031. Copies are available in the office of any district director of Internal Revenue. The instructions on the form set out the provisions of the law which permit these forms under certain conditions to be filed to cover ministers, and others mentioned above. Do not delay filing your income tax return beyond the due date even though you have not obtained a Form 2031. In such case, complete page 3 of this schedule, file it with Form 1040, and then file Form 2031 as promptly as possible to make your election.

Ministers, and others mentioned above, who desire coverage shall, in addition to their other items of income for 1960 and subsequent years, include for the purpose of determining net earnings from self-employment (but not for income tax purposes) the rental value of a parsonage or allowance for the rental value of the parsonage, and the value of meals and lodging furnished them for the convenience of their employers.

U. S. Citizens Employed by Foreign Governments or International Organizations.—A U. S. citizen employed in the United States, Puerto Rico, or the Virgin Islands by a foreign government, an instrumentality wholly owned by a foreign government, or an international organization which is organized under the International Organizations Immunities Act, is subject to the social security self-employment tax for 1960 and subsequent years. These employees should report their income from such employment on line 28(e), page 3, compute their self-employment tax, and file this schedule with their Form 1040. On line 2 of Schedule SE, enter "Employee of foreign government, etc."

Farm income.—Farmers report farm income and net earnings from farm self-employment on separate Schedule F (Form 1040).

EXCLUSIONS

Income (or loss) from the following sources and deductions attributable thereto are not taken into account in figuring net earnings from self-employment. Use line 27 to exclude any such amounts reported on page 1 that should not be taken into account in figuring your self-employment income.

Doctors of medicine.—Income from the performance of service as a doctor of medicine or income from the performance of such service by a partnership.

Christian Science practitioners.—Income from the performance of service as a Christian Science practitioner, unless such Christian Science practitioner elects by filing Form 2031 to be covered by the Social Security Act, as explained above.

Religious services.—Income from the performance of service by a duly ordained, commissioned, or licensed minister of a church in the exercise of his ministry or by a member of a religious order in the exercise of duties required by such order, unless such minister or member of a religious order elects by filing Form 2031 to be covered by the Social Security Act, as explained above.

Employees and public officials.—Income (fees, salaries, etc.) from the performance of service as:

- (a) a public official, including a notary public;
- (b) an employee or employee representative under the railroad retirement system; or
- (c) an employee (except as indicated above).

Note.—The income of an employee over the age of 18 from the sale of newspapers or magazines to an ultimate consumer is subject to the self-employment tax if the income consists of retained profits from such sales.

Real estate rentals.—Rentals from real estate, except rentals received in the course of a trade or business as a real estate dealer. This includes cash and crop shares received from a tenant or sharefarmer. These amounts should be reported in Schedule G of Form 1040. However, rental income from a farm is not excluded if the rental arrangement provides for material participation by the landlord and he does participate materially in the production or in the management of the production of one or more farm products on his land. Such income represents farm earnings and should be reported on separate Schedule F (Form 1040).

Payments for the use or occupancy of rooms or other space where services are also rendered to the occupant, such as rooms in hotels, boarding houses, apartment houses furnishing hotel services, tourist camps, or homes, or space in parking lots, warehouses, or storage garages do not constitute rentals from real estate and are included in determining net earnings from self-employment on Schedule C.

Interest and dividends.—Dividends on shares of stock, and interest on bonds, debentures, notes, certificates, or other evidences of indebtedness, issued with interest coupons or in registered form by a corporation, or by a government or political subdivision thereof, unless received in the course of a trade or business as a dealer in stocks or securities. These amounts should be reported in Schedules A and B of Form 1040.

Property gains and losses.—Gain or loss: (a) from the sale or exchange of a capital asset; (b) to which sections 631 and 1231 are applicable; or (c) from the sale, exchange, involuntary conversion, or other disposition of property if such property is neither (1) stock in trade or other property of a kind which would properly be includible in inventory if on hand at the close of the taxable year, nor (2) property held primarily for sale to customers in the ordinary course of the trade or business. These amounts should be reported on separate Schedule D (Form 1040).

Net operating losses.—No deduction for net operating losses of other years shall be allowed in determining the net earnings from self-employment. Such deduction should be entered on line 3, Schedule H, page 3, of Form 1040.

No deductions for personal exemptions.—The deductions for personal exemptions are not allowable in determining net earnings from self-employment.

MORE THAN ONE TRADE OR BUSINESS

If an individual is engaged in more than one trade or business, his net earnings from self-employment are the combined net earnings from self-employment of all his trades or businesses. Thus, the loss sustained in one trade or business will operate to reduce the income derived from another trade or business. An individual shall fill in and file only one page 3 of this form, including Schedule SE, for any one year.

JOINT RETURNS

Where husband and wife file a joint income tax return, page 3 of Schedule C (Form 1040) should show the name of the one with self-employment income. Where husband and wife each have self-employment income, a separate Schedule C must be attached for each. In such cases the total of amounts shown on line 23 of each separate schedule should be entered on line 8, page 1, Form 1040, and the aggregate self-employment tax (line 34) should be entered on line 15, page 1, Form 1040.

COMMUNITY INCOME

For the purpose of computing net earnings from self-employment, if any of the income from a trade or business is community income, all the income from such trade or business is considered the income of the husband unless the wife exercises substantially all the management and control of the trade or business, in which case all of such income is considered the income of the wife. (Also see instructions on Partnerships below.)

If separate income tax returns are filed by husband and wife, a complete Schedule C should be attached to the return of the one with self-employment income. Community income included on such a schedule must be allocated between the two returns (on line 8, page 1, Form 1040) on the basis of the community property laws.

PARTNERSHIPS

In computing his combined net earnings from self-employment, a partner should include his entire share of such earnings from a partnership including any guaranteed payments. No part of that share may be allocated to the partner's wife (or husband) even though the income may, under State law, be community income. In the case of a husband and wife partnership, like other partnerships, the distributive share of each should be entered in Schedule H, page 3 of Form 1040, for income tax purposes. For self-employment tax purposes the distributive share of each partner should be entered on line 28(b), page 3, of this form (except that farm partnership earnings are to be reported on line 11(b), separate Schedule F (Form 1040) rather than on line 28(b) of this schedule).

Note.—If a member of a continuing partnership dies, a portion of the deceased partner's distributive share of the partnership's ordinary income (or loss) for the taxable year of the partnership in which he died must be included in the partner's net earnings from self-employment. In such cases consult your nearest Internal Revenue Service office as to how to report.

SCHEDULE SE (Form 1040)

Schedule SE, which is the lower portion of page 3 of Schedule C, provides the Social Security Administration with the information on self-employment income necessary for computing benefits.

To assure proper credit to your account, be sure to enter your name and social security account number on Schedule SE (Form 1040) exactly as they are shown on your social security card. If you do not have a social security account number, you must get one. These account numbers are obtainable from any Social Security district office. Your local post office will give you the address. Do not delay filing your return beyond the due date.

Regardless of whether joint or separate returns are filed by husband and wife, Schedule SE (Form 1040) must show only the name of the one with the self-employment income. However, if both had net earnings from self-employment, a separate Schedule SE must be filed by each.

3. Net gain (or loss) from lines 1 and 2. Enter here and on line 2, Schedule D Summary on page 3 of Form 1040 . . .							$ _____

INSTRUCTIONS—(References are to the Internal Revenue Code of 1954)*GAINS AND LOSSES FROM SALES OR EXCHANGES OF PROPERTY.—Report details in schedule on other side.

"Capital assets" defined.—The term "capital assets" means property held by the taxpayer (whether or not connected with his trade or business) but does NOT include—

- (a) stock in trade or other property of a kind properly includible in his inventory if on hand at the close of the taxable year;
- (b) property held by the taxpayer primarily for sale to customers in the ordinary course of his trade or business;
- (c) property used in the trade or business of a character which is subject to the allowance for depreciation provided in section 167;
- (d) real property used in the trade or business of the taxpayer;
- (e) certain government obligations issued on or after March 1, 1941, at a discount, payable without interest and maturing at a fixed date not exceeding one year from date of issue;
- (f) certain copyrights, literary, musical, or artistic compositions, etc.; or
- (g) accounts and notes receivable acquired in the ordinary course of trade or business for services rendered or from the sale of property referred to in (a) or (b) above.

Special rules apply to dealers in securities for determining capital gain or ordinary loss on the sale or exchange of securities. Certain real property subdivided for sale may be treated as capital assets. Sections 1236 and 1237.

If the total distributions to which an employee is entitled under an employees' pension, bonus, or profit-sharing trust plan, which is exempt from tax under section 501(a), are paid to the employee in one taxable year, on account of the employee's separation from the service, the aggregate amount of such distribution, to the extent it exceeds the amounts contributed by the employee, shall be treated as a long-term capital gain.

Gain on sale of depreciable property between husband and wife or between a shareholder and a "controlled corporation" shall be treated as ordinary gain.

Gains and losses from transactions described in section 1231 (see below) shall be treated as gains and losses from the sale or exchange of capital assets held for more than 6 months if the total of these gains exceeds the total of these losses. If the total of these gains does not exceed the total of these losses, such gains and losses shall not be treated as gains and losses from the sale or exchange of capital assets. Thus, in the event of a net gain, all these transactions should be entered in the "long-term capital gains and losses" portion of Schedule D. In the event of a net loss, all these transactions should be entered in the "property other than capital assets" portion of Schedule D, or in other applicable schedules on Form 1040.

Section 1231 deals with gains and losses arising from—

- (a) sale, exchange, or involuntary conversion, of land (including in certain cases unharvested crops sold with the land) and depreciable property if they are used in the trade or business and held for more than 6 months,
- (b) sale, exchange, or involuntary conversion of livestock held for draft, breeding, or dairy purposes (but not including poultry) and held for 1 year or more,
- (c) the cutting of timber or the disposal of timber or coal to which section 631 applies, and
- (d) the involuntary conversion of capital assets held more than 6 months.

See sections 1231 and 631 for specific conditions applicable.

Description of property listed.—State following facts: (a) For real estate (including owner-occupied residences), location and description of land and improvements; (b) for bonds or other evidences of indebtedness, name of issuing corporation, particular issue, denomination, and amount; and (c) for stocks, name of corporation, class of stock, number of shares, and capital changes affecting basis (including nontaxable distributions).

Basis.—In determining gain or loss in case of property acquired after February 28, 1913, use cost, except as specially provided. The basis of property acquired by gift after December 31, 1920, is the cost or other basis to the donor in the event of gain, but, in the event of loss, it is the lower of either such donor's basis or the fair market value on date of gift. If a gift tax was paid with respect to property received by gift, see section 1015(d). Generally, the basis of property acquired by inheritance is the fair market value at time of acquisition which usually is the date of death. For special cases involving property acquired from a decedent, see section 1014. In the case of sales and exchanges of automobiles and other property not used in your trade or business, or not used for the production of income, the basis for determining gain is the original cost plus the cost of permanent improvements thereto. No losses are recognized for income tax purposes on the sale and exchange of such properties. In determining GAIN in case of property acquired before March 1, 1913, use the cost or the fair market value as of March 1, 1913, as adjusted, whichever is greater, but in determining LOSS use cost as adjusted.

Sale of a personal residence.—See Form 1040 instructions for special rules applicable to sale or exchange of your residence.

Losses on securities becoming worthless.—If (a) shares of stock become worthless during the year or (b) corporate securities with interest coupons or in registered form become worthless during the year, and are capital assets, the loss therefrom shall be considered as from the sale or exchange of capital assets as of the last day of such taxable year.

Losses on small business stock.—In the case of an individual a loss on section 1244 stock which would (but for that section) be treated as a loss from the sale or exchange of a capital asset shall, to the extent provided in that section, be treated as a loss from the sale or exchange of an asset which is not a capital asset.

Nonbusiness debts.—If a debt, such as a personal loan, becomes totally worthless within the taxable year, the loss resulting therefrom shall be considered a loss from the sale or exchange, during the taxable year, of a capital asset held for not more than 6 months. Enter such loss in column (h) and describe in column (a) in the schedule of short-term capital gains and losses on other side. This does not apply to: (a) a debt evidenced by a corporate security with interest coupons or in registered form and (b) a debt acquired in your trade or business.

Classification of capital gains and losses.—The phrase "short-term" applies to gains and losses from the sale or exchange of capital assets held for 6 months or less; the phrase "long-term" applies to capital assets held for more than 6 months.

Treatment of capital gains and losses.—Short-term capital gains and losses will be merged to obtain the net short-term capital gain or loss. Long-term capital gains and losses (taken into account at 100 percent) will be merged to obtain the net long-term capital gain or loss. If the net short-term capital gain exceeds the net long-term capital loss, 100 percent of such excess shall be included in income. If the net long-term capital gain exceeds the net short-term capital loss, 50 percent of the amount of such excess is allowable as a deduction from gross income. This deduction is given effect on line 9 of Schedule D.

Limitation on allowable capital losses.—If the sum of all the capital losses exceeds the sum of all the capital gains (all such gains and losses to be taken into account at 100 percent), then such capital losses shall be allowed as a deduction only to the extent of (1) current year capital gains plus (2) the smaller of either the taxable income of the current year (or adjusted gross income if tax table is used) or $1,000. For this purpose taxable income is computed without regard to capital gains or losses or the deduction for exemptions. The excess of such allowable losses over the sum of items (1) and (2) above is called "capital loss carryover." It may be carried forward and treated as a short-term capital loss in succeeding years. However, the capital loss carryover of each year should be kept separate, since the law limits the use of such carryover to the five succeeding years. In offsetting your capital gain and income of 1960 by prior year loss carryovers, use any capital loss carryover from 1955 before using any such carryover from 1956 or subsequent years. Any 1955 carryover which cannot be used in 1960 must be excluded in determining total loss carryover to 1961 and subsequent years.

Collapsible corporations.—Gain from the sale or exchange of stock in a collapsible corporation is not a capital gain. Section 341.

"Wash sales" losses.—Losses from the sale or other disposition of stocks or securities are not deductible (unless sustained in connection with the taxpayer's trade or business) if, within 30 days before or after the date of sale or other disposition, the taxpayer has acquired (by purchase or by an exchange upon which the entire amount of gain or loss was recognized by law), or has entered into a contract or option to acquire, substantially identical stock or securities.

Losses in transactions between certain persons.—No deduction is allowable for losses from sales or exchanges of property directly or indirectly between (a) members of a family, (b) a corporation and an individual (or a fiduciary) owning more than 50 percent of the corporation's stock (liquidations excepted), (c) a grantor and fiduciary of any trust, (d) a fiduciary and a beneficiary of the same trust, (e) a fiduciary and a fiduciary or beneficiary of another trust created by the same grantor, or (f) an individual and a tax-exempt organization controlled by the individual or his family. Partners and partnerships see Section 707(b).

Long-term capital gains from regulated investment companies.—Include in income as a long-term capital gain the amount you are notified on Form 2439 which constitutes your share of the undistributed capital gains of a regulated investment company. You are entitled to a credit of 25 percent of this amount which should be claimed on line 5, column (b), page 1, Form 1040. Enter such amount in column (b) and write "Credit from regulated investment company" in the "Where Employed" column. The remaining 75 percent should be added to the basis of your stock. Also include in income as a long-term capital gain any capital gain dividend which is paid to you by such company.

SOCIAL SECURITY SELF-EMPLOYMENT TAX INSTRUCTIONS

Individuals deriving income from farming operations are subject to self-employment tax. See page 3 for computation of earnings from self-employment and self-employment tax. This tax must be paid regardless of age and even though the individual is receiving social security benefits.

Optional method for computing net earnings from self-employment from farming.—If a farmer's gross income for the year from farming is not more than $1,800, he may report two-thirds of his gross farm income instead of his actual net earnings from farming. If his gross income from farm self-employment is more than $1,800 and his actual net earnings from farming are less than $1,200, he may report $1,200. For the purpose of the optional method, a partner should compute his share of gross profits from a farm partnership in accordance with the partnership agreement. In the case of guaranteed payments, his share of the partnership's gross profits is his guaranteed payments plus his share of the gross profits after such gross profits are reduced by all guaranteed payments of the partnership.

SHARE-FARMING ARRANGEMENTS

An individual who undertakes to produce a crop or livestock on land belonging to another for a proportionate share of the crop or livestock produced, or the proceeds thereof, is considered to be an independent contractor and a self-employed person rather than an employee. His net earnings should be reported on Schedule F (Form 1040) for income tax and self-employment tax purposes.

Farm rentals.—Rental income from a farm counts for social security purposes if the arrangement provides for material participation by the landlord and he does participate materially in the production of the crop or livestock or in the management of the production of one or more farm products. Such rental income is farm earnings and should be reported on page 1 or 2 of this schedule. "Material participation" means the taking of an important part in the actual production or in the making of management decisions. If there was no material participation, report such rental income in Schedule G of Form 1040.

MORE THAN ONE TRADE OR BUSINESS

If an individual is engaged in farming and in one or more other trades or businesses, his net earnings from self-employment are the combined net earnings from self-employment of all his trades or businesses. Thus, the loss sustained in one trade or business will operate to reduce the income derived from another trade or business. In such cases, use both Schedule F (Form 1040) and Schedule C (Form 1040) to determine net profit from the farm and nonfarm activities, respectively. Make the combined computation of self-employment tax on page 3 of Schedule C. Fill in only lines 11 through 13 on page 3 of Schedule F.

JOINT RETURNS

Where husband and wife file a joint income tax return, page 3 of this schedule should show the name of the one with self-employment income from farming. Where husband and wife each had self-employment income, a separate Schedule F, or a separate Schedule C, whichever is appropriate, must be filed by each. However, the total of the amounts shown as profit (or loss) from all businesses should, for income tax purposes, be reported on line 8 or 9, on page 1, Form 1040, and the combined self-employment tax should be entered on line 15, page 1, of Form 1040.

COMMUNITY INCOME

For the purpose of computing net earnings from self-employment (but not for income tax), if any of the income from a trade or business is community income, all the income from such trade or business is considered the income of the husband unless the wife exercises substantially all the management and control of the trade or business, in which case all of such income is considered the income of the wife. (Also see instructions on partnerships below.)

If separate income tax returns are filed by husband and wife, a complete Schedule F or Schedule C, whichever is appropriate, must be attached to the return of the one with self-employment income. Community income included on such a schedule must, however, be allocated, for income tax purposes between the two returns (on line 8 or line 9, page 1, Form 1040) on the basis of the community property laws.

PARTNERSHIPS

In computing his combined net earnings from self-employment, a partner should include his entire share of such earnings from a partnership including any guaranteed payments. No part of that share may be allocated to the partner's wife (or husband) even though the income may, under State law, be community income. However, in the case of a husband and wife farm partnership, like other partnerships, the distributive share of each must be entered as partnership income in Schedule H, page 3, of Form 1040 for income tax purposes, and on line 11 (b), page 3, of separate Schedules F for self-employment tax purposes. (Use separate Schedule C, page 3, to report nonfarm income for social security purposes.)

Note: If a member of a continuing partnership dies, a portion of the deceased partner's distributive share of the partnership's ordinary income (or loss) for the taxable year of the partnership in which he died must be included in the partner's net earnings from self-employment. In such cases consult your nearest Internal Revenue Service office as to how to report.

EXCLUSIONS FROM SELF-EMPLOYMENT

In determining the amount of net farm earnings from self-employment the following items should be excluded:

Real estate rentals.—Rentals from real estate, including any personal property that is leased with the land. This includes rentals received in cash or crop shares. These amounts should be reported in Schedule G of Form 1040. See, however, "Farm Rentals" under "Share-Farming Arrangements" on this page.

Property gains and losses.—Gains and losses from the sale, exchange, or involuntary conversion of capital assets and other property which is not held primarily for sale to customers. These amounts should be reported on separate Schedule D.

Net operating losses.—In determining the net earnings from self-employment, no deduction for net operating losses of other years shall be allowed. Such deduction should be entered on line 3, Schedule H, page 3, of Form 1040.

Other items.—Any other item of income or expense which was included in line 12 and which does not enter into the computation of net farm earnings from self-employment should be eliminated from line 12 and an explanation attached.

SCHEDULE SE (FORM 1040)

Schedule SE, which is the lower portion of page 3 of Schedule F, provides the Social Security Administration with the information on self-employment income necessary for computing benefits under the social security program.

To assure proper credit to your account, enter your name and social security account number on Schedule SE (Form 1040) exactly as they are shown on your social security card. If you do not have a social security account number, you must get one. These account numbers are obtainable from any Social Security district office. Your local post office will give you the address. Do not delay filing your return beyond its due date.

Regardless of whether joint or separate returns are filed by husband and wife, Schedule SE (Form 1040) must show only the name of the one with self-employment income. However, if both had net earnings from self-employment, a separate Schedule SE must be filed by each.

ADDITIONAL INCOME TAX INSTRUCTIONS FOR FARMERS

FOR PREPARING SCHEDULE OF FARM INCOME AND EXPENSES

For the assistance of farmers, a separate Schedule F (Form 1040) is provided and should be used by all farmers for income tax and self employment tax purposes.

EMPLOYER'S IDENTIFICATION NUMBER

If you have employees subject to Social Security tax (F.I.C.A.), enter your employer's identification number as it appears on Form 943, Employer's Annual Tax Return for Agricultural Employees.

METHOD OF ACCOUNTING

Farmers may compute their income either on the cash receipts and disbursements method or on an accrual method, but whichever method is adopted in filing their first return must be followed until the consent of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Washington 25, D. C., is received to change the method.

CASH RECEIPTS AND DISBURSEMENTS METHOD

A farmer using the cash receipts and disbursements method shall include in his gross income for the taxable year (1) the amount of cash and the value of merchandise or other property received from the sale of livestock and produce which were raised during the taxable year or prior years, (2) the profits received from the sale of any livestock and other items which were purchased, and (3) gross income received from all other sources. The income from farming should be reported on page 1 of Schedule F. The farm expenses will be the actual amounts paid out during the taxable year plus deductions such as depreciation, depletion, amortization, etc.

ACCUAL METHOD

For a farmer using an accrual method, the gross profits are obtained as indicated in summary of income and deductions on page 2 of Schedule F. The farm expenses will be the actual expenses incurred during the year, whether paid or not.

Farmers who compute income on an accrual method and use inventories may value their inventories according to the "farm-price method," in addition to other methods, which provides for the valuation of inventories at market price less direct cost of disposition. Farmers raising livestock may value their inventories of animals according to either the "farm-price method" or the "unit-livestock-price method."

If the use of the "farm-price method" of valuing inventories for any taxable year involves a change in method of valuing inventories from that employed in prior years, permission for the change shall first be secured from the Commissioner.

INCOME

All the farm income from whatever source must be reported in Schedule F or in Schedule D (Form 1040). Anything of value received instead of cash, such as groceries received in exchange for produce, must be treated as income to the extent of its market value.

The value of farm produce consumed by the farmer and his family need not be reported as income, but expenses incurred in raising such produce must not be claimed as deductions.

Recoveries from insurance on growing crops should be included in gross income.

A farmer, who rents all or a part of his crop land on a crop share basis, under a bona fide rental agreement, and who receives crop shares as rent, shall report the crop shares as rental income only for the year in which they are reduced to money, or the equivalent of money.

If a farmer pledges commodities as security for a loan from the Commodity Credit Corporation, income is not considered received until the pledged commodities are sold. However, a farmer may elect to include in gross income amounts received during the year as loans from the Corporation. If he does so elect he should file with his return a statement showing details of such loans, and he must continue to report similar loans as income until he receives permission from the Commissioner to change his method of accounting.

Report gains and losses from sales or exchanges of capital assets and other property in separate Schedule D (Form 1040).

The term "farm" embraces the farm in the ordinarily accepted sense, and includes stock, dairy, poultry, fruit, truck farms, and all land used for farming operations. A person cultivating or operating a farm for recreation or pleasure, the result of which is a continual loss from year to year, is not regarded as a farmer.

Patronage dividends received from cooperatives in cash or its equivalent are to be included in farm income to the extent of their fair market value in the year received. Documents such as negotiable instruments and capital stock are considered to have a fair market value at the time of receipt unless it is clearly established to the contrary. However, any revolving fund certificate, retain certificate, letter of advice, or similar document, which is payable only in the discretion of the cooperative association, or which is otherwise subject to conditions beyond your control, are to be included in income only in the year cash or other property becomes subject to payment on demand, regardless of your accounting method. Dividends received on purchases of capital assets or depreciable property used in farming are not included in income, but the purchase price of such items must be reduced accordingly. Dividends you receive on nonbusiness purchases are not included in income.

The following situations may be treated as involuntary conversions provided you purchase similar property within the replacement period (generally within one year after the year in which you first realize gain): (1) livestock which are destroyed by or on account of disease, or sold or exchanged because of disease, (2) land lying within an irrigation project which is sold or disposed of to meet acreage limitations under Federal reclamation laws, and (3) livestock (other than poultry) held for draft, breeding, or dairy purposes which are sold or exchanged solely on account of drought in excess of the number which would be sold under usual business practices.

EXPENSES AND OTHER DEDUCTIONS

In general, a farmer who operates a farm for profit is entitled to deduct from gross income as necessary expenses all amounts actually expended in carrying on the business of farming, except those which represent capital investment. The following is a list of such expenses (taken from the classification appearing on page 1 of Schedule F, though any other equally descriptive classification may be used):

Labor hired.—Amounts paid for regular farm labor, piecework, contract labor, and other forms of hired labor. Do not deduct the value of your own labor or that of your wife or family. Only that part of the board which is purchased for hired labor should be deducted. The value of products furnished by the farm and used in the board of hired labor is not deductible. However, the cost of rations purchased for laborers or sharecroppers is deductible. Do not deduct amounts paid to persons engaged in household work except to the extent that the services of such persons are used in boarding and otherwise caring for farm laborers. Amounts paid for services of such employees engaged in caring for the farmer's own household are not deductible.

Feed purchased.—Cost of grain, hay, silage, mill feeds, concentrates, and roughages purchased, and amounts paid for grinding, mixing, and processing of feed.

Machine hire.—Amounts paid for threshing, combining, silo filling, baling, ginning, and other machine hire.

Supplies purchased.—Cost of twine, spray materials, poisons, disinfectants, cans, barrels, baskets, egg cases, bags, and other similar farm supplies purchased.

Repairs and maintenance.—Amounts expended for repairs and maintenance of farm buildings (except your dwelling), of fences, drains, and other farm improvements, and for repairs and maintenance of farm machinery and equipment; cost of ordinary tools of short life or small cost such as shovels, rakes, etc. Amounts paid for replacements of, or additions to, farm machinery, farm buildings, or other farm equipment of a permanent nature are not deductible.

Fertilizers and lime.—Cost of commercial fertilizers, lime, and manure purchased during the year, the benefit of which is of short duration. The cost of fertilizer, lime or other materials used to enrich, neutralize, or condition land used in farming may be either capitalized or deducted as an expense.

Taxes.—State and local taxes. Do not deduct Federal income taxes; estate, inheritance, legacy, succession, and gift taxes; nor taxes assessed for any improvement or betterment tending to increase the value of the property assessed. Do not deduct taxes on your dwelling or household property and other taxes not related to the business of farming.

Insurance.—Cost of all insurance on farm buildings (except your dwelling) and on improvements, equipment, crops, and livestock.

Farm interest.—Interest paid on farm mortgages and other obligations incurred in carrying on farming.

Utilities.—The farm share of the expenditures for water rent, electricity, telephone, etc. Do not deduct personal expenses.

Rent of farm, part of farm, or pasturage.—Rent paid in cash. A tenant farmer paying rent to his landlord in the form of crops raised on the farm (under a crop share agreement) may not deduct as rent the value of the crop given to the landlord, but the tenant may deduct all amounts paid by him in raising the crop.

Conservation expenses.—You may deduct certain expenditures made by you (including any amount paid on any assessment levied by a soil or water conservation or drainage district to defray expenditures made by such district) for soil or water conservation and the prevention of erosion if such expenditures are in respect of land used by you in your business of farming.

The term "expenditures" for this purpose means expenditures (a) for the treatment or moving of earth, including but not limited to, leveling, grading, terracing, and contour furrowing; (b) the construction, control, and protection of diversion channels, drainage ditches, earthen dams, watercourses, outlets, and ponds; (c) the eradication of brush; and (d) the planting of windbreaks. You may not deduct expenditures for the construction, installation, or improvement of facilities which are subject to the allowance for depreciation or expenses which are deductible elsewhere.

The allowable deduction for any one year may not exceed 25 percent of your gross income from farming, but any excess may be carried over to succeeding years with the same limit applying to those years. The phrase "gross income from farming" means the gross income of the farmer from the business of producing crops, fruits or other agricultural products or raising livestock; it includes such income from a farm other than the one on which expenditures for soil and water conservation, or for the prevention of erosion, were made.

To claim a deduction for these expenditures you must (a) elect to do so for the first taxable year for which such expenditures are paid by claiming such deduction on your return; or, (b) secure consent from the District Director of Internal Revenue for any other year. Once you have elected to do so, you must continue to treat such expenditures as deductions in all future taxable years unless you secure consent from the District Director to change.

Other farm expenses.—Fees paid for advertising farm products; expenditures for stamps, stationery, account books, and other office supplies purchased for farm use; expenditures for travel in connection with the farm and similar expenditures. Amounts expended for purchase of automobiles, farm machinery, farm buildings, or other farm equipment of a permanent nature are not deductible.

Depreciation.—Allowance for depreciation of buildings, improvements, machinery, or other farm equipment of a permanent nature. Similar assets may be grouped together as one item for reporting purposes in the depreciation schedule on Schedule F. In computing depreciation do not include the value of farm land or land on which farm buildings are located. Do not deduct repairs or depreciation on the dwelling you occupy or on your personal or household equipment. Do not claim depreciation on livestock or any other property included in your inventory. Depreciation, however, may be claimed on livestock acquired for work, breeding, or dairy purposes which are not included in your inventory of livestock purchased or raised for sale. See the instructions for Form 1040 for methods of computing depreciation.

Losses.—Losses of farm buildings, machinery, and other farm property not included in your inventory, to the extent not compensated by insurance or otherwise. Losses of property included in your inventory are taken care of by the reduced amount of the inventory at the close of the year. The total loss of a prospective crop by frost, storm, flood, or fire, is not deductible. When using the cash method, the value of animals raised by you and lost by death is not deductible, while in the case of animals purchased and lost by death, the cost less depreciation allowed or allowable is deductible to the extent the loss is not compensated by insurance or otherwise. Do not deduct personal losses.

Amortization.—If you elected the deduction with respect to the amortization of the adjusted basis of a grain storage facility, enter the allowable portion here.

Net operating loss deduction.—Any net operating loss deduction should be entered on line 3, Schedule H, page 3 of Form 1040. See instructions for Form 1040 and submit computation.

------------------	--	-------------

This statement is for the use of taxpayers who are entitled to a larger deduction for medical and dental expenses paid for the persons listed in Group I below. The medical and dental expenses of persons in Group I do not have to be reduced by 3 percent of the taxpayer's adjusted gross income as is required for persons listed in Group II below. All persons are subject to the reduction of their medicine and drug expenses by 1 percent of the taxpayer's adjusted gross income.

GROUP II

- a. Taxpayer and wife if BOTH are under 65 years of age,
 b. Dependent parents, who are under 65 years of age, of taxpayer or wife,
 c. All other dependents regardless of age.

If all the persons for whom medical and dental expenses were paid are in Group II, use the simpler medical and dental expense schedule on page 2 of Form 1040 or Form 1040W.

Note: Do not deduct any expenses for which you received reimbursement from insurance or other sources.

MAXIMUM LIMITATIONS

- A. The amount on line 14 may not exceed $2,500 multiplied by the number of persons for whom exemptions were claimed on the individual income tax return. (If taxpayer or wife is 65 or over and in addition is disabled, see "B.") The deduction is further limited by the following amounts:
 (1) $5,000 if the taxpayer is single and not a head of household or a widow or widower entitled to the special tax rates,
 (2) $5,000 if the taxpayer is married but files a separate return,
 (3) $10,000 if the taxpayer files a joint return, is a head of household, or is a widow or widower entitled to the special tax rates.
 B. If the taxpayer (or his wife) is 65 years of age or over and in addition is disabled, he may qualify for an increased maximum limitation. For this purpose disabled means that any individual is unable to engage in any substantial gainful activity by reason of any medically determinable physical or mental impairment which can be expected to result in death or to be of long-continued and indefinite duration. For further information, consult your nearest Internal Revenue Service office.

A taxpayer with $10,000 adjusted gross income files a joint return with his wife. The taxpayer is 67 years old, his wife is 64, and they have a dependent 20 years old. Taxpayer and his wife paid $180 for medicine and drugs and $1,000 for medical and dental expenses for themselves. In addition, they paid for the dependent $140 for medicine and drugs, and $500 for medical and dental expenses. The taxpayer and his wife would both be in Group I.
